West Powers Meet Under New Tensions

Alcorn Expected to Quit as GOP Chief Today

Word May Come at Press Talk

In National Post Since Early 1957

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meade Alcorn was reported today to be planning to resign as Republican national chairman—a position he has held since January 1957.

Speculation mounted in Washington today that the resignation announcement would come within hours.

Alcorn reported that he had called a press conference for 2 p. m. EST.

Alcorn declined comment. He told a reporter early today he wasn't prepared to say anything at the moment. He indicated he might have something to say later.

Reported by Paper

Alcorn was contacted after the Hartford (Conn) Courant reported that he will resign shortly, possibly today.

This was backed up by Eisenhower administration informants who said announcement of the resignation is expected today.

Both the administration sources and the Courant said Alcorn wants to return to his Hartford law practice. The Courant indicated that Alcorn, now 51, might try for the Connecticut governorship in 1962.

There was no immediate indication who might be named his successor as Republican chairman. The Courant said Alcorn will stay on the job a short time to give the GOP National Committee a chance to pick a replacement.

Morton Mentioned

(The New York Times today quoted highly placed political sources as saying Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky) would most likely be Alcorn's successor. A Washington dispatch to the Times described Morton as a "middleground Republican who claims neither the liberal nor conservative label."

(Morton, 51, is in the third year of his six-year Senate term.

(He served three terms in the House as a representative from Louisville, his home city, from 1947 to 1953. He retired from the House in that year and became assistant secretary of state for congressional relations. In that capacity he functioned as the State Department's contact man.

This choice could be made next week when the committee meets here to select a site and date for the 1960 Republican national con-

School Advisory Committee Will Meet April 13

The Committee of Fifty, which is serving in an advisory capacity during the transition period while the Kingston school system and the rural area is being brought under consolidation, has postponed its next meeting to Monday, April 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the high school library.

The postponement was decided upon in order to allow time for the preparation of a brochure which will outline the financial plan.

April 15 Is Last to File Nominations

The deadline was announced today for filing nominating petitions to run for member of the Greater Kingston Area Consolidated school board, and the schedule given for unregistered people to get on the voter rolls if they are qualified.

Dr. Earl F. Soper, clerk of the school board, and superintendent of schools, said that those seeking office on the board must have nominating petitions filed no later than Wednesday, April 15. They must be in his hands by that date at the office of the school board in Kingston High School, he stressed.

Persons who registered for the general election last fall are automatically registered for the school election, which is Tuesday, May 5, provided they reside in the same election district.

Registration Schedule

Those who must register will do so at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, Broadway, April 6 through 11, and April 13 through 18, from 10 a. m. through 7 p. m.

People must register if they:

Moved from one election district to another.

Are new voters moving into a district.

Have become 21 years of age and are voting for the first time.

Qualifications

Voting qualifications include citizenship in the United States; 21 years of age or older, residence in the state for one year, in the county for four months, and in the election district for 30 days.

Nominating petitions, Dr. Soper said, must be signed by a minimum of 100 eligible voters. The petitions must include the

Warnings Made on Air Lanes

Ministers Working On Package Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) —Western foreign ministers were reported today to be framing a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis and the larger issues of German reunification.

The foreign policy makers of Britain, France and West Germany gathered at the State Department with Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Must Make Decisions

They were under pressure to make some basic German policy decisions by night, since they are scheduled to report to a meeting of the foreign ministers of NATO Thursday on their plans.

The talks, begun Tuesday, were resumed against a background of increasing tensions over Soviet control of traffic in Allied air corridors between West Germany and West Berlin.

The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin declared "complications" would result if the United States persisted in flying transport aircraft into Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

Says Flights to Continnue

The U. S. Air Force in Germany said transports, which operate most efficiently between 20,000 and 30,000 feet, will be used on the Berlin flights as necessary in spite of Soviet warnings.

Three Soviet jet fighters buzzed a transport which first went to Berlin last week at 25,000 feet. The Soviets followed that incident with their demand for U. S. acceptance of the 10,000-foot ceiling. The State Department rejected this demand.

Triggered Last Crisis

U. S. officials said that the principle involved was unhindered Western use of air, sea and land routes into Berlin. The Soviets have challenged the right of the Western powers even to continue their Berlin occupation roles and have threatened to turn over control of the access routes across East German territory to the German Communist regime.

It was this threat, raising the specter of a Red blockade of West Berlin, which triggered the Berlin crisis last winter and impelled the United States, Britain, France and West Germany to begin reviewing their over-all German policies in preparation for negotiation with the Soviet Union.

The Western foreign ministers intend to probe the Soviet willingness, if any, to negotiate at Geneva next month on German unification and European arms control measures.

Must Make Effort

They were reported to be pessimistic about the possibility of a favorable Soviet response but were described as agreeing that the effort must be made.

The initial session Tuesday, held by Herter with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville produced a new warning to the Soviets against taking a summit conference this summer for granted.

Reassert Stand

In a public statement, the Western Big Three reasserted the stand taken in notes to the Soviet government last week that the May meeting of foreign ministers must make some progress toward solving the Berlin and German problem in order to justify a meeting at the summit.

They welcomed Monday's note from the Soviet Union agreeing to ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—New life for a state's "Little Hoover" commission, which is charged with trimming the fat from government, was approved today by Gov. Rockefeller.

The bill signed by the Republican governor extends to March 31, 1960, the existence of the temporary State Commission on Coordination of State Activities.

Other Measures Signed

The measure was among a dozen signed, bringing to 213 the number he has approved so far in his first year as governor. He has vetoed 19.

Other major bills signed:

1. Give the state's 90,000 employes pay raises totaling 20 million dollars.

2. Set Sept. 15 as the primary election date.

3. Extend for three years the life of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, whose powers have been expanded to make a sweeping study of tax laws affecting hard-pressed railroads.

Calls Work Vital

In a memorandum, Rockefeller said it was "vital" that the Little Hoover commission's work be continued.

He said his budget director and secretary already were exploring ways to economize in government. The governor declared:

"I look forward to the extension of this commission's sphere of activity and to its making increasing contributions toward the efficient and economic performance of governmental activities."

The new chairman of the group is Austin W. Erwin, chairman of the powerful Senate Finance Committee. He took over today when Sen. William S. Hults Jr. (R-Nassau County) resigned to become motor vehicle commissioner.

Mexico Ousts Two Red Attaches for Strike Meddling

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has ordered two Soviet Embassy attaches expelled from the country, charging they had a hand in the Easter weekend rail strike. Two other Red attaches were reported marked to go.

An official source said the second secretary of the Soviet Embassy, Nicolai M. Remisov, and a military-naval attache, Nicolai V. Asenov, were given until Friday to get out of the country. They reportedly plan to take a Canadian airliner Friday morning to Toronto.

Others Face Expulsion

Two members of a diplomatic mission from an unidentified Soviet satellite also were reported to have been declared no longer welcome in Mexico. There was speculation they were Czechoslovak or Polish.

The strike fizzled Monday after the government had rounded up an estimated 3,000 leftist union leaders and followers. The government said it had evidence the strike was a Communist plot.

Workers flocked to their jobs Tuesday and officials said 140 trains were back on the run. Many of the workers said they had been coerced into striking by threats of torture or reprisals against their families.

Leftist Tells of Role

The two Soviets were said to have had regular contact with Demetrio Vallejo, leftist rail union leader who organized the last three national rail strikes. He was

Barbara Can Be Quizzed, Heart Specialist Rules

NEW YORK (AP) — A New York City heart specialist has found that Joseph Barbara Sr., host to the Apalachin underworld convention, can undergo questioning, although he has a heart ailment, it was reported today.

The New York Herald Tribune said it learned Tuesday night that this is the basis of a report to the State Investigation Commission by Dr. Charles K. Frieberg, a Mount Sinai Hospital specialist.

Would Limit Time

Questioning should be "limited in duration" and "carried out with gentleness," it was recommended.

The 53-year-old Barbara has been contending for months that it might prove fatal if he left his Upstate home to be questioned here today about the gangland conclave Nov. 14, 1957.

The Investigation Commission has been seeking to get him on the witness stand.

Inquiry Is Told Of Game of Tag By Tanker, Liner

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard investigating board heard Tuesday the story of a 20-minute nightmare at sea — a deadly game of tag between a tanker and a cruise liner, both trapped in a dense fog.

The hearing resumed today.

The 20 minutes began with the appearance of a tiny blip of light on the radarscopes on the tanker Valchem's bridge. It ended with the sudden grinding crash of the liner Santa Rosa into the Valchem. Four of the tanker's crewmen died in the collision.

Kept Changing Course

"He was getting too close. I was getting a little nervous — I didn't know what to do. I kept changing my course, trying to get away from him."

That description came from the second mate of the tanker, Clyde Lupton, who was in charge on the

Khrushchev, Blasted About Farm Reforms, Turns Table on Critics

Editor's note — This summer's summit meeting, if it comes off, will seat President Eisenhower across the table from a man experienced in the arts of political infighting and Communist intrigue. This article, third of a series of five, tells more of the kind of antagonist Khrushchev can be.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Stubby Nikita Khrushchev planted himself in the middle of a field, surrounded by awed farmers and Communist functionaries. A brisk breeze fanned to motion the tiny wisps of white hair on his nearly naked round dome.

"Here," exclaimed Khrushchev, pointing dramatically to the corn "is the complete sausage on the handle! Here is beefsteak; here is bacon! How will these plants look in a month and a half, when harvest comes? The cobs will be a half yard long. Now you understand why I am so enthusiastic about corn!"

Khrushchev owed much of his career to his interest in agriculture and his knowledge of the farmer. Boss at last, he could talk confidently about his big ideas. It hadn't been so in the past. His first big idea about farming, in fact, almost cost him his head.

Communism Goal

As a member of Stalin's inner Politburo and boss of the Ukraine, Khrushchev conceived the idea of revolutionizing collective farming as a step toward the goal of Communism.

In general charge of Soviet agriculture was Andrei Andreyevich Andreyev, old "triple A," weak, inefficient, always tottering on the edge of disaster. For the aggressive Khrushchev, Andreyev was a pushover.

Farms, said Khrushchev, would be transformed into agricultural factories. Farmers would become farm industry workers. Small collectives would be merged on a vast scale into huge farm factories.

He reckoned without the peasants. There was grumbling, resentment, even resistance. He pushed through thousands of amalgamations, but suddenly Stalin slapped him down and halted the program.

Krushchev Erred

The coal miner from Kursk listened in brooding silence at the 20th Communist Congress in October, 1952. Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's dour right hand, referred to Khrushchev as one of "our individual executive workers" who erred in trying to force farm consolidation.

But Khrushchev had bounce. He emerged from the 1952 congress a member of the expanded Presidium which supplanted the Politburo, and a member of an expanded party secretariat. He lost no time in nailing down his influence.

Malenkov would live to rue his

Inquiry Is Told Of Game of Tag By Tanker, Liner

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard investigating board heard Tuesday the story of a 20-minute nightmare at sea — a deadly game of tag between a tanker and a cruise liner, both trapped in a dense fog.

The hearing resumed today.

The 20 minutes began with the appearance of a tiny blip of light on the radarscopes on the tanker Valchem's bridge. It ended with the sudden grinding crash of the liner Santa Rosa into the Valchem. Four of the tanker's crewmen died in the collision.

Kept Changing Course

"He was getting too close. I was getting a little nervous — I didn't know what to do. I kept changing my course, trying to get away from him."

That description came from the second mate of the tanker, Clyde Lupton, who was in charge on the

Ministers Working On Package Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) —Western foreign ministers were reported today to be framing a package deal to propose to the Soviet Union for settlement of the Berlin crisis and the larger issues of German reunification.

The foreign policy makers of Britain, France and West Germany gathered at the State Department with Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Must Make Decisions

They were under pressure to make some basic German policy decisions by night, since they are scheduled to report to a meeting of the foreign ministers of NATO Thursday on their plans.

The talks, begun Tuesday, were resumed against a background of increasing tensions over Soviet control of traffic in Allied air corridors between West Germany and West Berlin.

The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin declared "complications" would result if the United States persisted in flying transport aircraft into Berlin at altitudes above 10,000 feet.

Says Flights to Continue

The U. S. Air Force in Germany said transports, which operate most efficiently between 20,000 and 30,000 feet, will be used on the Berlin flights as necessary in spite of Soviet warnings.

Three Soviet jet fighters buzzed a transport which first went to Berlin last week at 25,000 feet. The Soviets followed that incident with their demand for U. S. acceptance of the 10,000-foot ceiling. The State Department rejected this demand.

Triggered Last Crisis

U. S. officials said that the principle involved was unhindered Western use of air, sea and land routes into Berlin. The Soviets have challenged the right of the Western powers even to continue their Berlin occupation roles and have threatened to turn over control of the access routes across East German territory to the German Communist regime.

It was this threat, raising the specter of a Red blockade of West Berlin, which triggered the Berlin crisis last winter and impelled the United States, Britain, France and West Germany to begin reviewing their over-all German policies in preparation for negotiation with the Soviet Union.

The Western foreign ministers intend to probe the Soviet willingness, if any, to negotiate at Geneva next month on German unification and European arms control measures.

Must Make Effort

They were reported to be pessimistic about the possibility of a favorable Soviet response but were described as agreeing that the effort must be made.

The initial session Tuesday, held by Herter with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville produced a new warning to the Soviets against taking a summit conference this summer for granted.

Reassert Stand

In a public statement, the Western Big Three reasserted the stand taken in notes to the Soviet government last week that the May meeting of foreign ministers must make some progress toward solving the Berlin and German problem in order to justify a meeting at the summit.

They welcomed Monday's note from the Soviet Union agreeing to

Khrushchev, Blasted About Farm Reforms, Turns Table on Critics

Editor's note — This summer's summit meeting, if it comes off, will seat President Eisenhower across the table from a man experienced in the arts of political infighting and Communist intrigue. This article, third of a series of five, tells more of the kind of antagonist Khrushchev can be.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Stubby Nikita Khrushchev planted himself in the middle of a field, surrounded by awed farmers and Communist functionaries. A brisk breeze fanned to motion the tiny wisps of white hair on his nearly naked round dome.

"Here," exclaimed Khrushchev, pointing dramatically to the corn "is the complete sausage on the handle! Here is beefsteak; here is bacon! How will these plants look in a month and a half, when harvest comes? The cobs will be a half yard long. Now you understand why I am so enthusiastic about corn!"

Khrushchev owed much of his career to his interest in agriculture and his knowledge of the farmer. Boss at last, he could talk confidently about his big ideas. It hadn't been so in the past. His first big idea about farming, in fact, almost cost him his head.

Communism Goal

As a member of Stalin's inner Politburo and boss of the Ukraine, Khrushchev conceived the idea of revolutionizing collective farming as a step toward the goal of Communism.

In general charge of Soviet agriculture was Andrei Andreyevich Andreyev, old "triple A," weak, inefficient, always tottering on the edge of disaster. For the aggressive Khrushchev, Andreyev was a pushover.

Farms, said Khrushchev, would be transformed into agricultural factories. Farmers would become farm industry workers. Small collectives would be merged on a vast scale into huge farm factories.

He reckoned without the peasants. There was grumbling, resentment, even resistance. He pushed through thousands of amalgamations, but suddenly Stalin slapped him down and halted the program.

Krushchev Erred

The coal miner from Kursk listened in brooding silence at the 20th Communist Congress in October, 1952. Georgi Malenkov, Stalin's dour right hand, referred to Khrushchev as one of "our individual executive workers" who erred in trying to force farm consolidation.

But Khrushchev had bounce. He emerged from the 1952 congress a member of the expanded Presidium which supplanted the Politburo, and a member of an expanded party secretariat. He lost no time in nailing down his influence.

Malenkov would live to rue his

EUROPEAN COMMON MARKET—With accent on streamlined production methods and lowered tariffs, nations of the European Common Market (in black) seek to increase their trade volume and standards of living for their workers.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Air freight salesmen have used both the recession and the recovery as talking points—stressing cost cutting and quicker profits. Now they are looking hopefully to the day when their biggest sales disadvantage may be licked or reduced — the higher cost of shipping by air.

Better designed cargo planes and faster jets may cut their costs and bring them into more equal competition with their rivals on the surface of the land or sea.

Ground operations have been streamlined. Lower rates are already in prospect.

Cargo volume has been increasing. During the recession salesmen preached that carefully planned use of air freight could effect real savings in distribution.

John Higgins, vice president of sales for the Flying Tiger Line, says that while surface transportation is still cheaper pound for pound from point to point, corporations often could make final savings through air freight because it cut costs of warehousing and insurance, speeded up capital turnover, trimmed loss and damage, and extended sales areas.

When recession turned into recovery, the urge to get to reviving markets first with the most was another sales talking point.

Seaboard & Western Airlines reports its total ton miles up 21 per cent for 1958. Its first two months of 1959 were up 30 per cent.

Flying Tiger's operating revenues in the first two months of 1959 were 45 per cent higher.

American Airlines and United Airlines freight ton miles (hauling one ton one mile) were both up about 15 per cent last year.

Great things are expected from the oncoming jets, because they can make more trips a month, and because they can get a shipper's goods to market faster.

Many of the new jet cargo planes will have swinging tail sections so that they can be loaded quickly from the rear.

Effective May 1 there will be cuts of 10 to 50 per cent in 7 classifications of air freight.

And the International Air Transport Assn. and the Air Transport Assn. of America are out with a new condensed cargo reservations message system that makes connecting flight reservations faster, simpler and more accurate.

Now—Run Your Car Without Spark Plugs—

Get Up to 31 More Horse-Power, 8 More Miles per Gallon

USING ONLY REGULAR GAS!

Yes—this revolutionary new FIRE INJECTION SYSTEM—installed in 15 minutes, must deliver maximum power and economy WITHOUT CHANGING TO HIGH-PRICED PREMIUM GAS—must give you up to 31 more H.P., 8 more miles per gallon for the life of your car! See unprecedented GUARANTEE below!

Your car runs because gasoline is fed into the cylinders where a spark causes it to fire. Now here is the important thing. The larger this spark is the more powerful the explosion. The more powerful the explosion, the more power you get from a given amount of gas. Poor explosion means wasted gas, loss of power, poor getaway, bad starting, a sluggish car. Good explosion means more miles per gallon, more horsepower, blazing pickup; an exciting car to drive!

WHAT CONTROLS ENGINE EFFICIENCY?

Spark plugs control the efficiency of that explosion. And not only do they give a small, weak spark to begin with; but they get worse every mile you drive. And that you can see for yourself. Put a new set of spark plugs in your car and then look at them at 100 miles, at a thousand miles, at 5,000 miles. Every time you look you will see more filth and carbon and more of the precious electrode burning away.

STOP USING SPARK PLUGS!

Now, read very carefully what I'm going to suggest . . . that you stop using spark plugs! That's right—get rid of them—forever. But . . . if you get rid of your spark plugs, what will ignite the gasoline and make the motor run?

Well, please remember that today you can have gas injection and get far more mileage, efficiency and power from less gas—and in a few years gas injection will have completely replaced the carburetor. In the same way, now is the time for Americans to replace old-fashioned, temporary, inefficient spark plugs with a modern, efficient, permanent fire injection system!

PAYS FOR ITSELF IN ONE MONTH!

Now, the SA FIRE INJECTION system is so inexpensive that it can pay for itself in gas savings alone in one month of driving. Forget for the moment about the extra pep, power, performance . . . the savings in spark plug servicing and replacement . . . the savings in wear and tear on pistons and cylinders. Just remember this fire injection system will pay for itself in one month of driving! Here's how:

A spark plug jumps a spark across an air gap, limiting the size. A fire injector fires on the surface of a conductor. You get a heavy, powerful flame that will not blow out at pressures far greater than those created by the highest compression engine!

On ordinary spark plugs the air gap is always getting bigger, wasting power and gas. Plugs are constantly accumulating filth and carbon because of inefficient ignition. A fire injector has no air gap and no electrode to burn away. It never needs cleaning or setting; it actually becomes more efficient with use. It will actually outlast any car, delivering maximum efficiency without servicing or replacement.

With ordinary spark plugs you should be using premium gas, which costs from 4 to 8 cents more than regular gas. With fire injectors regular gas will give you up to 8 more miles per gallon, up to 31 more horsepower—plus easier starting in all weather.

These are some of the reasons that the U. S. Air Force pays premium prices for special aircraft fire injectors for the high-powered engines of their jet aircraft.

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF!

If you have automatic transmission, make a note of how fast your car crawls forward when it is in the drive position, with the motor idling. If you have a sports car, a racing car or a boat, make a note of the RPMs as indicated on the tachometer when the engine is idling. If you have regular transmission, put your car in low gear on a level road and notice its speed with the motor idling. Next, take a spark plug wrench (you can procure one of these tools anywhere) and remove your spark plugs. Just screw the injectors right into the spark plug openings. Then—no matter what kind of gas you have been using—fill your tank with the poorest regular gas you can buy. That's all you have to do to see the most amazing results you can imagine!

CHECK YOUR RESULTS CAREFULLY

If you have automatic transmission—now put your car in drive and let your engine idle. If your car stood still with spark plugs, it will move forward at from 4 to 6 miles per hour; that means that the amount of gas that just kept your engine turning over will now carry you up to 6 miles at no cost to you!

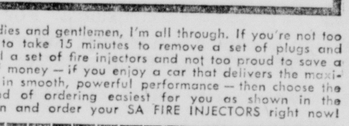
If you have a racing car, sports car or a boat, your RPMs will increase up to 200 more at idling—up to 300 more at higher speeds. If you have regular transmission, in low gear and with your motor idling your car will move forward 4 to 6 miles per hour faster. In other words, no matter what you drive, here is absolute proof that you can go further, faster and cheaper when you install SA FIRE INJECTORS in your car!

SEND NO MONEY—JUST MAIL THE COUPON!

Up to now these SA FIRE INJECTORS were practically made by hand and would have had to sell for as high as $5 each. But we knew that 30 or 40 dollars for a set of 6 to 8 SA FIRE INJECTORS was more than the average driver could afford—so we decided to get the price down so low that these injectors would pay for themselves 12 times, in one year of driving. So here is my astonishing proposition. If you will check your car's performance carefully before and after you install your SA FIRE INJECTORS and then tell your friends and neighbors about them, here is what I am prepared to do for you.

You can have a set of SA FIRE INJECTORS for the year and model of your car for a fraction of their value . . . that's $1.49 each . . . only $8.94 for a 6-cylinder car or $11.92 for an 8-cylinder car. Now, if your SA FIRE INJECTORS don't meet my GUARANTEE—if they do not continue to deliver maximum performance for the life of your car . . . you get your money back on 10-day no-risk basis.

CHECK THESE DIFFERENCES



SPARK PLUG	FIRE INJECTOR
Fires across air gap	NO air gap required
Wire electrode burns away	NO wire electrode
Carbon ruins firing tip	NO tip deterioration
Needs cleaning and setting	NO cleaning or setting ever
Needs periodic replacing	NO replacing
Needs premium gas	NO premium gas needed
Must have exact heat range	NO heat range

GUARANTEE—INSURANCE—INDEMNITY

Take your set of SA FIRE INJECTORS and install them immediately; then, give your new injection system every test you can think of . . . starting—acceleration—gas mileage—motor pep and smoothness for 10 full days. You must get up to 31 more horsepower—up to 8 more miles per gallon—increased engine RPMs—faster starting, blazing acceleration, freedom from knocks and pings, easier starting in all kinds of weather . . . AND DO ALL OF THESE THINGS ON REGULAR GAS, OR YOU GET YOUR MONEY BACK.

As long as the SA FIRE INJECTORS are in your car you are covered by a PRODUCT LIABILITY INSURANCE POLICY, endorsed by an internationally famous insurance company. A detailed description of this coverage is yours on request.

If any SA FIRE INJECTOR does not continue to deliver maximum performance for the life of your car, we will replace it FREE, or we will replace your ignition system with a set of brand-new standard American plugs. Simply return your SA FIRE INJECTORS with your guarantee.

C. S. Kosher, President,
STERLING ARTCO, INC.

Ladies and gentlemen, I'm all through. If you're not too lazy to take 15 minutes to remove a set of plugs and install a set of fire injectors and not too proud to save a lot of money—if you enjoy a car that delivers the maximum in smooth, powerful performance—then choose the method of ordering easiest for you as shown in the coupon and order your SA FIRE INJECTORS right now!

EUROPEAN COMMON MARKET—With accent on streamlined production methods and lowered tariffs, nations of the European Common Market (in black) seek to increase their trade volume and standards of living for their workers.

Today's Business Mirror

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Air freight salesmen have used both the recession and the recovery as talking points—stressing cost cutting and quicker profits. Now they are looking hopefully to the day when their biggest sales disadvantage may be licked or reduced — the higher cost of shipping by air.

Better designed cargo planes and faster jets may cut their costs and bring them into more equal competition with their rivals on the surface of the land or sea.

Ground operations have been streamlined. Lower rates are already in prospect.

Cargo volume has been increasing. During the recession salesmen preached that carefully planned use of air freight could effect real savings in distribution.

John Higgins, vice president of sales for the Flying Tiger Line, says that while surface transportation is still cheaper pound for pound from point to point, corporations often could make final savings through air freight because it cut costs of warehousing and insurance, speeded up capital turnover, trimmed loss and damage, and extended sales areas.

When recession turned into recovery, the urge to get to reviving markets first with the most was another sales talking point.

Seaboard & Western Airlines reports its total ton miles up 21 per cent for 1958. Its first two months of 1959 were up 30 per cent.

Flying Tiger's operating revenues in the first two months of 1959 were 45 per cent higher.

American Airlines and United Airlines freight ton miles (hauling one ton one mile) were both up about 15 per cent last year.

Great things are expected from the oncoming jets, because they can make more trips a month, and because they can get a shipper's goods to market faster.

Many of the new jet cargo planes will have swinging [illegible] sections so that they can be loaded quickly from the rear.

Effective May 1 there will be cuts of 10 to 50 per cent in 7 classifications of air freight.

And the International Air Transport Assn. and the Air Transport Assn. of America are out with a new condensed cargo reservations message system that makes connecting flight reservations faster, simpler and more accurate.

Now—Run Your Car Without Spark Plugs—

Get Up to 31 More Horse-Power, 8 More Miles per Gallon USING ONLY REGULAR GAS!

Yes—this revolutionary new FIRE INJECTION SYSTEM—installed in 15 minutes, must deliver maximum power and economy WITHOUT CHANGING TO HIGH-PRICED PREMIUM GAS—must give you up to 31 more H.P., 8 more miles per gallon for the life of your car! See unprecedented GUARANTEE below!

Your car runs because gasoline is fed into the cylinders where a spark causes it to fire. Now here is the important thing. The larger this spark is the more powerful the explosion. The more powerful the explosion, the more power you get from a given amount of gas. Poor explosion means wasted gas, loss of power, poor getaway, bad starting, a sluggish car. Good explosion means more miles per gallon, more horsepower, blazing pickup; an exciting car to drive!

WHAT CONTROLS ENGINE EFFICIENCY?

Spark plugs control the efficiency of that explosion. And not only do they give a small, weak spark to begin with; but they get worse every mile you drive. And that you can see for yourself. Put a new set of spark plugs in your car and then look at them at 100 miles, at a thousand miles, at 5,000 miles. Every time you look you will see more filth and carbon and more of the precious electrode burning away.

STOP USING SPARK PLUGS!

Now, read very carefully what I'm going to suggest . . . that you stop using spark plugs! That's right—get rid of them—forever. But . . . if you get rid of your spark plugs, what will ignite the gasoline and make the motor run?

Well, please remember that today you can have gas injection and get far more mileage, efficiency and power from less gas—and in a few years gas injection will have completely replaced the carburetor. In the same way, now is the time for Americans to replace old-fashioned, temporary, inefficient spark plugs with a modern, efficient, permanent fire injection system!

PAYS FOR ITSELF IN ONE MONTH!

Now, the SA FIRE INJECTION system is so inexpensive that it can pay for itself in gas savings alone in one month of driving. Forget for the moment about the extra pep, power, performance . . . the savings in spark plug servicing and replacement . . . the savings in wear and tear on pistons and cylinders. Just remember this fire injection system will pay for itself in one month of driving! Here's how:

A spark plug jumps a spark across an air gap, limiting the size. A fire injector fires on the surface of a conductor. You get a heavy, powerful flame that will not blow out at pressures far greater than those created by the highest compression engine!

On ordinary spark plugs the air gap is always getting bigger, wasting power and gas. Plugs are constantly accumulating filth and carbon because of inefficient ignition. A fire injector has no air gap and no electrode to burn away. It never needs cleaning or setting; it actually becomes more efficient with use. It will actually outlast any car, delivering maximum efficiency without servicing or replacement.

With ordinary spark plugs you should be using premium gas, which costs from 4 to 8 cents more than regular gas. With fire injectors regular gas will give you up to 8 more miles per gallon, up to 31 more horsepower—plus easier starting in all weather.

These are some of the reasons that the U. S. Air Force pays premium prices for special aircraft fire injectors for the high-powered engines of their jet aircraft.

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF!

If you have automatic transmission, make a note of how fast your car crawls forward when it is in the drive position, with the motor idling. If you have a sports car, a racing car or a boat, make a note of the RPMs as indicated on the tachometer when the engine is idling. If you have regular transmission, put your car in low gear on a level road and notice its speed with the motor idling. Next, take a spark plug wrench (you can procure one of these tools anywhere) and remove your spark plugs. Just screw the injectors right into the spark plug openings. Then—no matter what kind of gas you have been using—fill your tank with the poorest regular gas you can buy. That's all you have to do to see the most amazing results you can imagine!

CHECK YOUR RESULTS CAREFULLY

If you have automatic transmission—now put your car in drive and let your engine idle. If your car stood still with spark plugs, it will move forward at from 4 to 6 miles per hour; that means that the amount of gas that just kept your engine turning over will now carry you up to 6 miles at no cost to you!

If you have a racing car, sports car or a boat, your RPMs will increase up to 200 more at idling—up to 300 more at higher speeds. If you have regular transmission, in low gear and with your motor idling your car will move forward 4 to 6 miles per hour faster. In other words, no matter what you drive, here is absolute proof that you can go further, faster and cheaper when you install SA FIRE INJECTORS in your car!

SEND NO MONEY—JUST MAIL THE COUPON!

Up to now these SA FIRE INJECTORS were practically made by hand and would have had to sell for as high as $5 each. But we knew that 30 or 40 dollars for a set of 6 to 8 SA FIRE INJECTORS was more than the average driver could afford—so we decided to get the price down so low that these injectors would pay for themselves 12 times, in one year of driving. So here is my astonishing proposition. If you will check your car's performance carefully before and after you install your SA FIRE INJECTORS and then tell your friends and neighbors about them, here is what I am prepared to do for you.

You can have a set of SA FIRE INJECTORS for the year and model of your car for a fraction of their value . . . that's $1.49 each . . . only $8.94 for a 6-cylinder car or $11.92 for an 8-cylinder car. Now, if your SA FIRE INJECTORS don't meet my GUARANTEE—if they do not continue to deliver maximum performance for the life of your car . . . you get your money back on 10-day no-risk basis.

CHECK THESE DIFFERENCES

SPARK PLUG	FIRE INJECTOR
Fires across air gap	NO air gap required
Wire electrode burns away	NO wire electrode
Carbon ruins firing tip	NO tip deterioration
Needs cleaning and setting	NO cleaning or setting ever
Needs periodic replacing	NO replacing
Needs premium gas	NO premium gas needed
Must have exact heat range	NO heat range

GUARANTEE—INSURANCE—INDEMNITY

Take your set of SA FIRE INJECTORS and install them immediately; then, give your new injection system every test you can think of . . . starting—acceleration—gas mileage—motor pep and smoothness for 10 full days. You must get up to 31 more horsepower—up to 8 more miles per gallon—increased engine RPMs—faster starting, blazing acceleration, freedom from knocks and pings, easier starting in all kinds of weather . . . AND DO ALL OF THESE THINGS ON REGULAR GAS, OR YOU GET YOUR MONEY BACK.

As long as the SA FIRE INJECTORS are in your car you are covered by a PRODUCT LIABILITY INSURANCE POLICY, endorsed by an internationally famous insurance company. A detailed description of this coverage is yours on request.

If any SA FIRE INJECTOR does not continue to deliver maximum performance for the life of your car, we will replace it FREE, or we will replace your ignition system with a set of brand-new standard American plugs. Simply return your SA FIRE INJECTORS with your guarantee.

C. D. Kasher, President,
STERLING ARTCO, INC.

Ladies and gentlemen, I'm all through. If you're not too lazy to take 15 minutes to remove a set of plugs and install a set of fire injectors and not too proud to save a lot of money—if you enjoy a car that delivers the maximum in smooth, powerful performance—then choose the method of ordering easiest for you as shown in the coupon and order your SA FIRE INJECTORS right now!

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, APRIL 1, 1959

LAW TO HAVE STATEWIDE EFFECT

A recommendation made by the special grand jury investigating kickbacks in Ulster County, which will have sweeping effect throughout the state, has been passed by both houses of the State Legislature and now awaits signature by Governor Rockefeller to write it into law.

The bill would amend the State constitution provision, which now requires public officials to either sign a waiver of immunity and testify when subpoenaed before a grand jury or forfeit their office, to include individuals and firms doing business with the state or its political subdivisions. For failure to sign a waiver and testify, the individuals and firms would be prohibited from doing business with units of government for a period of five years.

The special grand jury recommended the change in the law after it reported that it had been blocked, impeded and frustrated in its investigation by certain sellers of merchandise and equipment and their employes by invoking their constitutional privilege against self-incrimination, and refused to testify as to their sales and business with officials in the county.

After the matter was brought to the attention of Governor Rockefeller and Attorney General Lefkowitz, the bill extending the provision beyond public officials, was passed by the Legislature.

Following the recommendation by the special grand jury, the Kingston Board of Public Works unanimously adopted a resolution requesting a list of names of firms whose representatives have refused to cooperate in the probe. This was the first move toward boycotting firms which balk in the local probe.

At the time the grand jury made its recommendation, both Justice Henry Clay Greenberg and Special Attorney General Bernard Tompkins hailed the suggestion as a great contribution by the special grand jury to the public welfare.

The law, instituted in Ulster County by the extraordinary grand jury, will give investigation into illegal activities a much broader scope and will greatly facilitate the work of investigators.

If signed into law, this amendment to Article 1, Section 6, of the State Constitution will have far-reaching statewide effects. The practice of accepting kickbacks, whether from apathy or from collusion, which may be more widespread than realized by most citizens, should be stamped out.

MORE RADIATION DATA

John A. McCone, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has asked that all government agencies concerned with atomic radiation get together for a review of informational policy. Coincidentally, the National Academy of Science has announced that it will bring up to date its report on the biological effects of radiation.

As to the second item, we approve without reservations. The prime source of confusion about this whole matter has been that scientists do not know enough, and disagree on the import of what is known.

As to McCone's demand for a "government-wide review" of informational policy, we do have some reservations. We are not opposed to the idea that agencies involved notably the AEC, the Public Health Service and the Department of Defense—ought to know who is releasing what. Our qualms are prompted by the fear that in getting together on informational policy the agencies may wind up giving the public less information than it is now getting.

That would be a most unfortunate outcome. The pubic needs more, rather than less, knowledge about the hazards of radioactive fallout. It ought, moreover, to receive this information from sources not hampered by the AEC's inclination to minimize the danger at the expense of public understanding.

That inclination has on several occasions left the public deficient in its grasp of the problems involved. The most recent instance of this came when the AEC withheld, and the congressional joint atomic energy committee released, data showing that fallout was descending much faster than had been estimated. We repeat: More, rather than less, information on this vital subject is needed.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE HIGH COST OF CRIME

I saw an item in the "Providence Journal" that a new Federal prison in Illinois will cost $110,000,000 which must make a whale of a prison. I am further informed that the New York State Division of Parole has about 13,000 parolees under supervision each year. My informant calculates this way:

". . . In the event these men were to be reincarcerated, it would take roughly six State prisons and reformatories at 2,000 men per institution to confine these men. Six times the going rate of $110,000,000 per institution comes to a staggering $660,000,000 in capital construction costs that this same small agency offsets in any one given calendar year, simply by reason of its being.

"Add to this the $2,000 per year necessary to maintain an inmate in a prison or reformatory, times 13,000 men (parolees) living in the community and you have $26,000,000 annual saving to the State; add again the figure saved by having these same men outside supporting or contributing to the support of their families and thereby removing said families from the rolls of public welfare and you probably end up with a total saving to the State of 50-60 million annually as the barest of bare minimum figure."

Now all this arithmetic is frightfully startling and it makes one shudder at the thought that he pays taxes for all this. It would be cheaper to go back to the Middle Ages and hang everybody who commits any kind of a crime.

My letter-writer, however, did not have that as his objective. He is undoubtedly a kindly and gentle person and believes in the parole system which only costs the State $4,000,000,000 a year for approximately 200 field parole officers, practically all of whom are university graduates and who, despite their learning and the difficulties of their tasks, earn about $6,000 a year.

However, there is quite another problem. How many of the parolees return to crime? How many mend their ways and become respectable citizens? Every once in a while, when one reads of a frightful act of human debasement, it turns out that a parolee has returned to the very horrible acts which first brought him to prison. Surely, the parole system throughout this country requires re-study and reorganization. And it is ridiculous to entrust men with such serious work and then to underpay them.

If our state governments and municipalities cut out waste and duplication and graft among politicians and contractors, they would have enough money on hand to pay for teachers, policemen and parole officers. If there is no money to pay for such services, they will deteriorate; decent men and women will decline to serve. This has ceased to be a joke, particularly in the larger cities of the country where all services are deteriorating because pay is not attractive.

If the parole system is of value, it must be paid for. If it is not of value, it should be abolished. The fact of the matter is that crime in this country is on the increase. The statistics are for arrests for crimes; there are no figures for those who get away with muggings, robberies, rapes and murders. The sex crimes that are reported are atrocious but the decline in sex morality cannot be reported but can only be observed. The enormous cost of maintaining prisons is justified either on the assumption that criminals must be caged like wild animals or that prison life can be translated into a character building process which will assist the criminal to a better life, whereupon he will be paroled and eventually inducted into society as an honorable man.

Less than that makes the entire system meaningless and is less rational than the older Chinese system of clipping off the heads of wrongdoers and saving the cost of their improvement. I shall never forget my first view of decapitated human beings hanging on poles in Tientsin, China, as a warning to other wrong-doers. But the warning apparently never warned because there were always new wrong-doers on the poles.

What is really so devastating among us is that with police, parole officers and other law enforcement officers so underpaid, it is astonishing that more of them do not try their hand at making an untaxed dollar or so. High taxes and low pay is a very bad formula for law enforcers.

Kidney Disease May Strike Body in Variety of Forms

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Numerous readers, including Mrs. C. K., have asked for another discussion of nephritis. This is a disease of the kidneys, which is also called Bright's disease.

There are several varieties of nephritis, but probably the most common and most serious is that which afflicts particularly children and young adults.

This goes under the technical name of glomerular nephritis. The associated inflammation can be of sudden onset and produce acute symptoms and signs, or can be chronic in nature.

Probably most cases of acute nephritis result from—or at least follow—infection of the nose, throat or upper breathing passageways with germs of the streptococcus family.

In other words, this is frequently associated with sore throat, sinusitis, rheumatic fever, scarlet fever and other disorders caused by the streptococcus. Sometimes such definite infection cannot be identified as a forerunner of acute nephritis.

The line of attack on acute nephritis is therefore aimed at the precipitating cause, if one can be identified. Thus if a source or focus of infection, such as diseased tonsils, can be found these are often best removed.

In addition, bed rest during the acute phase of the illness is generally desirable as is the attention to diet and often to medication.

Since some of the antibiotics, like penicillin, attack certain streptococci, treatment with such substances is often considered, although the evidence for their value in many cases of acute nephritis is conflicting. A high proportion of those who have a single attack of acute nephritis recover completely.

Chronic nephritis, or Bright's disease, is probably more serious. Some develop chronic nephritis from the acute variety. But perhaps most of those with chronic Bright's disease are not aware of ever having had an acute attack.

Among the common signs of chronic nephritis are the gradual accumulation of fluids in some of the tissues (edema or dropsy), recurrent headaches often associated with some high blood pressure, and shortness of breath. But it is not at all unusual to discover chronic nephritis by finding albumin in the urine without any complaints.

The chronic form of Bright's disease always requires attention. Accurate diagnosis of the damage to the kidneys is the first step. Avoidance of fatigue is important.

Depending on the symptoms and signs, it may be necessary to institute dietary restrictions, measures to promote elimination of excessive tissue fluids, and other procedures.

The severity of chronic Bright's disease varies in a great deal from one person to another. Hence the outlook and treatment are not the same for all those afflicted.

Washington News

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Council of Foreign Ministers convening May 11 to consider the Berlin situation in preparation for the summit conference later this summer will be the first such meeting attended by the Russians in four years.

You can get arguments either way that this foreign ministers' meeting will be a waste of time or serve a useful purpose. But that generality applies equally to all CFM meetings in the past. Some were good. Others complete busts.

There have been either nine or 13 of these foreign ministers' conferences in which the Russians have taken part, depending on when you begin counting and how. And you must review their record to appraise their value.

The first wartime foreign ministers' meeting was held in Moscow, October, 1943. The late Cordell Hull, Anthony Eden and V. M. Molotov were principals.

They held 12 sessions in which it was agreed to form a United Nations organization, destroy Nazism and Facism, punish war criminals and liberate Austria.

This talk was followed by the Dumbarton Oaks conference in Washington, October, 1944, in which first draft of the United Nations Charter was written — an auspicious beginning.

The "Council" of Foreign Ministers did not come into being as a formal organization until a year later. It was created by the four-power Potsdam conference. The council's assignment from the heads of government was to work out peace treaties with Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Finland and Italy.

IN THE NEXT TWO YEARS the council held six sessions to give directions to the deputies and technical experts who did the actual negotiating and drafting.

London—Sept. 11, Oct. 2, 1945—made a start on terms of the Italian treaty, but did little beyond this.

Moscow—Dec. 16-26, 1945—ended in disagreement.

Paris—April 25-May 15, 1946 — Broke up over Russian demand for 100-million-dollar reparations from Italy.

Paris—June 25-July 12, 1946. Continuation of previous session. Ended in a call for a peace conference to make treaties with all Axis powers except Germany and Japan. This conference met in Paris, July 29, 1946.

New York—Nov. 4-Dec. 11, 1946. Treaties with Bulgaria, Finland, Hungary, Italy and Romania approved in connection with meeting of U.N. General Assembly.

IN OFFICIAL RECORDS these sessions are listed as the first three meetings of the council. The Moscow meetings are not counted and the two Paris meetings are considered one.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was U. S. representative at these sessions. They are memorable now in that Byrnes, at Paris, offered the Russians a 25-year treaty guaranteeing the disarmament of Germany.

If the Russians had accepted this foolish offer, the U. S. and western European powers would be in a bad fix today. But the Russians turned it down. In view of the creation of North Atlantic Treaty Organization and rearmament of West Germany, the Reds would grab at it if they could get it now.

There were two reasons why the Russians missed this boat.

First was that the western powers would not accept Russia's demand for 100 million dollars in German reparations.

Second, the Russians did not feel that the West went far enough in "democratization" of Germany. What they wanted, of course, was a Communist-dominated Germany and Austria.

..A SEVEN-WEEK SESSION of the Council of Foreign Ministers—its longest—was held in Moscow, March 10-April 24, 1947.

It was another futile effort to work out peace treaties for Germany and Austria.

Gen. George C. Marshall, as U. S. secretary of state, was American representative. He gave up when he considered further negotiation useless. This is officially counted as the fourth CFM meeting.

A fifth session in London, Nov. 25-Dec. 15, 1947, was no more successful. And that ended the work of the Council of Foreign Ministers for two years.

'Missile - Rattling' Linked To State of U. S. Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — They used to call it "saber-rattling." But since the saber is outmoded, the appropriate term nowadays would be "missile-rattling."

The idea is to scare another government which might be thinking of an attack on your country, though the justification is always supposed to be reassurance to one's own people.

But, so far as the United States is concerned, there is an altogether different reason why the military chiefs and the Secretary of Defense find it necessary to go around the country these days telling the people we can "flatten Russia." It has to do with the low state of American politics.

For months now, the American people have been told that the Soviets are "ahead of us" or that there is a "dangerous gap." This might make pleasant reading in Moscow, but the ostensible purpose of the politician is patriotic. He has convinced himself that he is not thinking of his own ambitions, that he is not playing politics with human fears, and that he is alerting his country to its own lack of preparedness. But, unfortunately, this is not the whole story. A careful examination of the facts, as developed in testimony before Congressional committees, would indicate that all the military chiefs have agreed that our armed forces and weapons today are capable of administering incredible destruction on the potential enemy and that plans have been made to maintain adequate strength for the future.

It has been easy enough to get these military facts, but this wouldn't satisfy political ambition. It might be thought that in free America, whose proud claim has always been that "partisan politics ends at the water's edge," there would be more restraint on the part of public men in issuing deprecatory statements which, on the one hand, accuse the incumbent Administration of neglect, but which, on the other hand, inevitably result in counter assertions by the military chiefs themselves in phrases that naturally arouse bad feelings between peoples theoretically preparing to fight each other.

If the Soviet people think they are doomed to destruction, they will tend to forget the hardships imposed by their tyrannical government and will rally behind it in desperation.

When Khrushchev, in one of his vodka outbursts, said to Western diplomats in Moscow a few months ago, "We will bury you," his boast was reported by the press of the world. It aroused, particularly in the United States, a feeling that we were being threatened.

The same reaction can ensue within the Soviet Union from the reading of many of the comments on our defense capabilities which are being printed rather widely this week. Our military men and the Secretary of Defense have been describing in their public statements the terrible destruction which our own military apparatus can inflict on the enemy, if attacked. The Soviet press usually omits the words "if attacked."

Threats Arouse Patriots

No nation likes to be threatened by any other nation. Threats produce a jingoistic spirit and tend to arouse patriotic feelings. Khrushchev, of course, did not do the cause of peace any service by his recent ultimatum demanding that the Western troops be withdrawn from West Berlin by May 27. He has since modified his position in the face of worldwide condemnation.

President Eisenhower has handled himself superbly. He has uttered no words of bluster about our military power. He has simply said we would not retreat an inch and would fight only if were attacked. This is not only the proper phrasing for diplomatic purposes, but it also serves to keep the argument on the wave lengths of peace so far as American itself is concerned.

Information Needed

Somehow the people behind the Iron Curtain ought to be informed that the debate inside the United States is primarily political and that there isn't the remotest intention here of attacking them. America, to be sure — in case of attack — does not intend to wait until the "first blow" arrives before putting into effect its interceptive devices far distant from our own territory. This can be said without any threats or bluster. There is, moreover, a legitimate need for outlining to the American people the military capacity of this country to inflict retaliatory blows. Congress must be given the facts upon which to base its judgment, but there is no need for politicians to assail the expert judgment of America's military leaders and to engage in a debate in terms of international threats.

The current debate in Congress has much to do with nondefense spending. For, if those who are arguing for more and more deficits can convince public opinion that all that has been said about a balanced budget is irrelevant, the end result will be to open the gates to further spending. It is not unrealistic, to say that the "spenders" are using the alleged inadequacy of defense appropriations to obscure their real purpose, which is to increase nondefense spending. This category of expenditures, by the way, has been steadily increasing in recent years. It's too bad that, to offset political sniping, there has to be "missile-rattling." For it makes difficult the task of winning the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to our point of view of world peace.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, March 31—After an ardent campaign for Fidel Castro's Cuban revolution, Dale Francis, a columnist of Our Sunday Visitor, a leading national Catholic publication, suddenly has recanted admitting many errors.

"I was not prepared for the suddenness and intensity of what is happening in Cuba," Francis wrote in a surprising article in Our Sunday Visitor for March 22. "I am sorry I was proved wrong, because it saddens me to see Cuba fall under a new tryranny. I am thankful that I went back to Cuba at exactly the time the Red campaign was intensified."

Our Sunday Visitor is published in Huntington, Ind. It is an official publication of 13 dioceses including New Orleans, Charleston, S. C., and Winnipeg. In this large circulation Francis used its columns in a mistaken effort to soften the menace of communism in Castro's war and purge and to belittle journalists who were not deceived.

Meanwhile, at the great political demonstration of the AFL-CIO in Puerto Rico, the executive council of the job-trust rolled the war drums in sympathy with an onslaught of combined Latin American forces against the Dominican republic. There, "Generallissimo" Trujillo has been aggressively anti-Communist. Spruille Braden, now retired from diplomacy but an acknowledged authority, recently described Santo Domingo as the main political and substantial fortress against Soviet imperalism in Central and South America.

By himself, Francis would have been trivial, but the religious environment of his vehement stories from Cuba gave him a seeming of authority. I personally received tear-sheets from many individuals who thought Francis expressed the Catholic view.

At the New York office of Our Sunday Visitor, C. A. Baumgartner, the paper's advertising representative, said he understood that Francis was a convert to the Catholic faith who had spent some time in Puerto Rico but now lives in Austin, Tex.

The effrontery of the AFL-CIO in meddling in martial intrigues in the Caribbean was ignored by the Washington administration and most of the press at the time. Yet, John Herling, a "labor" columnist who writes for numerous union publications and lay dailies, had frankly discussed a war against Trujillo as "the revolution yet to come." This would be directed, if not actually launched, from Puerto Rico, under the American Flag, among other strategic points.

In New York, J. B. Matthews, who, as chief examiner of the Dies Committee, long ago established authority as an expert on Communists and Socialists, said Herling and his wife had been for 20 years secretaries to Norman Thomas, the perpetual Socialist candidate for President. He said Herlings were Socialists when he knew them.

In our Sunday Visitor for March 22, Francis wrote that the Cubans gave Castro their heart, but that "there is danger that he will toss it to the jackals of communism. * * * He may be their betrayer. The Red move started in March. I arrived in Cuba and a cold chill swept over me as I realized what had happened. I told the truth about what happened under Batista and I now speak the truth about what has begun to happen under Castro. For the welfare of not just Cuba but of all Latin America and the United States the truth must be known. I have talked with many important people of Cuba, behind closed doors. It would be as dangerous for their names to be known as it was for the names of those who spoke against Batista to be known. Informers were around, mail was opened and phones were tapped.

"When the bearded rebels came down into Havana they wore Rosaries around their necks. For the first time there were Catholic chaplains in the army. The mirage continued two months. Then priests were told they could no longer celebrate Mass for the soldiers."

Classes in reading and writing for illiterates became classes in Marxism, and educated officers had to attend as though they were ignorant mountaineers. For a time, Francis ridiculed stateside authorities who named Guevara, in charge of the classes, as a Communist. But there were two Guevaras and Francis was defending the wrong one. He now admitted his mistake.

Finally, Francis wrote: "The new dictator is as fully a dictator as Batista ever was. Anyone who disagrees with him is a counter-revolutionist. They are tagged as Batista men and thrown into prison. There have been executions with no trial at all. And now in prison are 60 men who fought beside Castro, awaiting whatever whim he decrees for them because they saw the mask torn off the face of the new tyranny."

LAW TO HAVE STATEWIDE EFFECT

A recommendation made by the special grand jury investigating kickbacks in Ulster County, which will have sweeping effect throughout the state, has been passed by both houses of the State Legislature and now awaits signature by Governor Rockefeller to write it into law.

The bill would amend the State constitution provision, which now requires public officials to either sign a waiver of immunity and testify when subpoenaed before a grand jury or forfeit their office, to include individuals and firms doing business with the state or its political subdivisions. For failure to sign a waiver and testify, the individuals and firms would be prohibited from doing business with units of government for a period of five years.

The special grand jury recommended the change in the law after it reported that it had been blocked, impeded and frustrated in its investigation by certain sellers of merchandise and equipment and their employes by invoking their constitutional privilege against self-incrimination, and refused to testify as to their sales and business with officials in the county.

After the matter was brought to the attention of Governor Rockefeller and Attorney General Lefkowitz, the bill extending the provision beyond public officials, was passed by the Legislature.

Following the recommendation by the special grand jury, the Kingston Board of Public Works unanimously adopted a resolution requesting a list of names of firms whose representatives have refused to cooperate in the probe. This was the first move toward boycotting firms which balk in the local probe.

At the time the grand jury made its recommendation, both Justice Henry Clay Greenberg and Special Attorney General Bernard Tompkins hailed the suggestion as a great contribution by the special grand jury to the public welfare.

The law, instituted in Ulster County by the extraordinary grand jury, will give investigation into illegal activities a much broader scope and will greatly facilitate the work of investigators.

If signed into law, this amendment to Article 1, Section 6, of the State Constitution will have far-reaching statewide effects. The practice of accepting kickbacks, whether from apathy or from collusion, which may be more widespread than realized by most citizens, should be stamped out.

MORE RADIATION DATA

John A. McCone, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, has asked that all government agencies concerned with atomic radiation get together for a review of informational policy. Coincidentally, the National Academy of Science has announced that it will bring up to date its report on the biological effects of radiation.

As to the second item, we approve without reservations. The prime source of confusion about this whole matter has been that scientists do not know enough, and disagree on the import of what is known.

As to McCone's demand for a "government-wide review" of informational policy, we do have some reservations. We are not opposed to the idea that agencies involved notably the AEC, the Public Health Service and the Department of Defense—ought to know who is releasing what. Our qualms are prompted by the fear that in getting together on informational policy the agencies may wind up giving the public less information than it is now getting.

That would be a most unfortunate outcome. The pubic needs more, rather than less, knowledge about the hazards of radioactive fallout. It ought, moreover, to receive this information from sources not hampered by the AEC's inclination to minimize the danger at the expense of public understanding.

That inclination has on several occasions left the public deficient in its grasp of the problems involved. The most recent instance of this came when the AEC withheld, and the congressional joint atomic energy committee released, data showing that fallout was descending much faster than had been estimated. We repeat: More, rather than less, information on this vital subject is needed.

'These Days'

THE HIGH COST OF CRIME

I saw an item in the "Providence Journal" that a new Federal prison in Illinois will cost $110,000,000 which must make a whale of a prison. I am further informed that the New York State Division of Parole has about 13,000 parolees under supervision each year. My informant calculates this way:

". . . In the event these men were to be reincarcerated, it would take roughly six State prisons and reformatories at 2,000 men per institution to confine these men. Six times the going rate of $110,000,000 per institution comes to a staggering $660,000,000 in capital construction costs that this same small agency offsets in any one given calendar year, simply by reason of its being.

"Add to this the $2,000 per year necessary to maintain an inmate in a prison or reformatory, times 13,000 men (parolees) living in the community and you have $26,000,000 annual saving to the State; add again the figure saved by having these same men outside supporting or contributing to the support of their families and thereby removing said families from the rolls of public welfare and you probably end up with a total saving to the State of 50-60 million annually as the barest of bare minimum figure."

Now all this arithmetic is frightfully startling and it makes one shudder at the thought that he pays taxes for all this. It would be cheaper to go back to the Middle Ages and hang everybody who commits any kind of a crime.

My letter-writer, however, did not have that as his objective. He is undoubtedly a kindly and gentle person and believes in the parole system which only costs the State $4,000,000,000 a year for approximately 200 field parole officers, practically all of whom are university graduates and who, despite their learning and the difficulties of their tasks, earn about $6,000 a year.

However, there is quite another problem. How many of the parolees return to crime? How many mend their ways and become respectable citizens? Every once in a while, when one reads of a frightful act of human debasement, it turns out that a parolee has returned to the very horrible acts which first brought him to prison. Surely, the parole system throughout this country requires re-study and reorganization. And it is ridiculous to entrust men with such serious work and then to underpay them.

If our state governments and municipalities cut out waste and duplication and graft among politicians and contractors, they would have enough money on hand to pay for teachers, policemen and parole officers. If there is no money to pay for such services they will deteriorate; decent men and women will decline to serve. This has ceased to be a joke, particularly in the larger cities of the country where all services are deteriorating because pay is not attractive.

If the parole system is of value, it must be paid for. If it is not of value, it should be abolished. The fact of the matter is that crime in this country is on the increase. The statistics are for arrests for crimes; there are no figures for those who get away with muggings, robberies, rapes and murders. The sex crimes that are reported are atrocious but the decline in sex morality cannot be reported but can only be observed. The enormous cost of maintaining prisons is justified either on the assumption that criminals must be caged like wild animals or that prison life can be translated into a character building process which will assist the criminal to a better life, whereupon he will be paroled and eventually inducted into society as an honorable man.

Less than that makes the entire system meaningless and is less rational than the older Chinese system of clipping off the heads of wrong-doers and saving the cost of their improvement. I shall never forget my first view of decapitated human beings hanging on poles in Tientsin, China, as a warning to other wrong-doers. But the warning apparently never warned because there were always new wrong-doers on the poles.

What is really so devastating among us is that with police, parole officers and other law enforcement officers so underpaid, it is astonishing that more of them do not try their hand at making an untaxed dollar or so. High taxes and low pay is a very bad formula for law enforcers.

Kidney Disease May Strike Body in Variety of Forms

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Numerous readers, including Mrs. C. K., have asked for another discussion of nephritis. This is a disease of the kidneys, which is also called Bright's disease.

There are several varieties of nephritis, but probably the most common and most serious is that which afflicts particularly children and young adults.

This goes under the technical name of glomerular nephritis. The associated inflammation can be of sudden onset and produce acute symptoms and signs, or can be chronic in nature.

Probably most cases of acute nephritis result from—or at least follow—infection of the nose, throat or upper breathing passageways with germs of the streptococcus family.

In other words, this is frequently associated with sore throat, sinusitis, rheumatic fever, scarlet fever and other disorders caused by the streptococcus. Sometimes such definite infection cannot be identified as a forerunner of acute nephritis.

The line of attack on acute nephritis is therefore aimed at the precipitating cause, if one can be identified. Thus if a source or focus of infection, such as diseased tonsils, can be found these are often best removed.

In addition, bed rest during the acute phase of the illness is generally desirable as is the attention to diet and often to medication.

Since some of the antibiotics, like penicillin, attack certain streptococci, treatment with such substances is often considered, although the evidence for their value in many cases of acute nephritis is conflicting. A high proportion of those who have a single attack of acute nephritis recover completely.

Chronic nephritis, or Bright's disease, is probably more serious. Some develop chronic nephritis from the acute variety. But perhaps most of those with chronic Bright's disease are not aware of ever having had an acute attack.

Among the common signs of chronic nephritis are the gradual accumulation of fluids in some of the tissues (edema or dropsy), recurrent headaches often associated with some high blood pressure, and shortness of breath. But it is not at all unusual to discover chronic nephritis by finding albumin in the urine without any complaints.

The chronic form of Bright's disease always requires attention. Accurate diagnosis of the damage to the kidneys is the first step. Avoidance of fatigue is important.

Depending on the symptoms and signs, it may be necessary to institute dietary restrictions, measures to promote elimination of excessive tissue fluids, and other procedures.

The severity of chronic Bright's disease varies in a great deal from one person to another. Hence the outlook and treatment are not the same for all those afflicted.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Council of Foreign Ministers convening May 11 to consider the Berlin situation in preparation for the summit conference later this summer will be the first such meeting attended by the Russians in four years.

'Missile - Rattling' Linked To State of U. S. Politics

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — They used to call it "saber-rattling." But since the saber is outmoded, the appropriate term nowadays would be "missile-rattling."

The idea is to scare another government which might be thinking of an attack on your country, though the justification is always supposed to be reassurance to one's own people.

But, so far as the United States is concerned, there is an altogether different reason why the military chiefs and the Secretary of Defense find it necessary to go around the country these days telling the people we can "flatten Russia." It has to do with the low state of American politics.

For months now, the American people have been told that the Soviets are "ahead of us" or that there is a "dangerous gap." This might make pleasant reading in Moscow, but the ostensible purpose of the politician is patriotic. He has convinced himself that he is not thinking of his own ambitions, that he is not playing politics with human fears, and that he is alerting his country to its own lack of preparedness. But, unfortunately, this is not the whole story. A careful examination of the facts, as developed in testimony before Congressional committees, would indicate that all the military chiefs have agreed that our armed forces and weapons today are capable of administering incredible destruction on the potential enemy and that plans have been made to maintain adequate strength for the future.

It has been easy enough to get these military facts, but this wouldn't satisfy political ambition. It might be thought that in free America, whose proud claim has always been that "partisan politics ends at the water's edge," there would be more restraint on the part of public men in issuing deprecatory statements which, on the one hand, accuse the incumbent Administration of neglect, but which, on the other hand, inevitably result in counter assertions by the military chiefs themselves in phrases that naturally arouse bad feelings between peoples theoretically preparing to fight each other.

If the Soviet people think they are doomed to destruction, they will tend to forget the hardships imposed by their tyrannical government and will rally behind it in desperation.

When Khrushchev, in one of his vodka outbursts, said to Western diplomats in Moscow a few months ago, "We will bury you," his boast was reported by the press of the world. It aroused, particularly in the United States, a feeling that we were being threatened.

The same reaction can ensue within the Soviet Union from the reading of many of the comments on our defense capabilities which are being printed rather widely this week. Our military men and the Secretary of Defense have been describing in their public statements the terrible destruction which our own military apparatus can inflict on the enemy, if attacked. The Soviet press usually omits the words "if attacked."

Threats Arouse Patriots

No nation likes to be threatened by any other nation. Threats produce a jingoistic spirit and tend to arouse patriotic feelings. Khrushchev, of course, did not do the cause of peace any service by his recent ultimatum demanding that the Western troops be withdrawn from West Berlin by May 27. He has since modified his position in the face of worldwide condemnation.

President Eisenhower has handled himself superbly. He has uttered no words of bluster about our military power. He has simply said we would not retreat an inch and would fight only if were attacked. This is not only the proper phrasing for diplomatic purposes, but it also serves to keep the argument on the wave lengths of peace so far as American itself is concerned.

Information Needed

Somehow the people behind the Iron Curtain ought to be informed that the debate inside the United States is primarily political and that there isn't the remotest intention here of attacking them. America, to be sure — in case of attack — does not intend to wait until the "first blow" arrives before putting into effect its interceptive devices far distant from our own territory. This can be said without any threats or bluster. There is, moreover, a legitimate need for outlining to the American people the military capacity of this country to inflict retaliatory blows. Congress must be given the facts upon which to base its judgment, but there is no need for politicians to assail the expert judgment of America's military leaders and to engage in a debate in terms of international threats.

The current debate in Congress has much to do with nondefense spending. For, if those who are arguing for more and more deficits can convince public opinion that all that has been said about a balanced budget is irrelevant, the end result will be to open the gates to further spending. It is not unrealistic, to say that the "spenders" are using the alleged inadequacy of defense appropriations to obscure their real purpose, which is to increase nondefense spending. This category of expenditures, by the way, has been steadily increasing in recent years. It's too bad that, to offset political sniping, there has to be "missile-rattling." For it makes difficult the task of winning the peoples behind the Iron Curtain to our point of view of world peace.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, March 31—After an ardent campaign for Fidel Castro's Cuban revolution, Dale Francis, a columnist of Our Sunday Visitor, a leading national Catholic publication, suddenly has recanted admitting many errors.

"I was not prepared for the suddenness and intensity of what is happening in Cuba," Francis wrote in a surprising article in Our Sunday Visitor for March 22. "I am sorry I was proved wrong, because it saddens me to see Cuba fall under a new tryranny. I am thankful that I went back to Cuba at exactly the time the Red campaign was intensified."

Our Sunday Visitor is published in Huntington, Ind. It is an official publication of 13 dioceses including New Orleans, Charleston, S. C., and Winnipeg. In this large circulation Francis used its columns in a mistaken effort to soften the menace of communism in Castro's war and purge and to belittle journalists who were not deceived.

Meanwhile, at the great political demonstration of the AFL-CIO in Puerto Rico, the executive council of the job-trust rolled the war drums in sympathy with an onslaught of combined Latin American forces against the Dominican republic. There, "Generallissimo" Trujillo has been aggressively anti-Communist. Spruille Braden, now retired from diplomacy but an acknowledged authority, recently described Santo Domingo as the main political and substantial fortress against Soviet imperalism in Central and South America.

By himself, Francis would have been trivial, but the religious environment of his vehement stories from Cuba gave him a seeming of authority. I personally received tear-sheets from many individuals who thought Francis expressed the Catholic view.

At the New York office of Our Sunday Visitor, C. A. Baumgartner, the paper's advertising representative, said he understood that Francis was a convert to the Catholic faith who had spent some time in Puerto Rico but now lives in Austin, Tex.

The effrontery of the AFL-CIO in meddling in martial intrigues in the Caribbean was ignored by the Washington administration and most of the press at the time. Yet, John Herling, a "labor" columnist who writes for numerous union publications and lay dailies, had frankly discussed a war against Trujillo as "the revolution yet to come." This would be directed, if not actually launched, from Puerto Rico, under the American Flag, among other strategic points.

In New York, J. B. Matthews, who, as chief examiner of the Dies Committee, long ago established authority as an expert on Communists and Socialists, said Herling and his wife had been for 20 years secretaries to Norman Thomas, the perpetual Socialist candidate for President. He said Herlings were Socialists when he knew them.

In our Sunday Visitor for March 22, Francis wrote that the Cubans gave Castro their heart, but that "there is danger that he will toss it to the jackals of communism. * * * He may be their betrayer. The Red move started in March. I arrived in Cuba and a cold chill swept over me as I realized what had happened. I told the truth about what happened under Batista and I now speak the truth about what has begun to happen under Castro. For the welfare of not just Cuba but of all Latin America and the United States the truth must be known. I have talked with many important people of Cuba, behind closed doors. It would be as dangerous for their names to be known as it was for the names of those who spoke against Batista to be known. Informers were around, mail was opened and phones were tapped.

"When the bearded rebels came down into Havana they wore Rosaries around their necks. For the first time there were Catholic chaplains in the army. The mirage continued two months. Then priests were told they could no longer celebrate Mass for the soldiers."

Classes in reading and writing for illiterates became classes in Marxism, and educated officers had to attend as though they were ignorant mountaineers. For a time, Francis ridiculed state-side authorities who named Guevara, in charge of the classes, as a Communist. But there were two Guevaras and Francis was defending the wrong one. He now admitted his mistake.

Finally, Francis wrote: "The new dictator is as fully a dictator as Batista ever was. Anyone who disagrees with him is a counter-revolutionist. They are tagged as Batista men and thrown into prison. There have been executions with no trial at all. And now in prison are 60 men who fought beside Castro, awaiting whatever whim he decrees for them because they saw the mask torn off the face of the new tyranny."

ACROSS THE RIVER—Across the Mosel River near Bern-Kastel, Germany, goes the U.S. Army's heavy equipment assault boat. It's powered by the inboard-engined motor boat in the center. This is standard procedure for moving vehicles across a river. This was part of Eighth Infantry Division operations.

One Out of Eight Jobless

Niagara Frontier Trails U.S. In Recovery From Recession

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The Niagara Frontier, where one out of eight workers is jobless, trails both the state and the nation in recovering from the recession.

Employment figures pinpoint the trouble in the aircraft, automotive and other transportation equipment industries.

Two years ago, such plans employed nearly 45,000. Today the figure is down to 28,000. The Bell Aircraft Corp. was the biggest single loser.

Another Trouble Spot

Another trouble spot in the state is the Albany-Schenectady-Troy area, where between six and nine per cent of the labor force is unemployed. Unemployment claims were three per cent higher last month than in March 1958.

On the Niagara Frontier, two bright spots are the steel industry and the giant Niagara Power Project.

The steel mills are rolling at full capacity. The mills and other metals factories employ about 35,000 now, up considerable from 29,000 at the depth of the recession.

Even so, the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in Lackawanna is operating full blast with 2,000 fewer employes than the 20,000 employed during the last previous top-production level two years ago.

Blame Automation

Union leaders blame automation for this.

Total non-farm employment on the Niagara Frontier is estimated at 413,000, down 16,000 from a year ago. Bell Aircraft has dropped from 16,000 employes in 1958 to about 4,000 now.

The Ford Motor Co. closed its assembly plant, which employed 1,200, and moved it to Lorain, Ohio. The Pullman Co. closed its car shops here and put 400 out of work.

The Niagara Power Project is expected to give a big boost to employment soon. On Thursday, the first concrete will be poured and the present work force of 4,300 is expected to increase to a peak of about 8,000.

Burns, Berle Will Be Video Producers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two durable comics, George Burns and Milton Berle, are going into the television production business.

They announced Tuesday that they have formed B & B productions and will first tackle a series of 39 half-hour filmed shows. Berle who has spent many years in live TV, will star in 13 of the canned programs and act as host on all of them. Burns will be executive producer.

The format calls for situation, farce and musical comedy and variety programs.

Probes Gas Prices

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie named an investigating committee Tuesday to probe gasoline prices which range from 25-40 cents per gallon in Idaho.

The governor sent a telegram to 10 major oil companies saying he has learned that "some prices currently used in the trade violate the Idaho Unfair Sales Act and state antitrust statutes."

Smylie also asked the major oil companies to correct the situation.

One Out of Eight Jobless

Niagara Frontier Trails U.S. In Recovery From Recession

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — The Niagara Frontier, where one out of eight workers is jobless, trails both the state and the nation in recovering from the recession.

Employment figures pinpoint the trouble in the aircraft, automotive and other transportation equipment industries.

Two years ago, such plans employed nearly 45,000. Today the figure is down to 28,000. The Bell Aircraft Corp. was the biggest single loser.

Another Trouble Spot

Another trouble spot in the state is the Albany-Schenectady-Troy area, where between six and nine per cent of the labor force is unemployed. Unemployment claims were three per cent higher last month than in March 1958.

On the Niagara Frontier, two bright spots are the steel industry and the giant Niagara Power Project.

The steel mills are rolling at full capacity. The mills and other metals factories employ about 35,000 now, up considerable from 29,000 at the depth of the recession.

Even so, the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in Lackawanna is operating full blast with 2,000 fewer employes than the 20,000 employed during the last previous top-production level two years ago.

Blame Automation

Union leaders blame automation for this.

Total non-farm employment on the Niagara Frontier is estimated at 413,000, down 16,000 from a year ago. Bell Aircraft has dropped from 16,000 employes in 1958 to about 4,000 now.

The Ford Motor Co. closed its assembly plant, which employed 1,200, and moved it to Lorain, Ohio. The Pullman Co. closed its car shops here and put 400 out of work.

The Niagara Power Project is expected to give a big boost to employment soon. On Thursday, the first concrete will be poured and the present work force of 4,300 is expected to increase to a peak of about 8,000.

Burns, Berle Will Be Video Producers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Two durable comics, George Burns and Milton Berle, are going into the television production business.

They announced Tuesday that they have formed B & B productions and will first tackle a series of 39 half-hour filmed shows. Berle who has spent many years in live TV, will star in 13 of the canned programs and act as host on all of them. Burns will be executive producer.

The format calls for situation, farce and musical comedy and variety programs.

Probes Gas Prices

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie named an investigating committee Tuesday to probe gasoline prices which range from 25-40 cents per gallon in Idaho.

The governor sent a telegram to 10 major oil companies saying he has learned that "some prices currently used in the trade violate the Idaho Unfair Sales Act and state antitrust statutes."

Smylie also asked the major oil companies to correct the situation.

Explorer Post 12 Anniversary Fete Set for Thursday

Explorer Post 12 will celebrate its fifth anniversary with a birthday party Tuesday evening at Bethany Hall in the Old Dutch Church.

Explorers and their parents are invited to attend this program which will include a court of Honor, charter presentation, Jamboree color slides and refreshments. The membership at present is 18 Explorers, three adult advisors and eight committeemen.

Activities of the post over the past month include a weekend ski trip to Snow Ridge Ski Center near Rome, and several trips to local ski areas, attendance at a session in city court and tour of Kingston Police Department. A trip was taken to IBM on February 28 where the young men learned a great deal on how a large corporation operates. March 21 the boys took part in the Kingston District Explorer Election Day. On April 3, those elected to the various city offices, will take over from the city officials, and "manage" Kingston for the day.

Projects being planned for April are the formation of a baseball team and rifle team to compete with other posts, and swimming instruction to the Boy Scouts of Troop 12 at the YMCA swimming pool.

Since most of the Explorers are members of the Troop 12 Drum and Bugle Corps, the post has been busy getting ready for the Hudson Valley Field Day. This is the drum corps competition under the auspices of Troop 12.

Twenty-five drum corps from New York and New England are expected to compete for trophies and medals at Kingston Municipal Auditorium 2 p. m. Sunday, April 19. The proceeds of the competition will be used to help to send the Scout musicians to the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Colorado Springs next year. Tickets are available from any Explorer of Post 12, parents of any Scout in Troop 12, the Scout Office at 260 Fair St., Shapiro's at 61 N. Front Street, Otto's at 650 Broadway, Kolts' Toy and Gift Center, 366 Broadway, and Yallums Department Store, 12 Broadway in Kingston, and Vozdik's Sport Shop, 262 Main Street and Saugerties Bus Terminal in Saugerties.

Gives Up Wife, Family For Another, Prison

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Ernest Sears Jr. gave up his first wife, their two children and a new home in Florida for his second wife and a prison term of one to two years.

His lawyer said Tuesday that Sears wanted to "serve his time so he could be with the woman he loved."

Sears, 23, was convicted of bigamy last month. The charge later was reduced to attempting to commit a felony. Sentence was suspended on condition he return to his first wife and support her and their children.

His lawyer, Dan Garfinkle, said Sears went to Winn, Fla., and got a job and a new house.

"But last Thursday he kissed his first wife goodbye and came to Nasville . . . (to be) with his second wife," Garfinkle said.

Dems' Coalition Wins

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A coalition of Democratic factions won control of the city government Tuesday, overthrowing the non-partisan organization which smashed the Pendergast machine in 1940.

The Democratic coalition won five seats on the 8-member City Council and ended 19 years of government by the Citizens Assn., an organization of Democrats, Republicans and independents.

It was the first defeat ever suffered by the association, formed specifically to challenge the underworld-infested machine of the late Tom Pendergast.

STONE RIDGE FUNERAL HOME — An early American stone house at the junction of Routes 209 and 213 in Stone Ridge will open Saturday as the Gazlay Funeral Home, Inc. The house was built in 1798 by Dr. Lewis Hasbrouck and has been converted to a modern funeral home by Morton E. Gazlay of High Falls. (Firestone photo)

Open House Set April 4 and 5 At Funeral Home

A modern funeral home in an early American stone house will be open for inspection by the public Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 4 p. m. Morton E. Gazlay of High Falls has established the Gazlay Funeral Home, Inc., in Stone Ridge at the junction of Routes 209 and 213.

The funeral home is located in a stone house built in 1798 by Dr. Lewis Hasbrouck for his bride, Catherine Decker. Dr. Hasbrouck was the son of Isaac Hasbrouck who was the first Hasbrouck to settle in Stone Ridge. Jean Hasbrouck, great grandfather of Dr. Lewis Hasbrouck, was one of the 12 Huguenot patentees who settled in New Paltz in 1678.

The conversion of the stone house into a funeral home was made quite simple by its many large rooms and colonial beam construction. The many modern facilities added to the colonial atmosphere include:

A public address system to supply music when necessary; two air conditioners to provide comfortable surroundings; a large off street parking lot capable of holding 50 cars or more adjacent to a private road facilitating safe procession forming, and one of the finest displays of merchandise in the area.

Gazlay started his funeral training in September, 1952 at the American Academy of Funeral Service, New York City. While at the academy he was president of his class and maintained a high average in his funeral studies. The school curriculum included many weeks of training in New York City's famous Bellevue Morgue. He was also a member of the Emergency Restorative Art and Plastic Surgery at the school. The team of specialists was maintained by the school for the benefit of the metropolitan hospitals and funeral directors.

For the duration of the school course he was employed by the Riverside Memorial Chapel, Universal Chapel and Frank E. Campbell's "The Funeral Church."

Gazlay completed his funeral training at the J. F. Rice Funeral Home, Johnson City, and received his funeral director's license in November 1954. For the past three and one half years Gazlay has been with the staff of A. Carr & Son, Kingston.

He is a Kingston High School graduate and a letterman in football and basketball. He left Ithaca College to serve in the Marine Corps. Presently Gazlay is a member of the Red Cross board of directors and is chairman for Section III of the current Red Cross fund raising campaign. He is president of the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce and a director of the Kingston Boys Club. He is one of the founders and past president of the Rondout Valley Babe Ruth League and is director of recreation for the Town of Marbletown, a post he has held for the past four years. He is also a member of the Marbletown Reformed Church.

Gazlay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Gazlay of Stone Ridge and is married to the former Jean Kenyon of Dundee. They have three children, Eric, Kevin and Amanda.

Horse Caught on Trestle

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A saddle horse caught its hind legs in the ties of a railroad trestle Tuesday, but a freight train was stopped before it reached the bridge.

A motorist driving by under the bridge alerted the New York Central Railroad. The train was delayed 1½ hours, while 14 men used ropes and planks to free the horse.

Miss Bette Phillips, 17, said she was riding over the bridge in suburban Perinton when an automobile horn frightened her horse and made it slip. She was not hurt. The horse was only bruised.

Lack of Unity Is Real Weakness of NATO, Says Spaak

WASHINGTON (AP) — NATO's Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak says the real weakness of the Atlantic Alliance is a lack of unity among its 15 sovereign members.

Spaak cited as one example France's atomic work, on which he said France is spending billions of francs to find information its allies already know.

Spaak expressed his views in an article in the current issue of the magazine Foreign Affairs. A three-time prime minister of Belgium, Spaak moved to the top NATO staff job in 1957. He is due in Washington today for the Atlantic Pact organization's 10th anniversary meeting.

Spaak called NATO a flourishing organization which he credited with halting Soviet expansion in Europe. However, he said, "common-sense solutions seem to be running head on into stubborn forces of nationalism and individualism within the alliance."

Action Urged Now By War Orphans On College Plans

Now is the time for young men and women to start taking action if they intend to enroll in school or college in the fall under the Federal War Orphan Education Program, according to Charles L. Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and Howard C. Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

The program is for the sons and daughters of war veterans who died of injuries or disease resulting from their military service in World War 1, World War 2, or the Korean Conflict.

"Here are two reasons for early action," they said. "First, students will have plenty of time to arrange for admittance this fall to the college of their choice. Many colleges, particularly the larger ones, are crowded, and a delay to the last minute can result in the disappointment of learning that there's no room. Second, prompt action can result in speedier service with all the preliminaries out of the way before the rush at enrollment time begins."

While there are certain exceptions, a war orphan student generally must be between the ages of 18 and 23 and planning to enroll in an institution of higher learning. He or she may receive up to $110 a month assistance from the Federal Government for each month in the school up to 36 months of schooling.

Interested persons who have any question about their eligibility or desire further information and assistance in applying for this benefit should get in touch as soon as possible with the State Division of Veterans Affairs office at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, or tthe branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

Glasco CAP Meeting

The Saugerties - Glasco CAP Squadron will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Glasco Firehouse for the purpose of recruiting junior and senior members. An invitation has been extended to all youths, male and female, aged 14 to 21 to join as CAP cadets. The youths are invited to train with an auxiliary of the USAF.

Warrant Out for Diane

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Manhattan Beach police are a patient lot, and even if actress Diane Varsi has exiled herself in Vermont, they expect her back here.

She was given a traffic citation March 6 and ordered to post $31 bail. She left without paying the fine or making a court appearance, so a warrant was issued for her arrest Tuesday.

Education Board Meeting

Dr. Earl F. Soper, superintendent of the Kingston Board of Education, said today the board will meet in regular session Thursday, April 9, at 7:30 o'clock.

Horse Caught on Trestle

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — A saddle horse caught its hind legs in the ties of a railroad trestle Tuesday, but a freight train was stopped before it reached the bridge.

A motorist driving by under the bridge alerted the New York Central Railroad. The train was delayed 1½ hours, while 14 men used ropes and planks to free the horse.

Miss Bette Phillips, 17, said she was riding over the bridge in suburban Perinton when an automobile horn frightened her horse and made it slip. She was not hurt. The horse was only bruised.

Lack of Unity Is Real Weakness of NATO, Says Spaak

WASHINGTON (AP) — NATO's Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak says the real weakness of the Atlantic Alliance is a lack of unity among its 15 sovereign members.

Spaak cited as one example France's atomic work, on which he said France is spending billions of francs to find information its allies already know.

Spaak expressed his views in an article in the current issue of the magazine Foreign Affairs. A three-time prime minister of Belgium, Spaak moved to the top NATO staff job in 1957. He is due in Washington today for the Atlantic Pact organization's 10th anniversary meeting.

Spaak called NATO a flourishing organization which he credited with halting Soviet expansion in Europe. However, he said, "common-sense solutions seem to be running head on into stubborn forces of nationalism and individualism within the alliance."

Action Urged Now By War Orphans On College Plans

Now is the time for young men and women to start taking action if they intend to enroll in school or college in the fall under the Federal War Orphan Education Program, according to Charles L. Culver, counselor of the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs and Howard C. Shurter, director of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency.

The program is for the sons and daughters of war veterans who died of injuries or disease resulting from their military service in World War 1, World War 2, or the Korean Conflict.

"Here are two reasons for early action," they said. "First, students will have plenty of time to arrange for admittance this fall to the college of their choice. Many colleges, particularly the larger ones, are crowded, and a delay to the last minute can result in the disappointment of learning that there's no room. Second, prompt action can result in speedier service with all the preliminaries out of the way before the rush at enrollment time begins."

While there are certain exceptions, a war orphan student generally must be between the ages of 18 and 23 and planning to enroll in an institution of higher learning. He or she may receive up to $110 a month assistance from the Federal Government for each month in the school up to 36 months of schooling.

Interested persons who have any question about their eligibility or desire further information and assistance in applying for this benefit should get in touch as soon as possible with the State Division of Veterans Affairs office at the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency at 32 Main Street, Kingston, or tthe branch offices in Ellenville, Highland, Kerhonkson and Saugerties.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ETHICS OF ADVERTISING

What it means to you The Advertiser

How it protects you The Reader

Classified Advertising, as it is known today, is the oldest form of advertising. Its origin being traced back more than 250 years to the early days of newspapers. A time when all other accepted forms of advertising had not yet been devised by man.

Classified Advertising is the only advertising media of the great masses of the public. The place where the people, who make up any community, can for a low cost, make known to thousands their wishes, desires, wants and needs. Because Classified Advertising is the media where people place their OWN advertising . . . it is the media they just naturally turn to when they have a want or need.

Business men, having recognized that Classified Advertising is one of the most powerful of all "Public Announcement" media, also utilize the people's advertising market place to offer for sale their merchandise and services in an effort to assist you, the reader and user of classified, in solving your wants, needs and desires.

Because classified advertising is your advertising media, The Kingston Daily Freeman has established many rules of ethics in advertising governing the placing of advertising. These rules are for the protection of the reader and advertiser alike. They assure the reader of a clean cut, clear and honest presentation of the items advertised. These same rules protect the business concerns against unfair, misleading advertising of the unscrupulous . . . thereby maintaining readership at the highest possible level.

Readership of advertising . . . means results for all. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of the best edited, best checked advertising media in America. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of world leaders in maintaining clean advertising columns.

You, as a reader; and you, as an advertiser, are invited to assist us in maintaining advertising results at the highest possible level by discussing any and all advertising that has not given you an accurate picture of the product or service advertised.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ETHICS OF ADVERTISING

What it means to you The Advertiser

How it protects you The Reader

Classified Advertising, as it is known today, is the oldest form of advertising. Its origin being traced back more than 250 years to the early days of newspapers. A time when all other accepted forms of advertising had not yet been devised by man.

Classified Advertising is the only advertising media of the great masses of the public. The place where the people, who make up any community, can for a low cost, make known to thousands their wishes, desires, wants and needs. Because Classified Advertising is the media where people place their OWN advertising . . . it is the media they just naturally turn to when they have a want or need.

Business men, having recognized that Classified Advertising is one of the most powerful of all "Public Announcement" media, also utilize the people's advertising market place to offer for sale their merchandise and services in an effort to assist you, the reader and user of classified, in solving your wants, needs and desires.

Because classified advertising is your advertising media, The Kingston Daily Freeman has established many rules of ethics in advertising governing the placing of advertising. These rules are for the protection of the reader and advertiser alike. They assure the reader of a clean cut, clear and honest presentation of the items advertised. These same rules protect the business concerns against unfair, misleading advertising of the unscrupulous . . . thereby maintaining readership at the highest possible level.

Readership of advertising . . . means results for all. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of the best edited, best checked advertising media in America. The Kingston Daily Freeman Classified is one of world leaders in maintaining clean advertising columns.

You, as a reader; and you, as an advertiser, are invited to assist us in maintaining advertising results at the highest possible level by discussing any and all advertising that has not given you an accurate picture of the product or service advertised.

Insurance Boost Is GOP Campaign Payoff: Democrat

NEW YORK (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast calls the increases in auto insurance rates, a Republican campaign payoff.

New auto liability rates—averaging an increase of 18.4 per cent in the state—went into effect Tuesday.

Prendergast said in a statement:

"On Oct. 3, 1958, Earl S. MacFadden, chairman of the Insurance Agents for Rockefeller Committee, said in a letter endorsing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's candidacy:

"'We have every assurance that should he (Rockefeller) be elected the auto insurance problems would be ironed out to the satisfaction of the agents as well as the companies at no hardship to the public. We, as agents, have a great stake in this election. Those of us close to the situation feel that the successful future of our business depends on the election of Nelson Rockefeller.'"

Prendergast continued:

"Since large segments of the insurance industry were active in the campaign to elect Nelson Rockefeller governor, and since a letter was widely circulated in the industry during the campaign which left no doubt but that it was motivated by the hope of a political payoff in higher premiums if Gov. Rockefeller were elected, no one could be blamed if they construed from Superintendent (of Insurance Thomas) Thacher's approval of so excessive a rate that a Republican campaign commitment has been fulfilled."

Thacher was appointed by Rockefeller.

Named to School Post

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today appointed David J. Laub of Buffalo to the board of trustees of Buffalo State Teachers College.

Laub, named for a term expiring July 1, 1960, succeeds Reid S. Moule of Buffalo, who has resigned.

Rockefeller also reappointed Clarence W. Skelly of Ogdensburg to the Ogdensburg Bridge Authority for a term expiring Jan. 1, 1964.

Skelly first was named to the authority last December, to succeed the late John C. Tulloch.

Merger Boosts Power of Metro Milk Bargainers

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) The Metropolitan Milk Producers Bargaining Agency boasted new strength today after a merger with the 11 cooperatives of the United Milk Producers of New Jersey.

Metropolitan, in announcing the affiliation Tuesday, said the addition of United's 1,200 dairymen pushed Metropolitan's total membership to 24,000.

Metropolitan, the largest organization representing dairy farmers in the northeast, also gains financially by increased payments from the New York Milkshed's cooperative pool, as payments are based on membership.

A spokesman for Metropolitan said the move, in addition, will mean more bargaining power for the New Jersey groups, who will remain under the United name.

United directors recommended unanimously last February that its individual cooperatives affiliate with Metropolitan.

James A. Young of Angelica, Metropolitan president, said the move enabled his cooperative to post the biggest membership gain of any northeastern milk group in recent years.

More than 90 per cent of Austria is centered around mountain resorts.

Net Income Up

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Ritter Co. Inc., has reported net income of $1,653,788 or $3.34 a share last year, compared with $1,541,940 or $3.11 a share in 1957. The company, which makes dental equipment, announced the earnings Tuesday.

Amsterdam Gets Tip From Maine On New Industry

SANFORD, Maine (AP) — Civic leaders from Amsterdam, N. Y., had some fresh ideas today on how to attract new industries to a city emerging from economic quicksands.

Led by Mayor Thomas Gregg, they huddled Tuesday with a Sanford group and representatives from New Bedford, Mass. in a one-day industrial development clinic.

All three cities have been enmeshed in a common problem: the loss of textile plants and subsequent unemployment.

With the Sanford Chamber of Commerce acting as host, more than two dozen visitors heard how Sanford pulled itself up by its bootstraps.

Sanford officials outlined a plan that has brought in 16 new industries since the Goodall-Sanford Division of Burlington Industries Inc. pulled out in 1953.

Sanford and Amsterdam both had approximately two million square feet of idle mill space. Sanford has filled up all but about 300,000 feet; Amsterdam has some 600,000 feet to utilize.

New Bedford also has several hundred thousand square feet of factory space, plus a large industrial park for which it seeks occupants.

The Sanford plan stresses community backing of the Chamber of Commerce as the moving force and financial aid by the town government for the development program.

Boys' Club Plans Special Events April 6 to 12th

John Holochuck, director of the Kingston Boys' Club, today announced the club is planning a calendar of events to celebrate National Boys' Week from April 6 to 12.

Included in the program will be "Buddy Day," a games carnival night, and an awards banquet.

The celebration will coincide with similar events planned by more than 500 other Boys' clubs of America throughout the nation to mark the 53rd anniversary of the Boys' Club movement.

The avowed purpose of the Kingston Club, and every club in the movement, is "to promote the health, social, educational, vocational and character development of boys throughout the United States."

The local Boys' Club has been serving Kingston youth for the last 12 years and is a member agency of the Kingston Area Community Chest.

County Mental

bers at large, the Rev. Edward Farrelly, Mrs. Peter Corsones and Roger Mabie.

In addition to Sabin, the following composed the steering committee:

Constitution and by-laws — Raymond J. Mino, chairman; Miss Clare Kelly and Father Farrelly.

Nominating — Katherine Murphy, chairman, Harry M. Thayer, Roger Mabie and Mrs. Peter Corsones.

Priority planning — Dr. Link, chairman, Mrs. Dingee and Mrs. Leo Kilcoyne.

To Have Booth

It was voted last night to set up a booth at the Lions Club Exposition which opens next week at the armory. Mrs. Kilcoyne was appointed chairman of the committee for the booth.

Sabin said today that he hopes the next meeting of the association will make the determination to affiliate with the New York State Society for Mental Health.

The president of the newly formed association was recently elected a director of the State Society for Mental Health at its annual meeting in New York City.

He has served as a member of the Citizens Advisory Group of the State Society, as chairman of the task force on mental hospital construction, which is affiliated with the State Society, and a member of the legislative committee of the State Society, which is now advocating a standing committee on mental health in the New York State Legislature.

Consultant Praised

Sabin paid tribute to Miss Charlotte Lee, field consultant for the New York State Society for Mental Health, who has attended all meetings of the local steering committee, serving as a mentor and advisor. He said her services had been most helpful and active.

Sabin said today there will be a minimum of four directors meetings annually.

The field of mental health is a "newly developed and a fascinating one," he stated. "Work and research in this area of medicine is now accepted as necessary almost universally. There is virtually no remaining opposition to the expansion of mental health services—by any individuals or groups of our society today."

Sabin pointed out that in this county there exists a Mental Health Clinic headed by Dr. Maurice Greenhill, supervised on the county governmental level by the Ulster County Mental Health Board with Dr. Edward F. Shea as chairman. "One of the tasks of our associations will be to give aid and advice to the clinic. One of the main avenues which we will follow in this direction will be the dissemination of information which should increase citizen awareness of mental health problems."

Barbara Can Be

Binghamton today by the Investigation Commission's chief counsel, Eliot H. Lumbard.

Thereafter, it was understood, Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet would ask that a date be set for questioning Barbara under oath by the commission. This probably would be in Binghamton, about 16 miles from Apalachin.

The Herald Tribune gave these quotations from Frieberg's report on Barbara:

Heart Sounds Normal

"The heart sounds were of normal quality. The rhythm was regular. There is no evidence of congestive heart failure.

"There is no scientific evidence that interrogation, properly carried out, would endanger Mr. Barbara's cardiac condition....

"It is recommended that Mr. Barbara be instructed in the proper use of nitroglycerine (for his pains). Since Mr. Barbara's pain has occurred only on walking indoors, he should be transported at all times, by car and by wheelchair if necessary, if he is asked to be interrogated.

"Questioning should be limited in duration, with intervals of several days between sessions. Questioning should be carried out with gentleness and with due regard to Mr. Barbara's cardiac condition.

"Interrogation should not be performed in such a manner as to purposely irritate or excite him ...nitroglycerine should be taken if chest pain occurs."

Others Give Findings

The two other heart specialists who examined Barbara turned in their findings Tuesday for scrutiny by Federal Judge James T. Foley at Syracuse.

Drs. J. W. Fred Hiss and Richard N. Lyons, both of Syracuse, were appointed by Foley to determine whether Barbara was well enough to appear for arraignment on charges of income tax evasion. His attorney contended he wasn't.

West Powers

the May 11 Big Four conference at Geneva. But the Western statement Tuesday night specified once more than the Germans should be included in the foreign ministers meeting as "advisers" because the Soviet note had referred merely to representation from East and West Germany.

Some Differences Resolved

A State Department spokesman said that differences among the Western allies were discussed, some were resolved and some will "require more discussion." But he declined to specify what differences he was talking about.

However, it is known, for example, that the United States, France and West Germany believe any deal with the Soviets for limiting military forces of the Western powers in the Soviet bloc in Central Europe must be tied in to an agreement for steps toward German unification. The British government has been interested in the possibility of measures looking toward armed forces limitation even if the bid for unification is rejected by the Soviets.

bridge of the tanker at the time.

The fatal collision came at 3:10 a. m. last Thursday, 22 miles off Atlantic City, N. J., on the fog-bound Atlantic.

The 45-year-old second mate said he first picked up the Grace liner Santa Rosa on the radarscope 20 minutes before that.

Visibility Two Miles

At that time, he said, the tanker was making about 12 or 13 knots on a southerly course. The liner was about eight miles away, dead ahead, coming head-on. Visibility was about two miles.

The tanker captain, Louis Murphy, was below in his cabin. Fully dressed, he lay on his bunk, trying to catch a few winks.

Lupton told the board that the next 20 minutes were so busy he didn't have time to call the captain.

Captain Backs Mate

The tall, husky tanker captain backed up his second mate. "Because of the stress of the action," he said, "there was more need for immediate action than there was to call me."

When Lupton first spotted the liner on the radar he ordered a change of course, to the right.

On Monday, the liner's Captain, Frank S. Siwik, testified that he had ordered a change in course, to the left. He said that if he had turned to the right instead, as is customary when ships approach on collision course, in all probability the collision would have been averted.

Lupton said he gradaully ordered several course changes to the right, but the radar showed the liner still coming on. "I couldn't seem to do anything to get away from him," said Lupton.

Tobacco Stocks Give High Yield, Vulnerable To Bad Medical Reports

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. A New York State reader asks, "I own American T.&T., General Motors, American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers, and Melville Shoe. Do you think my investments are all right? I am retired and living on my income. I am 60 years of age, own my own home, and have $14,000 in savings banks."

A. I think on the whole that you're very well situated. A. T. & T. and Motors need no comment. Melville Shoe had a relatively poor year in 1958 and reduced its dividend. The present payment looks secure and yields 5%. I would hold for yield. My only criticism of your investment position is that you are too heavily represented in tobacco stocks. Your present holdings are worth $6000, which is too big a proportion of your investments.

Tobacco stocks offer a relatively high yield. This is because investors have their fingers crossed, to some extent, as to future unfavorable medical reports on cigarettes. These could, of course, affect future earning power. I would hold American Tobacco. Liggett and Myers gives you a yield of 5.75% at current prices and it would be hard to equal this in another reasonably sound situation. If you can afford some decline in income, I would advise you to sell a substantial part of your L. & M. and put the proceeds into W. T. Grant & Co. The latter is one of the best of the variety chains. The stock is reasonably steady and has good growth prospects. The yield is 4¾%.

YOUNG MAN HAS FINE START

Q. A reader in Kentucky says, "I am 35, unmarried. I have $4000 in savings. My holdings consist of Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone, Pepsi-Cola, Colgate-Palmolive, Parke, Davis and Olin Mathieson. Would I be wise to invest the $4000 or continue to draw interest? I would appreciate your advice as to whether to shift any of my holdings. What should be my plan for the future?"

A. You have certainly made a fine start toward a good financial future. Your list is generally strong. Olin Mathieson is depressed on last year's sharp earnings drop, but I look for recovery here. The outlook for the international oils is clouded by the present world oversupply of oil. Jersey Standard has been hurt by reduction of profits in Venezuela where the government has increased its percentage of the "take" on crude. Jersey is a very strong situation, and I would certainly retain my position here. From a long-term growth standpoint, I can see only limited possibilities for American Telephone, Pepsi-Cola and Colgate.

I don't advise shifting these good stocks at present. I would however, point my future purchase toward growth alone, and disregard immediate income. I would add a chemical stock, such as Dow or Reichhold, Hagan or American Cyanamid, that can be expected to grow at a faster rate than the economy as a whole. In this category I would also include research stocks as Corning Glass and Minnesota Mining. I believe you have the nucleus of a good list.

Savings Should Be Held

At present your savings account represents a moderate cash reserve and I suggest you leave it undisturbed for two reasons. It can tide you over some unforseen emergency and prevent your having to sell stocks in a downside market. It can also be utilized to good advantage if a better buying opportunity should develop within the next year or two. Thanks for your closing sentiments. I shall be glad to hear from you at any time.

Split Candidates Mentioned

Q. From Pennsylvania, "I own American Agricultural Chemical which has just announced a stock split. I have done very well with this stock. Can you mention some other issues which may split their shares?"

A. This is going to be big year for splits. In many cases, future action along these lines has been well discounted. My list of candidates for future splits would include Air Reduction, Atlas Powder, Ingersoll-Rand, Central & South West, Corning Glass, Firestone, General Mills, Goodrich, Goodyear, Minnesota Mining, Pennsalt Chemicals, and Union Carbide.

County Mental

bers at large, the Rev. Edward Farrelly, Mrs. Peter Corsones and Roger Mabie.

In addition to Sabin, the following composed the steering committee:

Constitution and by-laws — Raymond J. Mino, chairman; Miss Clare Kelly and Father Farrelly.

Nominating — Katherine Murphy, chairman, Harry M. Thayer, Roger Mabie and Mrs. Peter Corsones.

Priority planning — Dr. Link, chairman, Mrs. Dingee and Mrs. Leo Kilcoyne.

To Have Booth

It was voted last night to set up a booth at the Lions Club Exposition which opens next week at the armory. Mrs. Kilcoyne was appointed chairman of the committee for the booth.

Sabin said today that he hopes the next meeting of the association will make the determination to affiliate with the New York State Society for Mental Health.

The president of the newly formed association was recently elected a director of the State Society for Mental Health at its annual meeting in New York City.

He has served as a member of the Citizens Advisory Group of the State Society, as chairman of the task force on mental hospital construction, which is affiliated with the State Society, and a member of the legislative committee of the State Society, which is now advocating a standing committee on mental health in the New York State Legislature.

Consultant Praised

Sabin paid tribute to Miss Charlotte Lee, field consultant for the New York State Society for Mental Health, who has attended all meetings of the local steering committee, serving as a mentor and advisor. He said her services had been most helpful and active.

Sabin said today there will be a minimum of four directors meetings annually.

The field of mental health is a "newly developed and a fascinating one," he stated. "Work and research in this area of medicine is now accepted as necessary almost universally. There is virtually no remaining opposition to the expansion of mental health services—by any individuals or groups of our society today."

Sabin pointed out that in this county there exists a Mental Health Clinic headed by Dr. Maurice Greenhill, supervised on the county governmental level by the Ulster County Mental Health Board with Dr. Edward F. Shea as chairman. "One of the tasks of our associations will be to give aid and advice to the clinic. One of the main avenues which we will follow in this direction will be the dissemination of information which should increase citizen awareness of mental health problems."

Barbara Can Be

Binghamton today by the Investigation Commission's chief counsel, Eliot H. Lumbard.

Thereafter, it was understood, Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet would ask that a date be set for questioning Barbara under oath by the commission. This probably would be in Binghamton, about 16 miles from Apalachin.

The Herald Tribune gave these quotations from Frieberg's report on Barbara:

Heart Sounds Normal

"The heart sounds were of normal quality. The rhythm was regular. There is no evidence of congestive heart failure.

"There is no scientific evidence that interrogation, properly carried out, would endanger Mr. Barbara's cardiac condition....

"It is recommended that Mr. Barbara be instructed in the proper use of nitroglycerine (for his pains). Since Mr. Barbara's pain has occurred only on walking indoors, he should be transported at all times, by car and by wheelchair if necessary, if he is asked to be interrogated.

"Questioning should be limited in duration, with intervals of several days between sessions. Questioning should be carried out with gentleness and with due regard to Mr. Barbara's cardiac condition.

"Interrogation should not be performed in such a manner as to purposely irritate or excite him ...nitroglycerine should be taken if chest pain occurs."

Others Give Findings

The two other heart specialists who examined Barbara turned in their findings Tuesday for scrutiny by Federal Judge James T. Foley at Syracuse.

Drs. J. W. Fred Hiss and Richard N. Lyons, both of Syracuse, were appointed by Foley to determine whether Barbara was well enough to appear for arraignment on charges of income tax evasion. His attorney contended he wasn't.

West Powers

the May 11 Big Four conference at Geneva. But the Western statement Tuesday night specified once more than the Germans should be included in the foreign ministers meeting as "advisers" because the Soviet note had referred merely to representation from East and West Germany.

Some Differences Resolved

A State Department spokesman said that differences among the Western allies were discussed, some were resolved and some will "require more discussion." But he declined to specify what differences he was talking about.

However, it is known, for example, that the United States, France and West Germany believe any deal with the Soviets for limiting military forces of the Western powers in the Soviet bloc in Central Europe must be tied in to an agreement for steps toward German unification. The British government has been interested in the possibility of measures looking toward armed forces limitation even if the bid for unification is rejected by the Soviets.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market advanced in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The list advanced irregularly with most motors, steels and selected issues improving.

International Business Machines was up about 13 points in continued response to its stock split proposal. Philadelphia & Reading recouped about 3 points from recent losses. Thiokol backtracked a couple of points. Zenith added more than 2.

H. L. Green continued under pressure, dropping a point.

Chrysler and American Motors rose about a point each to pace the automotive group. General Motors was ahead fractionally. Ford was off slightly.

Republic Steel, up more than a point, was about the best of the major steels. American Telephone added about 2. Gains of a point or so were made by Polaroid, Goodyear and International Telephone.

U.S. government bonds were steady.

My holdings consist of Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone, Pepsi-Cola, Colgate-Palmolive, Parke, Davis and Olin Mathieson. Would I be wise to invest the $4000 or continue to draw interest? I would appreciate your advice as to whether to shift any of my holdings. What should be my plan for the future?"

A. You have certainly made a fine start toward a good financial future. Your list is generally strong. Olin Mathieson is depressed on last year's sharp earnings drop, but I look for recovery here. The outlook for the international oils is clouded by the present world oversupply of oil. Jersey Standard has been hurt by reduction of profits in Venezuela where the government has increased its percentage of the "take" on crude. Jersey is a very strong situation, and I would certainly retain my position here. From a long-term growth standpoint, I can see only limited possibilities for American Telephone, Pepsi-Cola and Colgate.

I don't advise shifting these good stocks at present. I would however, point my future purchase toward growth alone, and disregard immediate income. I would add a chemical stock, such as Dow or Reichhold, Hagan or American Cyanamid, that can be expected to grow at a faster rate than the economy as a whole. In this category I would also include research stocks as Corning Glass and Minnesota Mining. I believe you have the nucleus of a good list.

Savings Should Be Held

At present your savings account represents a moderate cash reserve and I suggest you leave it undisturbed for two reasons. It can tide you over some unforseen emergency and prevent your having to sell stocks in a downside market. It can also be utilized to good advantage if a better buying opportunity should develop within the next year or two. Thanks for your closing sentiments. I shall be glad to hear from you at any time.

Split Candidates Mentioned

Q. From Pennsylvania, "I own American Agricultural Chemical which has just announced a stock split. I have done very well with this stock. Can you mention some other issues which may split their shares?"

A. This is going to be big year for splits. In many cases, future action along these lines has been well discounted. My list of candidates for future splits would include Air Reduction, Atlas Powder, Ingersoll-Rand, Central & South West, Corning Glass, Firestone, General Mills, Goodrich, Goodyear, Minnesota Mining, Pennsalt Chemicals, and Union Carbide.

Dulles' Technique Sorely Missed in Soviet Crisis

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The absence of John Foster Dulles, ill with cancer, has left a vacuum in Washington. At this time of trouble with the Soviet Union he could have been making the most use of his special technique.

That technique was to hold news conferences where he could do a number of jobs at once: Get across American viewpoints, state foreign policy positions, float trial balloons, answer the Soviets, try to put them on the defensive.

Secretary of State Dulles held more news conferences than any other member of President Eisenhower's Cabinet.

Herter Reluctant

Undersecretary Christian A. Herter — the man who is taking Dulles' place—has not held a news conference since Dulles went to the hospital Feb. 9.

It is understandable that Herter should be reluctant to sound off. Although Dulles was in the hospital, Eisenhower consulted with him frequently and Herter could hardly try to run the show.

Eisenhower relied on Dulles in foreign affairs to an amazing degree, and delegated to him enormous power and responsibility, particularly as a spokesman.

Eisenhower's news conferences were never the same as Dulles' if only because he lacked Dulles' detailed knowledge of events abroad. But he also lacked Dulles' training and skill in language.

Ike Becomes Forceful

Eisenhower, with Dulles no longer at his side, in recent weeks has asserted more leadership in foreign affairs than when Dulles was in there carrying the ball. The President has been increasingly forceful.

Anyone who ever attended a Dulles news conference could not but admit he was a master at using the precise phrase to get the exact effect he sought.

A great deal which could be said about the Berlin crisis is going unsaid because Dulles isn't there, Herter has held no news conferences and Eisenhower's news conferences provide about all the administration is saying on Berlin.

Conference Good Example

The recent conference here between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan is a good example of how Dulles' presence on the scene is missed.

The British managed to pump out to correspondents—or to selected correspondents—the British viewpoint. The American viewpoint in the talks with Macmillan was much less publicized.

Dulles, if he had been around, would have taken care of that.

Ironically, it is possible the Soviets have agreed to a foreign ministers meeting on Berlin — preliminary to a summit meeting —because it seems unlikely Dulles could attend it.

Before the Soviets ever created the Berlin crisis they were calling on Eisenhower early in 1958 to meet them at the summit.

Reds Oppose Dulles

They had long correspondence with the President about it. But early in that letter-writing campaign the then Premier Bulganin made it plain the Soviets did not want a foreign ministers meeting with Dulles.

Bulganin didn't mention Dulles by name but even so he was almost insulting in the way he told Eisenhower that trying to do business with Dulles, from the Soviet viewpoint, was no good.

It was only in March — after Dulles' condition had been diagnosed as cancer and it seemed probable he would never return to his post — that the Soviets agreed to a foreign ministers meeting before holding a summit conference.

Gambling Case

Resignation Of Chief Is Taken Now

PIERMONT, N. Y. (AP)—The resignation of acting Police Chief John J. Smith was accepted by the village board Tuesday night, only a few hours after he appeared before the State Investigation Commission in New York City.

The resignation had been submitted before and refused.

Smith, a former plainclothesman in New York City, was questioned by the commission about his knowledge of gambling premises raided last Wednesday night.

The raid was made by county and state law enforcement agencies, without the knowledge of the 33-year-old chief. It netted 32 card players.

Smith refused to discuss his testimony before the commission.

Last week, the village board technically refused to accept the resignation because it was not formally given to the village clerk.

In his letter of resignation Smith said he had "nothing to hide and nothing to be ashamed of." It was accepted with regret.

Investigation Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said he would not repeat any of Smith's testimony before the commission.

"I am not going to comment on any part of the case" he said.

The commission said Smith will be questioned again next Monday.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I wonder how many of the ladies remember the live shows they used to have at the old Opera House uptown. Especially the afternoon shows would be tear jerkers. My grandmother used to take me when I was little, and I remember hearing ladies crying all over the place. When the lights would go on and everyone walked down the steps and out in the bright sunshine out of the theatre, everybody's eyes would be red from crying. One friend would say to another tearfully, "Wasn't that wonderful?" or "Just like real life." They all had such a good time crying. That was before tranquilizers. Those were the days of bitter spring tonics.

They may have horror comics now and TV horror pictures but they had some good ones then too. I remember when I was little and stood outside by my father's drug store down at 46 Broadway next to McTague's News Store the men were talking about a long horror show or silent picture they saw. It seems, that the show came out long after the last trolley went to the car-barn for the night and everyone had to walk home. Autos were not so popular then. They were used for business or Sunday afternoon drives. The show had been such a horror that men were scared to go home alone and kept looking in back of them, especially through dark alleys and streets. Do you think that was Dante's Inferno at the Old Opera House? Can you imagine paying to have yourself scared to death or to cry your heart out and call it entertainment. People are still doing it. People do not change, but science changes their form of entertainment although basically it remains the same.

How many folks remember the old movie, "Little Old New York" with Alice Faye, and Fred MacMurray. It had the story of Robert Fulton and the trip his Clermont took up the Hudson River to Albany. These and other historical films are shown at the New York Historical Society at Central Park West at 77th Street, New York City on Saturday afternoons at 2 p. m. Perhaps such a film could be shown here during the "Year of History," for educational purposes.

What would be a magnificent sight would be a race of two handsome steamboats like old times. It was dangerous and no doubt exciting. Such a race no doubt would bring thousands of visitors to the Hudson River shores and cities. The "News From Home" spring 1959 edition wrote up an article called "Hudson River Racers" with illustrations. Front cover of this Home Insurance Co. magazine has a remarkable fine colored print of the Mary Powell worth framing.

The magazine tells of "The first steamboat race on the Hudson River, and probably in the world, occurred on July 27, 1811, between Robert Fulton's North River Steamboat Clermont with Captain Bartholomew, and opposition steamboat "Hope" which had just been launched the previous March 19, some 148 years ago this month. Captain Bunker's Hope, took the lead from Albany down the Hudson. Two miles above City of Hudson, the vessels collided, although little damage was done. During the heated verbal conversation, Capt. Bartholomew challenged Bunker to a race for any number of miles for $2,000. Hope's Captain Bunker refused. Just the same, both boats made the trip down to New York in less than 30 hours, pacing each other. This happend just four years after the world had laughed at Fulton and called the Clermont "Fulton's Folly" and said, it could not be done.

CELLAR SHELTER — Practicing what he preaches, Civil Defense Director Leo A. Hoegh has built this cellar shelter to protect against fallout. Stocked with food, water, first-aid kit, blankets and other essentials, it is being visited by his daughter, Janice, 10, left; his wife, Mary Louise, and Susan Boren, 10, a neighbor.

Carpets Out

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Members of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church considered the use of carpeting in their new contemporary church, but the architect, William P. Wenzler, objected. "The church places great demands and responsibility on its members," Wenzler said. "This fact is likely to be forgotten in a plush carpet atmosphere." His view prevailed. The floors will remain bare.

Wagner Proposes First $2 Billion Budget for Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) —Mayor Robert F. Wagner today proposed a record budget of $2,173,113,999 for the city's expenses during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The figure tops the current budget by $177,640,090 and is the first one over two billion dollars.

The budget was presented to the Board of Estimate, the upper branch of the city's legislative setup. It is separate from the capital improvements budget, which is for construction and similar long-term projects.

Eliminate Many Jobs

The budget came one day after a throng of city employes demonstrated outside City Hall to protest elimination or reduction of pay increases they sought.

In addition to easing off on pay increases, the proposed budget eliminates many jobs, curtails some services and effects other economies. Most of the eliminated positions on the payroll are now vacant or filled on a temporary basis.

In a message accompanying his budget, Wagner again blamed the Republican at the state Capitol at Albany for his austerity program.

Gov. Rockefeller and the GOP-controlled Legislature recently rejected some major parts of the Democratic city's proposals for local taxing powers.

Tax Program Rejected

Wagner said the fiscal program he presented to the Legislature was "to tax our citizens to pay for the services they demand and are willing to pay for."

"The Republicans," the mayor said, "ruled that they and they alone would dictate the manner in which our citizens were to pay for the services they desire.

"With typical disregard for the will of our people, they embarked upon a program which benefited the bankers, the brokers and the bookmakers. Our proposals which would have levied taxes upon stock market operations and bank customers, and a service charge on horse race betters were brushed aside."

Seeks 'True Home Rule'

The city's betting proposal had been that the state legalize off-track betting on horse races, and have the city and state share in taxation on the betting. Proponents of the proposal contended that in addition to raising revenue it would drive illegal bookmakers out of business. New York State tracks have pari-mutuel betting. Other major tax proposals were to tax stock transfer and bank checks.

Wagner pledged in his message that he will seek "true home rule" for the city instead of "remote control by persons unfamiliar with our problems."

As a result of the Legislature's action, Wagner said, it was necessary to make cuts of $29,800,000 throughout the budget. This included a cut of $11,700,000 in proposed pay increases for teachers, police, firemen and correction officers. These classes of employes get increases totaling $18,500,000 in the proposed budget.

Holds Union Funds

Meany Protests Bank's Article Supporting R-T-W

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany has protested against an article put out by the First National City Bank of New York favoring so-called "right to work" laws.

The article appeared in the August issue of the bank's monthly bulletin on business and economic conditions. The article placed special stress on abolishing compulsory unionism as a condition of employment.

The bank is reputedly the country's largest custodian of union pension funds. There was a strong move among some New York unions to withdraw the tens of millions in pension funds from the bank. But a compromise was reached, and the bank agreed to publish Meany's statement as a supplement to its next bulletin, which goes out Thursday. The original article will also be included, in an appendix.

Meany said he had no quarrel with the right of bankers, as individuals, to express their views. But he said he was "strongly of the opinion that a bank has no right, as a public institution, to involve itself and the funds of its depositors in legislative debate."

PSC Admits Mistake On Bus for Commuters

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission said today it had, by mistake, given too much leeway to a charter bus service that a commuters' club uses between Yonkers and Manhattan.

But the PSC let the line keep operating and gave it a chance to prove, "in a proper proceeding," whether it could meet the legal requirements for continuing service. The company was given until April 15 to apply for such authority.

The case involves Monaco Stages Inc., whose buses pick up members of the Lincoln Commuters Club at three points in Yonkers every morning and take them to Manhattan. They make the return trip in the evening.

The club was formed in January, 1958, after the New York Central discontinued passenger service on the Putnam division.

T. T. Wiley, New York City traffic commissioner, asked the commission to review Monaco's operating rights "in the light of New York City traffic regulations." Police have been tagging Monaco buses.

Clayton R. Smith Retires After 39 Years With C-H

Clayton R. Smith of 70 Elmendorf Street, assistant to the district superintendent of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, begins his retirement today after more than 39 years of service.

Smith attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He had been associated with the former New York and Queens Electric and Power Company and the former New York Edison Company before joining the Kingston Gas and Electric company, a predecessor of Central Hudson, in October 1919.

He served in various engineering capacities until he went on leave of absence in 1942 to handle defense assignments with an ordnance works in Texas and with the War Production Board in Washington.

Smith returned to Kingston in 1945 and was named assistant electric distribution superintendent in 1951. He was advanced to distribution superintendent in 1954 and was appointed assistant to the Upper Hudson district superintendent in 1956.

Smith is a member of the Central Hudson Employes Quarter Century Club.

Hits GOP Disregard

Wagner Proposes First $2 Billion Budget for Gotham

NEW YORK (AP) —Mayor Robert F. Wagner today proposed a record budget of $2,173,113,999 for the city's expenses during the fiscal year starting July 1.

The figure tops the current budget by $177,640,090 and is the first one over two billion dolllars.

The budget was presented to the Board of Estimate, the upper branch of the city's legislative setup. It is separate from the capital improvements budget, which is for construction and similar long-term projects.

Eliminate Many Jobs

The budget came one day after a throng of city employes demonstrated outside City Hall to protest elimination or reduction of pay increases they sought.

In addition to easing off on pay increases, the proposed budget eliminates many jobs, curtails some services and effects other economies. Most of the eliminated positions on the payroll are now vacant or filled on a temporary basis.

In a message accompanying his budget, Wagner again blamed the Republican at the state Capitol at Albany for his austerity program.

Gov. Rockefeller and the GOP-controlled Legislature recently rejected some major parts of the Democratic city's proposals for local taxing powers.

Tax Program Rejected

Wagner said the fiscal program he presented to the Legislature was "to tax our citizens to pay for the services they demand and are willing to pay for."

"The Republicans," the mayor said, "ruled that they and they alone would dictate the manner in which our citizens were to pay for the services they desire.

"With typical disregard for the will of our people, they embarked upon a program which benefited the bankers, the brokers and the bookmakers. Our proposals which would have levied taxes upon stock market operations and bank customers, and a service charge on horse race betters were brushed aside."

Seeks 'True Home Rule'

The city's betting proposal had been that the state legalize off-track betting on horse races, and have the city and state share in taxation on the betting. Proponents of the proposal contended that in addition to raising revenue it would drive illegal bookmakers out of business. New York State tracks have pari-mutuel betting. Other major tax proposals were to tax stock transfer and bank checks.

Wagner pledged in his message that he will seek "true home rule" for the city instead of "remote control by persons unfamiliar with our problems."

As a result of the Legislature's action, Wagner said, it was necessary to make cuts of $29,800,000 throughout the budget. This included a cut of $11,700,000 in proposed pay increases for teachers, police, firemen and correction officers. These classes of employes get increases totaling $18,500,000 in the proposed budget.

Meany Protests Bank's Article Supporting R-T-W

NEW YORK (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany has protested against an article put out by the First National City Bank of New York favoring so-called "right to work" laws.

The article appeared in the August issue of the bank's monthly bulletin on business and economic conditions. The article placed special stress on abolishing compulsory unionism as a condition of employment.

The bank is reputedly the country's largest custodian of union pension funds. There was a strong move among some New York unions to withdraw the tens of millions in pension funds from the bank. But a compromise was reached, and the bank agreed to publish Meany's statement as a supplement to its next bulletin, which goes out Thursday. The original article will also be included, in an appendix.

Meany said he had no quarrel with the right of bankers, as individuals, to express their views. But he said he was "strongly of the opinion that a bank has no right, as a public institution, to involve itself and the funds of its depositors in legislative debate."

Clayton R. Smith Retires After 39 Years With C-H

Clayton R. Smith of 70 Elmendorf Street, assistant to the district superintendent of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, begins his retirement today after more than 39 years of service.

Smith attended Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. He had been associated with the former New York and Queens Electric and Power Company and the former New York Edison Company before joining the Kingston Gas and Electric company, a predecessor of Central Hudson, in October 1919.

He served in various engineering capacities until he went on leave of absence in 1942 to handle defense assignments with an ordnance works in Texas and with the War Production Board in Washington.

Smith returned to Kingston in 1945 and was named assistant electric distribution superintendent in 1951. He was advanced to distribution superintendent in 1954 and was appointed assistant to the Upper Hudson district superintendent in 1956.

Smith is a member of the Central Hudson Employes Quarter Century Club.

PSC Admits Mistake On Bus for Commuters

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Public Service Commission said today it had, by mistake, given too much leeway to a charter bus service that a commuters' club uses between Yonkers and Manhattan.

But the PSC let the line keep operating and gave it a chance to prove, "in a proper proceeding," whether it could meet the legal requirements for continuing service. The company was given until April 15 to apply for such authority.

The case involves Monaco Stages Inc., whose buses pick up members of the Lincoln Commuters Club at three points in Yonkers every morning and take them to Manhattan. They make the return trip in the evening.

The club was formed in January, 1958, after the New York Central discontinued passenger service on the Putnam division.

T. T. Wiley, New York City traffic commissioner, asked the commission to review Monaco's operating rights "in the light of New York City traffic regulations." Police have been tagging Monaco buses.

Peiping Accused Of Challenging Nehru's Honesty

NEW DELHI (AP)—India's deputy foreign minister today accused the Communist Chinese Embassy in New Delhi of challenging Prime Minister Nehru's "integrity and honesty" in the Tibetan revolt.

The government speaker in Parliament, Mrs. Lakshmi Menon, said it was "highly improper" for the Embassy to distribute a statement that the trading town of Kalimpong in northeast India was the "command center of the Tibetan revolt" after Nehru had denied the allegation.

Nehru is returning to New Delhi Thursday with relations between India and Red China approaching a delicate pitch.

Another touchy diplomatic situation loomed for Nehru with reports that the Dalai Lama and members of his Cabinet, who were replaced by the Chinese Communists, might be heading for India.

The 25-year-old Dalai Lama, worshipped by Tibetans as their spiritual and political leader, disappeared from his capital in Lhasa shortly before or during the fighting against the Communist occupation forces. The Communists said the rebels kidnaped him. Anti-Communist Tibetans in Kalimpong reported he fled to lead the rebellion from southern Tibet.

ASLEEP IN THE PULPIT

A recent convention of churchmen, purporting to represent millions of Protestant church members, resolved that we come to terms with the Kremlin, recognize Red China, and admit her to the United Nations.

As an antidote for this poison, I recommend the words of Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, Chaplain of the United States Senate:

MR. HUTTON

"Some church leaders are more concerned about the faults of democracy than they are about the ominous plottings of the sinister system constantly growing in strength, fantastically dedicated to the destruction of democracy, faults and all.

"The results of the sleeping tablets concocted by doctors of divinity to lull the church to slumber in this fearful day of destiny are plainly indicated in the recent report of certain churchmen meeting in Cleveland.

"Their recommendations regarding communism are like lifting an umbrella with a cyclone headed toward those singing complacently, 'WHAT CAN SHAKE OUR SURE REPOSE?'

"History repeats itself. There were religious leaders during our American Revolution who . . . were morally asleep to the implications of the Revolution and agitated for appeasement with the British forces.

"There are some in the present global conflict who might profit by reading the correspondence of George Washington with preachers who wanted nothing but peace, even if it was based on supine surrender to tyranny.

"Will Rogers once said that what Americans needed most was to have their speedometers taken away, and exchanged for alarm clocks."

Four Are Feared Dead in Tanker Plane Explosion

KILLEEN, Tex. (AP)—An Air Force tanker plane crashed and exploded during a thunderstorm near here Tuesday night, killing all aboard.

Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., south of here, said the four-engined jet normally carried a crew of four.

It refused to identify the crew members or give any other details.

The plane was on a flight from Bergstrom, where it is based and used to refuel B52s in flight, and was scheduled to return to Bergstrom.

A. W. Stewart, KLEN newsman here, said the plane burned fiercely, consuming an acre or two of cedar brush.

The plane went down in rough country nine miles east of here in central Texas.

Stewart said the plane wreckage was charred and strewn over a wide area. He said there were bodies, but they "are torn up and burned so badly it's impossible to tell how many."

Tired of Diapers, Goes on Crime Spree

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A 12-year-old boy told police he was driven into a three-week crime spree by a desire to change addresses instead of diapers.

The youngster, picked up after running away from his home in nearby Altadena, admitted committing some 20 residential burglaries in which more than $200 was taken.

He told juvenile officers he wanted to go to Pennsylvania to look for his father, whom he hadn't seen in five years. There are four younger children in his family, he said, and his mother is expecting again.

Faced with this situation, he decided: "I didn't want to change any more diapers."

Seized Aniline Stock Will Not Be Sold: Rogers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers told Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) Tuesday there will be no private or negotiated sale of the government's stock in General Aniline and Film Corp.

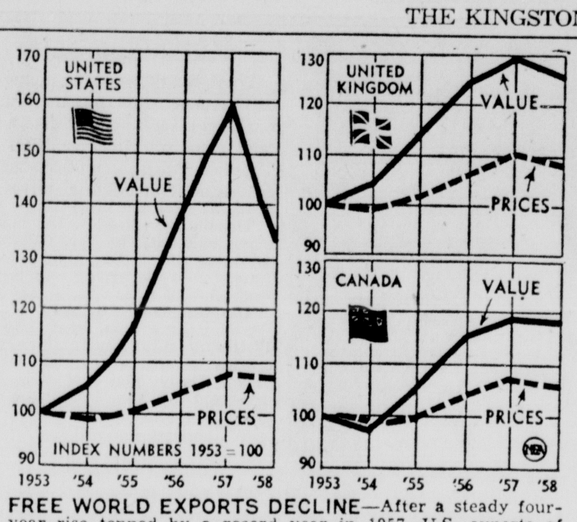
Also, he said in a letter to Johnston, the stock will not be offered for public bidding until prospective investors have been fully informed through a prospectus of the value of the government holdings, estimated at more than 100 million dollars.

The government seized the majority of General Aniline's stock as German-owned during World War II. For some seven years, it has been defending suits brought by I. G. Chemie (Interhandel) Swiss Banking Company which claims ownership of the stock.

Since Chemie has fresh litigation now pending in the federal district court here, Rogers said there is no present prospect of any early sale of the seized shares. Existing law forbids sale of enemy assets against which claims are pending.

Buffalo Planner Dies

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Daniel McKenzie, chairman of the city planning commission for the past seven years, died Tuesday at a hospital. He was 72.



FREE WORLD EXPORTS DECLINE—After a steady four-year rise topped by a record year in 1957, U.S. exports of civilian goods declined in 1958 as did those of Canada and the United Kingdom (see Newschart). Together with France and West Germany, these countries accounted for nearly half of total world exports (excluding Soviet bloc and China mainland). France's exports declined slightly while West Germany's showed the only increase among the five. U.S. shipments were still one-third higher in '58 than in '53.

Heads Buffalo District

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Col. Earle B. Butler assumed duties as Buffalo district engineer of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers today.

Butler, who recently completed engineer duty in Korea, succeeds Col. Loren W. Olmstead, who is retiring.

The Buffalo district extends from Sandusky, Ohio, to the international boundary line on the St. Lawrence River.

This hand was actually played one year ago today. Take a look at the North and South hands only. Study the bidding and plan your play.

South did just that and took quite a while to see that his best chance was to win the opening heart lead, lay down the ace of spades and go after the diamonds. This play would work against many heart-diamond combinations including the actual East-West holdings but see what happened.

The ace of trumps was played and Sally Johnson of Westport, Conn., who sat West dropped the king. Now South changed his plans. He was going to make seven. The ten of trumps was led and allowed to ride. With a murmur of "April Fool" Sally took the jack of trumps and set the hand with the queen of hearts.

Sally had figured out the whole play while South was going through his calculations and while South might well have gone up with the queen of spades and made all the tricks I can't blame him for falling for Sally's play even on the First of April.

Scores Acme Markets

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A state AFL official has accused Acme Stores of unfair labor practices in connection with the strike by Retail Food Clerks Local 1245.

State AFL President Louis P. Marciante said Tuesday that Acme has refused to meet with union representatives since the strike against the company's 133 markets in New Jersey and Staten Island, N. Y., began March 26.

Marciante said Acme had been unfair by instructing nonstriking supervisory personnel to circulate petitions among the strikers urging a back-to-work movement.

The strike began after the union and company failed to agree on a new contract to replace one that expired March 1.

Building for Visitors

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP) —Th State Power Authority made life a little easier for sidewalk superintendents today with the opening of the visitors' building at the Niagara Power Project.

Visitors to the 720 million dollar hydro-electric project were provided with televised vantage-point from which to watch the construction.

Two strategically located television cameras swept sections of the project and flashed scenes to six receivers in the building.

Colored slides and films also were shown periodically and a 20-by-30 foot scale model of the entire project was set up in the main hall of the building.

Father of 5 Drowns

BOUCKVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—A father of five was drowned Tuesday when he fell into a 6,000-gallon tank of refrigerated brine at a dairy in this Madison County village.

State Police said John L. Litz, 33, of Waterville, was pouring calcium chloride through a two-by-two foot opening into the tank when he slipped and fell through.

The tank is part of the cooling system at the Muller Dairy.

Litz was co-owner of a refrigeration company at Clinton.

Record Steel Output

LACKAWANNA, N. Y. (AP)—A record 512,000 tons of steel was produced by the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant here last month, the Buffalo Courier-Express said today.

The previous monthly record for the plant, the third largest mill in the world, was 496,000 tons, set in 1955.

Seized Aniline Stock Will Not Be Sold: Rogers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers told Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) Tuesday there will be no private or negotiated sale of the government's stock in General Aniline and Film Corp.

Also, he said in a letter to Johnston, the stock will not be offered for public bidding until prospective investors have been fully informed through a prospectus of the value of the government holdings, estimated at more than 100 million dollars.

The government seized the majority of General Aniline's stock as German-owned during World War II. For some seven years, it has been defending suits brought by I. G. Chemie (Interhandel) Swiss Banking Company which claims ownership of the stock.

Since Chemie has fresh litigation now pending in the federal district court here, Rogers said there is no present prospect of any early sale of the seized shares. Existing law forbids sale of enemy assets against which claims are pending.

Former Resident to Preach at First Baptist April 12; His School Choir Also Is Coming

A former resident of Kingston, who is now president of the Hinckley School in Hinckley, Me., will be guest preacher during the Sunday morning, April 12, worship service at First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway.

He is Dr. Kenneth Lloyd Garrison, son of F. Leslie Garrison of 154 Fair Street and the late Mrs. Leita Garrison.

The appearance of Dr. Garrison in Kingston also will be featured by the personal appearance of his school's 30-voice choir which is making Kingston its first stop on the 1959 tour of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The Hinckley Chapel Choir, members whose ages average 15 years, will present a concert of sacred music Sunday night, April 12, during a special 7:30 o'clock service at First Baptist Church, it has been announced by the Rev. Harold J. Stephanz, pastor of the local church.

Robert S. Stetson, choirmaster, will lead the choir. Mrs. Arthur T. Pedersen, organist of First Baptist Church, will be at the console.

The Hinckley Choir, in constant demand for service clubs, fraternal groups, schools and churches in Maine, has a repertoire of about 75 numbers. This year's second annual tour is completely underwritten by the Hinckley School.

DR. KENNETH L. GARRISON

After its appearance in Kingston April 12, the choir will sing at the First Congregational Church, Woodbury, Conn., on April 14; First Congregational Church, Guilford, Conn., on April 15; the Park Street Baptist Church, Framingham, Mass., on April 16 and at the United Baptist Church, Saco, Me., on April 17.

Miss Jane Hinckley, sister of the founder of Hinckley School, was the first choir leader. Continuously through the years the size and repertoire of the choir has increased. The choir is heard each Sunday afternoon during services at Moody Chapel in Hinckley. They sing both A Cappella and with accompaniment.

Dr. Garrison, brother of Mrs. Irwin J. Thomas of Sunset Park, was installed as president of the Hinckley School Jan. 12, 1958, after serving 18 years in the Baptist Church ministry from Pennsylvania to Maine.

A native of Haines Falls, Dr. Garrison was educated in Kingston schools and later at Georgetown College, Crozer Theological Seminary, Pennsylvania University and Temple University.

He culminated his 18 years in the ministry after serving the historic Baptist Church of Brookline, Mass. Before that he was pastor of the First Welsh Baptist Church, Taylor, Pa., the Hatboro Baptist Church, Hatboro, Pa. and the First Baptist Church of Waterville, Me.

The Hinckley School, founded in 1889, has its own elementary and high school facilities, comprises more than 3,000 acres of land on the Kennebec River and is fully accredited by the Maine Department of Education.

The school itself is non-sectarian and has a large farm, including cattle and gardens which supply the school. Recreational facilities are many with a large swimming pool, tennis courts and a nine-hole golf course. More than 50 homes and other buildings are utilized in housing and educating the youth of the school. Among these are two fully equipped and diversified libraries and two museums.

Dr. Garrison will be accompanied to Kingston by his wife, the former Miss Emily M. Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Mary Rogers and the late Williams Rogers, and their daughter, Diane, who is a student at Hinckley.

A SHOWER BEYOND HER MEANS

Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much like your opinion on the following matter: My daughter is going to be married shortly and a friend of hers who is to be the maid of honor at her wedding is planning to give a large shower for her. Last night she came over to discuss the shower with me and asked me to contribute fifty dollars toward it as she couldn't afford to give it alone. I was so taken back by that for a moment I was speechless. As this is the first wedding in my family I am not familiar with present-day shower giving and I would like to know if the mother of the bride is supposed to contribute anything toward the shower.

Answer: Very definitely not! As she is giving the shower, she should pay for it herself and not expect you to contribute toward the expense of it. In fact, I have never heard of anything so high handed before. She should either give a shower of the size she can afford or else not give one at all.

In a Crowded Elevator

Dear Mrs. Post: Does etiquette require a gentleman to step aside in an elevator in order to permit a woman (not with him) to leave first?

Answer: If there is plenty of space, a gentleman does let a lady go ahead of him. But if he is standing directly in front of the door and the elevator is crowded, he is certainly not expected to become an immovable obstacle blocking the way of those who want to go past, and in this case it is best that he clear the way, by leaving as quickly as possible.

Poached Egg on Toast

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered correct to use a knife to cut a poached agg on toast? A friend and I have been having an argument about this and she insists that a fork should be used and not a knife. Will you please set us straight.

Answer: A knife is correct.

'Y' Camp Opens June 22 at New Woodland Site; Projected Plans Include Winter Sports

In five years, the new site of the YMCA Day Camp will be equipped for both summer and winter sports, Louis Schafer, camp director, told more than 125 prospective campers at a meeting Tuesday at the YMCA.

The tentative program will eventually accommodate campers and their families, he said.

The site of the new YMCA Day Camp is located in Shokan. It consists of 35 acres of natural beauty, woodland, small lakes and open play areas.

The first summer session, which begins June 22, will be devoted to day camping only, Mr. Schafer said. Assisting him in all camp activities will be Richard Case, YMCA physical director.

It is planned that during the spring, summer and fall of 1960, the camp will be available for family groupings and picnics. "This, of course, will depend on economic conditions," Mr. Schafer said.

Recreation Spot

Members of the YMCA Board of Directors plan to make the YMCA Day Camp site the most outstanding recreational spot in the area, Mr. Schafer added.

"In June we will mark the 17th year of camping for Kingston," he told the group. "It also marks the 75th year of camping in the United States by the YMCA," he said.

Leadership

In addition to Mr. Schafer and Mr. Case, two adult graduate teachers will be employed for the summer. High school boys and girls will again be appointed group leaders.

Craft materials of various descriptions will be available to campers and instruction will be given for making various articles.

For other types of recreation, there will be available swings, see-saws and play equipment including tetherball, horseshoe, pitching pits, football, target, duck pin bowling, deck tennis, ping pong, softball and many others. There will also be group and competitive games.

Championships in swimming, diving, track and field will be awarded in all age groups.

Swimming instructions for beginners and advanced swimming strokes will be emphasized.

"Eventually $50,000 will be invested in order to make camp conditions the best for the community," Mr. Schafer said. "This will be done with the aid of the YMCA Board of Directors."

Serving on the board are Clarence Buddenhagen; George Silkworth, chairman of the camp committee; John Purvis, John Shults Jr., Richard McNaughton, Addison Jones, G. Herbert DeKay, Chester Baltz Jr. and John Haulenbeck.

Buses will leave the YMCA and Crown Street Bus Terminal on June 22 at 9 a. m. They will return at 5 p. m.

The YMCA is a members agency of the Community Chest.

Former Resident to Preach at First Baptist April 12; His School Choir Also Is Coming

A former resident of Kingston, who is now president of the Hinckley School in Hinckley, Me., will be guest preacher during the Sunday morning, April 12, worship service at First Baptist Church, Albany Avenue at Broadway.

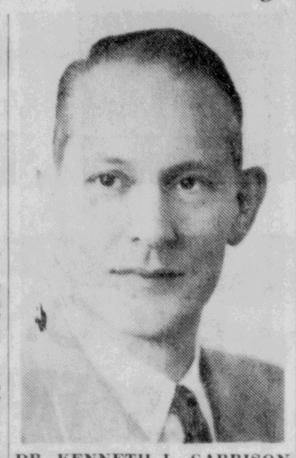
He is Dr. Kenneth Lloyd Garrison, son of F. Leslie Garrison of 154 Fair Street and the late Mrs. Leita Garrison.

The appearance of Dr. Garrison in Kingston also will be featured by the personal appearance of his school's 30-voice choir which is making Kingston its first stop on the 1959 tour of New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts.

The Hinckley Chapel Choir, members whose ages average 15 years, will present a concert of sacred music Sunday night, April 12, during a special 7:30 o'clock service at First Baptist Church, it has been announced by the Rev. Harold J. Stephanz, pastor of the local church.

Robert S. Stetson, choirmaster, will lead the choir. Mrs. Arthur T. Pedersen, organist of First Baptist Church, will be at the console.

The Hinckley Choir, in constant demand for service clubs, fraternal groups, schools and churches in Maine, has a repertoire of about 75 numbers. This year's second annual tour is completely underwritten by the Hinckley School.



DR. KENNETH L. GARRISON

After its appearance in Kingston April 12, the choir will sing at the First Congregational Church, Woodbury, Conn., on April 14; First Congregational Church, Guilford, Conn., on April 15; the Park Street Baptist Church, Framingham, Mass., on April 16 and at the United Baptist Church, Saco, Me., on April 17.

Miss Jane Hinckley, sister of the founder of Hinckley School, was the first choir leader. Continuously through the years the size and repertoire of the choir has increased. The choir is heard each Sunday afternoon during services at Moody Chapel in Hinckley. They sing both A Cappella and with accompaniment.

Dr. Garrison, brother of Mrs. Irwin J. Thomas of Sunset Park, was installed as president of the Hinckley School Jan. 12, 1958, after serving 18 years in the Baptist Church ministry from Pennsylvania to Maine.

A native of Haines' Falls, Dr. Garrison was educated in Kingston schools and later at Georgetown College, Crozer Theological Seminary, Pennsylvania University and Temple University.

He culminated his 18 years in the ministry after serving the historic Baptist Church of Brookline, Mass. Before that he was pastor of the First Welsh Baptist Church, Taylor, Pa., the Hatboro Baptist Church, Hatboro, Pa. and the First Baptist Church of Waterville, Me.

The Hinckley School, founded in 1889, has its own elementary and high school facilities, comprises more than 3,000 acres of land on the Kennebec River and is fully accredited by the Maine Department of Education.

The school itself is non-sectarian and has a large farm, including cattle and gardens which supply the school. Recreational facilities are many with a large swimming pool, tennis courts and a nine-hole golf course. More than 50 homes and other buildings are utilized in housing and educating the youth of the school. Among these are two fully equipped and diversified libraries and two museums.

Dr. Garrison will be accompanied to Kingston by his wife, the former Miss Emily M. Rogers, daughter of Mrs. Mary Rogers and the late Williams Rogers, and their daughter, Diane, who is a student at Hinckley.

A SHOWER BEYOND HER MEANS

Dear Mrs. Post: I would very much like your opinion on the following matter: My daughter is going to be married shortly and a friend of hers who is to be the maid of honor at her wedding is planning to give a large shower for her. Last night she came over to discuss the shower with me and asked me to contribute fifty dollars toward it as she couldn't afford to give it alone. I was so taken back by that for a moment I was speechless. As this is the first wedding in my family I am not familiar with present-day shower giving and I would like to know if the mother of the bride is supposed to contribute anything toward the shower.

Answer: Very definitely not! As she is giving the shower, she should pay for it herself and not expect you to contribute toward the expense of it. In fact, I have never heard of anything so high handed before. She should either give a shower of the size she can afford or else not give one at all.

In a Crowded Elevator

Dear Mrs. Post: Does etiquette require a gentleman to step aside in an elevator in order to permit a woman (not with him) to leave first?

Answer: If there is plenty of space, a gentleman does let a lady go ahead of him. But if he is standing directly in front of the door and the elevator is crowded, he is certainly not expected to become an immovable obstacle blocking the way of those who want to go past, and in this case it is best that he clear the way, by leaving as quickly as possible.

Poached Egg on Toast

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered correct to use a knife to cut a poached agg on toast? A friend and I have been having an argument about this and she insists that a fork should be used and not a knife. Will you please set us straight.

Answer: A knife is correct.

WEDDING PLANS DELAYED—Christine Jorgensen, 32-year-old ex-GI who was transformed into a woman by a series of operations in Denmark, is pictured with Howard Knox, 39, in New York as they tried to apply for a marriage license. They were turned down on two counts. Knox did not have a copy of his divorce decree, and the Marriage License Bureau could not decide immediately if Christine was legally a woman. Scoutmaster Ralph Shapiro was guest speaker at a meeting of Cub Pack 12, Monday in Bethany Hall at the Old Dutch Church. Awards were presented to several cubs by Cubmaster Richard Scism.

The scoutmaster said Pack 12 is the oldest cub pack in the city. He presented Cubmaster Scism with a 5-year service pin and Carl Temple with a 2-year service state. Both men were also welcomed into the Boy Scouts as scoutmaster and assistant scoutmaster.

The opening ceremony was conducted by Richard Scism Jr., and Cubmaster Scism read two poems, "A Boy and His Dad" and "Keeping Ahead." Mr. Scism welcomed John R. Mayone, the new cubmaster, and presented him with a badge.

Recipients of awards presented by Cubmaster Scism were: Richard Roth, assistant denner stripe; Ernest Townsend, gold arrow on wolf; Richard Schlatter, one year perfect attendance pin and one year service star; Robert Mills, one year service star; Stephen Diamond, one year service star, one year perfect attendance pin and a bear badge.

Two new cubs received bob cat pins. They were, Carl Bodie and Mark Stevens. The presentations were made by their parents.

WEDDING PLANS DELAYED—Christine Jorgensen, 32-year-old ex-GI who was transformed into a woman by a series of operations in Denmark, is pictured with Howard Knox, 39, in New York as they tried to apply for a marriage license. They were turned down on two counts. Knox did not have a copy of his divorce decree, and the Marriage License Bureau could not decide immediately if Christine was legally a woman. However, the city clerk said he's willing to take the word of Dr. Harry Benjamin, Christine's physician, if he says she's a female. (NEA Telephoto)

Spring Storms Take Toll of Life, Property

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent spring storms which struck devastating blows across sections of Texas and Oklahoma abated today, leaving a toll of dead and injured and extensive property damage.

Tornadoes killed at least six persons in two small communities in north central Texas. More than a half dozen twisters which raked the two states also injured 59 persons, including 51 in Texas.

Winds Batter Southwest

There were no survivors after an Air Force KC135 tanker plane from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., crashed and burned during a severe thunderstorm near Killeen in central Texas. The plane normally carries a crew of four but Air Force officials declined to say how many men were on the plane.

The tornadic winds which pounded the north central Texas area and sections of northeast Oklahoma flattened and damaged scores of homes, damaged gasoline plants and toppled 20 derricks in one of the largest oil fields in north central Texas.

The storms were part of a general pattern of severe weather from Texas into parts of eastern Oklahoma, western Arkansas, southeastern Kansas and western Missouri. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds lashed the region.

Small Towns Hit

The tornadoes in Texas hit hardest at the small towns of Vaughan and Bynum, 10 miles east. Three persons died and 20 others were injured in the wreckage of their homes in Vaughan. Two persons were killed and 11 injured at Bynum. Seventeen persons suffered injuries when a twister hammered three small towns northeast of Gainesville.

The small community of Silver City, 30 miles west of Tulsa, suffered heaviest damage in the tornadoes which struck northeast Oklahoma. Police estimated three-fourths of the farm community was damaged. The second twister in Oklahoma skipped across a tourist court near Kingston on Lake Texoma, demolishing two cabins and a home.

Hail in Kansas City

Funnels were sighted in Kansas and a city-wide tornado alert was posted for Kansas City, Mo. for 15 minutes Tuesday night. Rain, strong wind and some hail lashed the area.

Rain pelted wide sections from the tornado belt northward into Iowa and Illinois. Heaviest falls were in northern areas from Kansas City into southern Iowa.

Heavy rain showers with possible severe thunderstorms were expected to spread through the middle Mississippi Valley during the day and into the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania and New York by late afternoon or early evening.

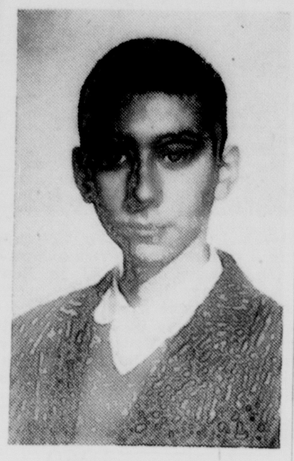
Top Graduates at Onteora Central School Are Named; Both Active in School Programs

JUDITH FRISHBERG



IRA DEUTSCH

ONTEORA—Judith Frishberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Frishberg of Chichester, has been named valedictorian of the class of 1959 at Onteora Central School.

Ira Deutsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deutsch of Woodstock, is the salutatorian of this year's graduating class. Announcement of the designations was made today by the Guidance Department of the school.

Miss Frishberg has majored in French, mathematics and science and has been an active participant in the extra-curricular program of the school. She has been a member of the band, intramural program, Ski Club, yearbook staff, marshal and honor society, as well as a junior varsity and varsity cheerleader for four years.

Miss Frishberg is applying for admission to Brandeis, the University of Rochester and Cornell University. She intends to pursue a liberal arts program with a major in mathematics and science.

Ira Deutsch has majored in mathematics, science and music, and plans to enroll at the Boston University School of Music or the New England Conservatory of Music. He attended the Aspen School of Music, Aspen, Colorado, and was chosen to play solo oboe with the 1959 New York All-State Orchestra. He also participated in the school's extra-curricular program, being a member of the projection club, science club, tennis club, French club, math club and honor society.

Brophy, Burger Called Examples For Policemen

Careers of two retired policemen, who served more than 30 years each on the local force, were cited last night as exemplary to active officers.

The two; retired detective Clarence Brophy, and former officer Gurnsey Burger Sr., were praised at a testimonial dinner given by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association at Rainbow Inn, Albany Avenue Extension.

Burger in Hospital

Retired Officer Burger, who recently underwent minor surgery at the Benedictine Hospital, was unable to attend, but his 39 years of service was praised by the several speakers and in a letter from Mayor Edwin F. Radel. Burger retired last December, and Brophy, who had served 33 years on the force, retired in October.

Retired Chief Charles Phinney, who had headed the force from 1939 to 1946, recalled police work dating back as far as 1908, and citing his experience with both retired officers, said they could well be held as an example for all in the department, especially the younger patrolmen.

Service of both men in the department was praised by former Chief Raymond Van Buren, Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PAVF, department chaplain; Richard J. "Dick" McCarthy, toastmaster; former detective Wesley Cramer, and Officer John Crespino, KPA president, and Acting Chief Robert F. Murphy.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel in letters to Officer Crespino, praised the service of both men, and complimented the KPA on its thoughtfulness in arranging for the testimonial dinner.

Praised by Mayor

The mayor noted that even since the officers retired important changes have taken place in the department, but, he held, present officers could gain by the record and experience of the retired men.

Both Brophy and Burger, the mayor said were among "the all-time greats" in the department, and he noted that in his later years, former officer Burger gained a special reputation for his fine work with the city's young people through his work at school crossings.

From the two, the mayor said, the younger men of the force can learn how to give a great deal in good solid police work, and above all can contribute much in beneficial public relations.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Sgt. Julius Glassman and Officer Meyer Levy.

Will Make Study Of Complaints on Area School Jobs

A committee is expected to be named to air complaints of inadequacies in employment regulations affecting non-teaching employes in the Kingston area consolidated school district.

The complaints were revealed at a meeting last night of some 100 school employes in the George Washington School cafeteria, and it is expected that when the committee is named it will meet with the education board.

Point to Extra Duties

Among complaints was one dealing with the education board's decision without discussion or consent to change from area to state civil service control, and others dealt with extra duties imposed on school custodians and other employes.

It was also charged that some positions, which had been of competitive status, have been made non-competitive. An instance cited was the school lunch manager position, which is still competitive, but the job designated as cook-manager is non-competitive.

Must Make Complaints

Frank Casey, of Albany, a representative of the State Civil Service Employes Association, who attended the meeting, indicated that whatever action is decided upon must come from the school employes affected.

It was estimated that approximately 150 school employes in the consolidated district are affected by the reported changes.

Among complaints was that salaries varied for the same type work in different areas of the district.

Rocky Extends

crease equal to the annual increment of his pay grade—or not less than $200. The $486 ceiling applies to workers who make $14,800 a ployes had received no pay increase in the last two years, while the cost of living rose 5.5 per cent.

"We should seek always to attract and hold able, qualified people in the service of the state," he said. "This can only be done by paying fair and reasonable compensation."

To Study Rail Taxation

The life of the Equalization and Assessment Board was extended so that it could complete its study of local taxation of railroads.

Rockefeller has recommended a broad program for relieving railroads of some local taxes, and providing state aid to help communities that lose tax revenue.

He approved a bill under which the state would share the cost of surface binder for town highways reconditioned before 1957 under the Erwin town road program.

The program was started in 1950, but only since 1957 has there been a provision for material to bind the surface.

Abolishes Commission

Rockefeller also signed a bill abolishing the State Building Code Commission and turning its duties over to the State Housing Division.

The governor's original budget provided $375,000 for the commission's work but legislative leaders, prodded by economy-minded lawmakers, pruned out the appropriation.

Rockefeller approved transfer of $100,000 to a fund that would go toward student loan funds at 23 state-operated colleges.

The money was left unspent when the State University discontinued Champlain College in 1953. The fund has not been used because of restrictions in the Education law.

Under the loan plan, the federal government will contribute $860,400 and the state will contribute $95,600. Students, during their school years, may receive loans of $1,000, up to $5,000. The loans are to be repaid at 3 per cent interest within 11 years after graduation.

Khrushchev . . .

words. Long after Stalin's death, Khrushchev would revert to 1952 and blame Malenkov for the sorry state of Soviet agriculture then. He would succeed in having Malenkov thrown out of the hierarchy.

Shortly after the 1952 congress, the lives of all Politburo members were in grave danger. Stalin, to quote a diplomat of the day, had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge was in the making. Stalin's assistants fabricated a fantastic story about a plot of doctors, most of them Jewish, to poison Stalin and other leading figures.

Luckily for the Politburo — some say it was more than coincidence — Stalin died in March 1953.

Malenkov took both of Stalin's jobs: premier and first party secretary, in control of both party and government. Within two weeks, Khrushchev nudged Malenkov from the party job.

Those were nervous days. The new leadership, calling itself "collective," felt impelled to promise abundance to the long suffering public. It apparently felt the need of popular support, something unheard of in Stalin's day. The whole fantastic story of the doctor's plot was reversed.

Lease Is Renewed

Action toward renewing a lease between the city and the Art Students League, of New York, for use of city owned property by the latter in the Town of Woodstock, was taken in the city clerk's office yesterday afternoon. After the holding of an auction, as required by law, it was agreed to renew the lease for five years at a rental of $100 for the season. The Art Students League conducts a summer school on the site. It owns the buildings, but not the land, which was formerly part of the city's reservoir and water works holdings in the Zena-Woodstock area.

KANSAS MOTHER — Mrs. Irene Henderson, 67, of Atwood, Kan., was named Kansas Mother of the Year (Mar. 31). Her selection finished a five-day period of confusion as some 40 women had received form letters last week designating them as the state mother. (AP Wirephoto)

Mexico Ousts Two

arrested Sunday and reportedly talked to authorities about the Soviets' role in the walkout.

After Vallejo's arrest, the government appointed a four-man group to direct the railway union. An election of new officers was ordered in an effort to root out Vallejo's influence.

The strikers called for a 16 per cent wage boost granted earlier to workers on the National Railways, which carry the bulk of Mexico's passenger and freight traffic.

The government branded the walkout illegal and ordered the men back to their posts. A wave of sympathy strikes began on the National Railways and the government, anticipating a nationwide stoppage and sympathy walkouts by other leftist-led unions, ordered the widespread arrests.

Colonial Tire Co.'s Cora & Saul speaking...

. . . as one of our popular comedians so often says: Everybody wants to get into the act . . . and in our case, it's a good thing.

We like to think of Colonial Tire Co. as a family business . . . and it's getting to be a bigger family every day, too.

Today, woman's place is no longer just "in the home"—everyplace is woman's place and the feminine influence in business has become a mighty force. Glance around you and you'll see what we mean.

At Colonial Tire Co. that womanly influence is a behind-the-scenes force—but it's there none the less. And we like to think it's for the better, too. What do you think about it?

Spring Storms Take Toll of Life, Property

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Violent spring storms which struck devastating blows across sections of Texas and Oklahoma abated today, leaving a toll of dead and injured and extensive property damage.

Tornadoes killed at least six persons in two small communities in north central Texas. More than a half dozen twisters which raked the two states also injured 59 persons, including 51 in Texas.

Winds Batter Southwest

There were no survivors after an Air Force KC135 tanker plane from Bergstrom Air Force Base at Austin, Tex., crashed and burned during a severe thunderstorm near Killeen in central Texas. The plane normally carries a crew of four but Air Force officials declined to say how many men were on the plane.

The tornadic winds which pounded the north central Texas area and sections of northeast Oklahoma flattened and damaged scores of homes, damaged gasoline plants and toppled 20 derricks in one of the largest oil fields in north central Texas.

The storms were part of a general pattern of severe weather from Texas into parts of eastern Oklahoma, western Arkansas, southeastern Kansas and western Missouri. Heavy rain, hail and strong winds lashed the region.

Small Towns Hit

The tornadoes in Texas hit hardest at the small towns of Vaughan and Bynum, 10 miles east. Three persons died and 20 others were injured in the wreckage of their homes in Vaughan. Two persons were killed and 11 injured at Bynum. Seventeen persons suffered injuries when a twister hammered three small towns northeast of Gainesville.

The small community of Silver City, 30 miles west of Tulsa, suffered heaviest damage in the tornadoes which struck northeast Oklahoma. Police estimated three-fourths of the farm community was damaged. The second twister in Oklahoma skipped across a tourist court near Kingston on Lake Texoma, demolishing two cabins and a home.

Hail in Kansas City

Funnels were sighted in Kansas and a city-wide tornado alert was posted for Kansas City, Mo. for 15 minutes Tuesday night. Rain, strong wind and some hail lashed the area.

Rain pelted wide sections from the tornado belt northward into Iowa and Illinois. Heaviest falls were in northern areas from Kansas City into southern Iowa.

Heavy rain showers with possible severe thunderstorms were expected to spread through the middle Mississippi Valley during the day and into the Ohio Valley, Pennsylvania and New York by late afternoon or early evening.

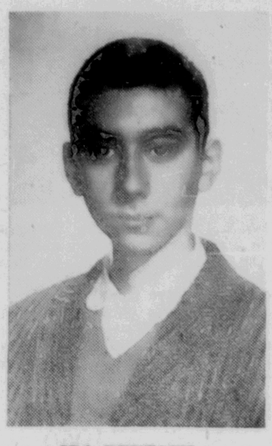
Top Graduates at Onteora Central School Are Named; Both Active in School Programs

JUDITH FRISHBERG



IRA DEUTSCH

ONTEORA—Judith Frishberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Frishberg of Chichester, has been named valedictorian of the class of 1959 at Onteora Central School.

Ira Deutsch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Deutsch of Woodstock, is the salutatorian of this year's graduating class. Announcement of the designations was made today by the Guidance Department of the school.

Miss Frishberg has majored in French, mathematics and science and has been an active participant in the extra-curricular program of the school. She has been a member of the band, intramural program, Ski Club, yearbook staff, marshal and honor society, as well as a junior varsity and varsity cheerleader for four years.

Miss Frishberg is applying for admission to Brandeis, the University of Rochester and Cornell University. She intends to pursue a liberal arts program with a major in mathematics and science.

Ira Deutsch has majored in mathematics, science and music, and plans to enroll at the Boston University School of Music or the New England Conservatory of Music. He attended the Aspen School of Music, Aspen, Colorado, and was chosen to play solo oboe with the 1959 New York All-State Orchestra. He also participated in the school's extra-curricular program, being a member of the projection club, science club, tennis club, French club, math club and honor society.

Brophy, Burger Called Examples For Policemen

Careers of two retired policemen, who served more than 30 years each on the local force, were cited last night as exemplary to active officers.

The two; retired detective Clarence Brophy, and former officer Gurnsey Burger Sr., were praised at a testimonial dinner given by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association at Rainbow Inn, Albany Avenue Extension.

Burger in Hospital

Retired Officer Burger, who recently underwent minor surgery at the Benedictine Hospital, was unable to attend, but his 39 years of service was praised by the several speakers and in a letter from Mayor Edwin F. Radel. Burger retired last December, and Brophy, who had served 33 years on the force, retired in October.

Retired Chief Charles Phinney, who had headed the force from 1939 to 1946, recalled police work dating back as far as 1908, and citing his experience with both retired officers, said they could well be held as an example for all in the department, especially the younger patrolmen.

Service of both men in the department was praised by former Chief Raymond Van Buren; Msgr. Martin J. Drury, PAVF, department chaplain; Richard J. "Dick" McCarthy, toastmaster; former detective Wesley Cramer, and Officer John Crespino, KPA president, and Acting Chief Robert F. Murphy.

Mayor Edwin F. Radel in letters to Officer Crespino, praised the service of both men, and complimented the KPA on its thoughtfulness in arranging for the testimonial dinner.

Praised by Mayor

The mayor noted that even since the officers retired important changes have taken place in the department, but, he held, present officers could gain by the record and experience of the retired men.

Both Brophy and Burger, the mayor said were among "the all-time greats" in the department, and he noted that in his later years, former officer Burger gained a special reputation for his fine work with the city's young people through his work at school crossings.

From the two, the mayor said, the younger men of the force can learn how to give a great deal in good solid police work, and above all can contribute much in beneficial public relations.

Arrangements for the dinner were made by Sgt. Julius Glassman and Officer Meyer Levy.

Will Make Study Of Complaints on Area School Jobs

A committee is expected to be named to air complaints of inadequacies in employment regulations affecting non-teaching employes in the Kingston area consolidated school district.

The complaints were revealed at a meeting last night of some 100 school employes in the George Washington School cafeteria, and it is expected that when the committee is named it will meet with the education board.

Point to Extra Duties

Among complaints was one dealing with the education board's decision without discussion or consent to change from area to state civil service control, and others dealt with extra duties imposed on school custodians and other employes.

It was also charged that some positions, which had been of competitive status, have been made non-competitive. An instance cited was the school lunch manager position, which is still competitive, but the job designated as cook-manager is non-competitive.

Must Make Complaints

Frank Casey, of Albany, a representative of the State Civil Service Employes Association, who attended the meeting, indicated that whatever action is decided upon must come from the school employes affected.

It was estimated that approximately 150 school employes in the consolidated district are affected by the reported changes.

Among complaints was that salaries varied for the same type work in different areas of the district.

Rocky Extends

crease equal to the annual increment of his pay grade—or not less than $200. The $486 ceiling applies to workers who make $14,800 a ployes had received no pay increase in the last two years, while the cost of living rose 5.5 per cent.

"We should seek always to attract and hold able, qualified people in the service of the state," he said. "This can only be done by paying fair and reasonable compensation."

To Study Rail Taxation

The life of the Equalization and Assessment Board was extended so that it could complete its study of local taxation of railroads.

Rockefeller has recommended a broad program for relieving railroads of some local taxes, and providing state aid to help communities that lose tax revenue.

He approved a bill under which the state would share the cost of surface binder for town highways reconditioned before 1957 under the Erwin town road program.

The program was started in 1950, but only since 1957 has there been a provision for material to bind the surface.

Abolishes Commission

Rockefeller also signed a bill abolishing the State Building Code Commission and turning its duties over to the State Housing Division.

The governor's original budget provided $375,000 for the commission's work but legislative leaders, prodded by economy-minded lawmakers, pruned out the appropriation.

Rockefeller approved transfer of $100,000 to a fund that would go toward student loan funds at 23 state-operated colleges.

The money was left unspent when the State University discontinued Champlain College in 1953. The fund has not been used because of restrictions in the Education law.

Under the loan plan, the federal government will contribute $860,400 and the state will contribute $95,600. Students, during their school years, may receive loans of $1,000, up to $5,000. The loans are to be repaid at 3 per cent interest within 11 years after graduation.

Khrushchev . . .

words. Long after Stalin's death, Khrushchev would revert to 1952 and blame Malenkov for the sorry state of Soviet agriculture then. He would succeed in having Malenkov thrown out of the hierarchy.

Shortly after the 1952 congress, the lives of all Politburo members were in grave danger. Stalin, to quote a diplomat of the day, had "reached for the bottle again." A new blood purge was in the making. Stalin's assistants fabricated a fantastic story about a plot of doctors, most of them Jewish, to poison Stalin and other leading figures.

Luckily for the Politburo — some say it was more than coincidence — Stalin died in March 1953.

Malenkov took both of Stalin's jobs: premier and first party secretary, in control of both party and government. Within two weeks, Khrushchev nudged Malenkov from the party job.

Those were nervous days. The new leadership, calling itself "collective," felt impelled to promise abundance to the long suffering public. It apparently felt the need of popular support, something unheard of in Stalin's day. The whole fantastic story of the doctor's plot was reversed.

Lease Is Renewed

Action toward renewing a lease between the city and the Art Students League, of New York, for use of city owned property by the latter in the Town of Woodstock, was taken in the city clerk's office yesterday afternoon. After the holding of an auction, as required by law, it was agreed to renew the lease for five years at a rental of $100 for the season. The Art Students League conducts a summer school on the site. It owns the buildings, but not the land, which was formerly part of the city's reservoir and water works holdings in the Zena-Woodstock area.

arrested Sunday and reportedly talked to authorities about the Soviets' role in the walkout.

After Vallejo's arrest, the government appointed a four-man group to direct the railway union. An election of new officers was ordered in an effort to root out Vallejo's influence.

The strikers called for a 16 per cent wage boost granted earlier to workers on the National Railways, which carry the bulk of Mexico's passenger and freight traffic.

The government branded the walkout illegal and ordered the men back to their posts. A wave of sympathy strikes began on the National Railways and the government, anticipating a nationwide stoppage and sympathy walkouts by other leftist-led unions, ordered the widespread arrests.

Merchant's Group Start Saugerties Store Clean Up

A project to clean up the unsightly appearance of empty store windows in the Saugerties business district went into full swing this week, a merchants' committee spokesman told The Freeman today.

The Main Street store which formerly housed Candyland Restaurant was cleaned up and will display merchandise of J. J. Newberry Co., located next door, and items from Offerman's Record and Gift Shop of Partition Street.

A cooperative project was planned for the Partition Street stores which formerly housed Beck's Jewelers and the Saugerties Restaurant by London's and Delson's Department stores. Both planned to display merchandise in the stores which adjoin each other between Jane and Main Streets.

Clum's Goodyear Store on Main Street has made use of the window of the former Acherman's Meat Market adjoining his store.

Other projects involving empty stores are anticipated.

The merchants committee of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce has contacted the owners of the empty stores and asked for permission to display merchandise in exchange for keeping the windows and store front clean and attractive looking.

The project is part of a plan to make the village business district attractive for the forthcoming events to be staged in conjunction with the Hudson-Champlain celebration.

Merchant's Group Start Saugerties Store Clean Up

A project to clean up the unsightly appearance of empty store windows in the Saugerties business district went into full swing this week, a merchants' committee spokesman told The Freeman today.

The Main Street store which formerly housed Candyland Restaurant was cleaned up and will display merchandise of J. J. Newberry Co., located next door, and items from Offerman's Record and Gift Shop of Partition Street.

A cooperative project was planned for the Partition Street stores which formerly housed Beck's Jewelers and the Saugerties Restaurant by London's and Delson's Department stores. Both planned to display merchandise in the stores which adjoin each other between Jane and Main Streets.

Clum's Goodyear Store on Main Street has made use of the window of the former Acherman's Meat Market adjoining his store.

Other projects involving empty stores are anticipated.

The merchants committee of Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce has contacted the owners of the empty stores and asked for permission to display merchandise in exchange for keeping the windows and store front clean and attractive looking.

The project is part of a plan to make the village business district attractive for the forthcoming events to be staged in conjunction with the Hudson-Champlain celebration.

The dinner honored John F. Carnright, outgoing chief of Saugerties Fire Department.

The firemen's home superintendent related the history of the state home and described the firemen's museum, a part of the plant. He said there were 103 retired volunteers now using the facilities, and 62 of them are in the hospital of the home. Kirk also outlined the recent improvements accomplished.

Lynch Fire Company, second assistant chief, and Robert Desmond of R. A. Snyder Fire Company, third assistant. Sweeney presently holds the position of first assistant chief.

Saugerties Postmaster Edmund U. Burhans, president of the R. A. Snyder Fire Company served as toastmaster.

Williams, and members of the village board with Mayor George P. Holmes.

Most of the fire chiefs of Town of Saugerties volunteer fire companies were in attendance.

Mayor Holmes made the gift presentation to outgoing Chief Carnright; Fire Commissioner Elton L. Johnson presented Carnright with a past chief's pin, and Burhans gave a gift from the department to Charles Granwehr, who served as department secretary for many years.

A roast beef dinner was served to over 140 by the Auxiliary of Saugerties Memorial Post 5034, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Semi-Finals Slated In Junior Cage Play

Amsterdam, Grillmen To Play Kendall Oil, Pine Plains Cagers

Amsterdam High School players, third place finishers in the powerful Class A Albany League, will make their initial appearance tonight in the Kingston Junior Cage tournament when they tangle with Kendall Oil of Kingston in the second game of a standout semi-final doubleheader. In the 7 p. m. opener, the Pine Plains Junior Bombardiers will meet Royal Grill of Kingston.

The upstaters feature three good performers in Dave Santos, Len Bush and Don Safran. A notable accomplishment of Amsterdam during the year was the defeat it administered to Linton High School, the only loss suffered by the Intersectional champions during 1958-59.

The Oilmen started poorly against Ellenville but then bombed the basket in the third and fourth quarters in impressive fashion. A trio of All-DUSO performers, Jack Coonan and LeRoy Riley of Newburgh and Joe Uhl of Kingston, are the big point threats. Also on the squad are Kingston players Harry Pratt, Gary Barnes and Charley Williams and ex-KHS cagers Bob Short and George Uhl.

Deep Bench

Pine Plains impressed observers with a deep bench which had any player come into the game and hit the basket. The team features outstanding Dutchess County stars, led by Pat McKenna, former Poughkeepsie High School ace, Herbie Lee and Julie Pigliacampi of Wappingers Falls and Gerry Anderson and Mickey SaVino of Arlington. The Bombardiers looked good in drubbing a weak Augustine Insurance club. Tonight the tale may be different.

Royal Grill has many top local names on its roster including Jumping Joe Klonowski, Chick Boice, Pat Sangaline, Bob Smith and Mel Williams. All are formidable scorers and should feel right at home on the friendly auditorium court.

Andrew Murphy III, co-director of the tourney, said that the championship game, scheduled for tomorrow night, may be changed because of the Old Timers' Baseball dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel. However, a decision will not be reached until after tonight's doubleheader is concluded.

Middletown's Chances Hinge on Tom Slover

KHS Diamond Candidates Slate Outdoor Work

Keeping his fingers crossed, Kingston High School Coach Al Gruner has scheduled a practice for all baseball candidates, Wednesday morning, 10 o'clock, at the Athletic Field on Smith Avenue. Coach Gruner said all boys, infielders and outfielders, are expected to report, if the weather is suitable.

In case of inclement weather, pitchers and catchers will report to the field house at 10 a. m.

Middletown High School's baseball team will be out to improve on last year's 3-5 league record. The Middies, minus All DUSO Dave Petrozak behind the plate, third baseman Dick Lundgren and right fielder Dennis Rupert, have basically the same squad back for another try.

Righthander Tom Slover developed into the ace of Coach Ed Rodiek's otherwise shabby staff last year and if the Middie mentor can find a number two starter behind Slover, improving last year's mark might come easy.

Tom Clarke is perhaps the key man in the plans for this season. If Clarke fails to develop on the mound, the catching problem will be solved and he will take over behind the dish. However, Rodiek is counting on the youngster to back up Slover on the mound.

The Middies make their DUSO debut at Port Jervis on April 27.

Williams Awaits Another Bulletin

BOSTON (AP) — Hospital bulletin No. 2 was awaited today on the condition of Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, unwilling owner of baseball's celebrated pain in the neck.

The 40-year-old outfielder was protected from outsiders while doctors attempted to determine the cause of his ailment at New England Baptist Hospital.

But there was no further announcement. The arrival of Dr. James L. Poppen back from vacation reportedly was awaited by other doctors.

X-rays at the hospital confirmed that Ted apparently has no broken or dislocated bones and evidently is not suffering from arthritis.

You receive many kinds of letters in this business—caustic, complimentary, ridiculous and innocuous. You get letters from those who are brave enough to sign them; others from people who hide behind ambiguous signatures. You know the type: An Interested Reader. A Devoted Reader, ad infinitum.

Once in a while you receive a letter that is not only a pleasure to read, but one that has the rare quality of humility. In this case there are too many people willing to sign their names, so that it resolves to a simple signature like the collective "Rondout Valley Little Leaguers."

It is wonderful tribute from a group of youngsters to a group of oldies who have done a wonderful job with small fry baseball in that part of the county. We present this rare and inspiring tribute from the kids of the Rondout Valley LL:

"Dear Mr. Editor:

"As you know, the baseball season is almost here. We Little Leaguers are afraid that all those grown ups who helped us last year might not be there this year, if we don't thank them for all they have done. Will you thank them for all they have done. Will you thank them for us in some real nice way and tell them how much we need them this year?

• Well, Those Managers!

"Especially, our managers who we think will never be ball players. But shucks! We can't play ball without them. And all the fathers who step out of the stands to umpire. Sometimes their decisions don't look the same from the dugout, but, you know, each year they get a heck of a lot better. All the men who built the field and take care of it. We tease them, but we're sure proud when outsiders come to see it. We don't think there are many fields as pretty. Do you?

"Don't forget to thank all the mothers for our annual picnics. There was more than we could eat. But just between you and ourselves, we missed the ice cream. Then that very patient fellow who lets us use the field. Boy! If our pops had all those kids running around in our backyard, they'd have to call the sheriff!

"Then we'd like to thank all the business men. Those fellows are awfully hard to understand. They complain all year that, if things don't get better, they'll have to close their doors. Do you know that they don't ask any profit from Little League? Better thank the doctor, too, that fixed our umpire's lip. We didn't mean to hit the umpire but, gee, he should have known it was too dark to play.

"Oh, yeh! and the sponsors. We really wouldn't be showing off with the uniforms. Sure, we like to show off. It's a lot more fun showing off to a lot of grownups than to each other. We stay out of trouble that way but, for gosh sakes, don't tell our parents.

• Everyone Gets Chance:

"Tell all the kids that tryouts will be as last year. Boys 8-12 are eligible. Tryouts will be held at the Little League field. The last Saturday in April will include the township of Rosendale, including Cottekill. The first Saturday in May is for the boys in Marbletown. If either Saturday is rained out, that Saturday will be moved to the second Saturday in May.

"Good luck, fellows! We hope everyyone makes a major team. Don't forget, even if you don't make a major team, everyone will play Friday nights and we will all have teams and uniforms.

"We're going to produce a show this year at Marbletown and Tillson schools. All the actors will be local people. Boy isn't it swell to have a town so full of talent! We'd better get back to our homework. Thanks a lot, Mr. Editor."

Thanks to you, little men of the Rondout Valley Little League! To you belongs the future. With such grace and gratitude you can't miss.

Sam Snead Is Favored To Win Masters Title

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead, budding star of television, was made the 5-1 betting favorite today to snare his fourth Masters golf championship.

Mainly on the strength of his phenomenal 13-match unbeaten streak in the nationally televised series, the West Virginia slugger drew top advance billing over Ken Venturi of San Francisco, 6-1, and a trio of past winners, defender Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, bracketed at 8-1.

Although open betting in this Dixie fairway extravaganza is strictly verboten, a bookmaker has printed a "line" which is flagrantly distributed in the hotel lobbies and around the course.

The 72-hole tournament — the 23rd edition of Bobby Jones' brainchild—opens Thursday on the lush Augusta National course where President Eisenhower's quick hook is no stranger. There's a round a day through Sunday.

The advance odds may undergo some quick revision overnight in view of the redhot practice performances of 1956 champion Jack Burke Jr. of Houston, Tex., who has had successive rounds of 66 and 64.

Snead, winner here in 1949, 1952 and 1954, is still riding the crest of his television winnings, which have amounted to $28,000.

Playing on tough courses, he met the game's top players and beat them all over a period of several months, ending last November. He averaged 67.2 strokes for 13 rounds, never went over 70 and had one 63—a record at Sea Island, Ga.

NO CROSS PURPOSES — Gus Zernial, .323 hitter last year, and Detroit teammate, Al Kaline, .313, frame their faces with bats at the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla., training base.

Old Colonials Will Pay Tribute To Former Pilot

More than 300 persons from all walks of life will attend the Old Timers Baseball Association testimonial dinner for Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick Thursday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p. m.

Several members of the original Kingston Colonials will come from all parts of the state to pay tribute to their former, fiery, colorful manager.

Guest speakers will be Jackie Farrell of the New York Yankees public relations department and Big Bill Shay, an original Colonial, who has earned an excellent reputation as an after-dinner speaker.

Shay will substitute for Harry Grayson, NEA sports editor, who leaves Thursday to cover the Masters golf tournament in Augusta, Ga. for his national syndicate.

Among the Colonial originals expected in town are J. Howard Carter, former Fordham star who was known as Howie Carter as a Colonial third sacker; Bernie McCue of Ancram; Freddie Dahn and Maury McDermott of Poughkeepsie; Tubby Raskin, and an umpire of that era, Robert J. Fitzsimmons, now a successful Madison Avenue lawyer.

Buck Ewing Coming

A baseball immortal many Kingstonians will see for the first time is William (Buck) Ewing, one of the greatest catchers in baseball history. He will be accompanied by Hank Bozzi, veteran Schenectady manager and promoter.

Bernard A. (Bud) Culloton, the No. 1 pitcher in the Colonial saga, will make a presentation to Judge Schirick in behalf of the Old Timers Baseball Association.

Also attending will be all former original Colonials who reside in Kingston, including Dick Williams, Joey Hoffman, Jimmy Morgan, Tommy Davitt, Carl Glaser, Bill McAuliffe and a host of others.

Seventeen members of the Old Timers Hall of Fame will receive lapel pins. The presentation will be made by Tommy Davitt and John J. McCardle.

NBA Clubs Select Eleven Players From The Big Ten

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Big Ten, where college basketball teams usually raise hob with each other's season records, is still the favorite pickin' spot for pro basketball.

In the National Basketball Assn. draft Tuesday, 11 players were pulled out of the Big Ten — almost twice the number chosen from any other conference.

Cutting across conference lines, the pros picked every eligible on the first three Associated Press All-America teams.

George Washington University had three men drafted — the most from any school. The Southern Conference school contributed Gene Gaurilia, Boston's first pick; Bill Telasky, Philadelphia's fifth choice, and Bucky McDonald, New York's sixth selection.

For the rest of the conferences, the Missouri Valley and Pacific Coast gave up six each, the Southern, Southeastern, Big Eight and Southwest Conference each contributed four and the Atlantic Coast, Ohio Valley and Ivy League loops each had three draftees.

The pros also picked 28 players from independent schools or smaller state conferences.

In all, the eight NBA teams drafted 81 players for possible use in the 1959-1960 season.

The prize of the draft was Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, 7-foot-2 former Kansas star who elected to spend his last year of college eligibility playing with the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Philadelphia Warriors picked him as a high school territorial choice four years ago and affirmed this choice at Tuesday's draft.

No New Changes In ABC Tourney

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 56th American Bowling Congress Tournament produced no changes Tuesday in the top ten standings of any category.

Tod Moskal of Saginaw, Mich., who won the 1942 ABC all-events title, rolled the day's best singles of 670.

Guy D'Agostino and Connie Sztukowski of Buffalo, N. Y., combined for 1248, the best doubles score of the day.

Milwaukee Sausage Company led the open team division, scoring a 2804 series.

The Woodlawn-Foremost Dairy Team of Scranton, Pa., which carries nearly a 1000 average in league play, will be one of the feature teams in action today.

Semi-Finals Slated In Junior Cage Play

Amsterdam, Grillmen To Play Kendall Oil, Pine Plains Cagers

Amsterdam High School players, third place finishers in the powerful Class A Albany League, will make their initial appearance tonight in the Kingston Junior Cage tournament when they tangle with Kendall Oil of Kingston in the second game of a standout semi-final doubleheader. In the 7 p. m. opener, the Pine Plains Junior Bombardiers will meet Royal Grill of Kingston.

The upstaters feature three good performers in Dave Santos, Len Bush and Don Safran. A notable accomplishment of Amsterdam during the year was the defeat it administered to Linton High School, the only loss suffered by the Intersectional champions during 1958-59.

The Oilmen started poorly against Ellenville but then bombed the basket in the third and fourth quarters in impressive fashion. A trio of All-DUSO performers, Jack Coonan and LeRoy Riley of Newburgh and Joe Uhl of Kingston, are the big point threats. Also on the squad are Kingston players Harry Pratt, Gary Barnes and Charley Williams and ex-KHS cagers Bob Short and George Uhl.

Deep Bench

Pine Plains impressed observers with a deep bench which had any player come into the game and hit the basket. The team features outstanding Dutchess County stars, led by Pat McKenna, former Poughkeepsie High School ace, Herbie Lee and Julie Pigliacampi of Wappingers Falls and Gerry Anderson and Mickey SaVino of Arlington. The Bombardiers looked good in drubbing a weak Augustine Insurance club. Tonight the tale may be different.

Royal Grill has many top local names on its roster including Jumping Joe Klonowski, Chick Boice, Pat Sangaline, Bob Smith and Mel Williams. All are formidable scorers and should feel right at home on the friendly auditorium court.

Andrew Murphy III, co-director of the tourney, said that the championship game, scheduled for tomorrow night, may be changed because of the Old Timers' Baseball dinner at the Governor Clinton Hotel. However, a decision will not be reached until after tonight's doubleheader is concluded.

Williams Awaits Another Bulletin

BOSTON (AP) — Hospital bulletin No. 2 was awaited today on the condition of Boston Red Sox slugger Ted Williams, unwilling owner of baseball's celebrated pain in the neck.

The 40-year-old outfielder was protected from outsiders while doctors attempted to determine the cause of his ailment at New England Baptist Hospital.

A 46-word bulletin in mid-day Tuesday gave out little information except that Williams had "a rather uncomfortable night" because of pains in the neck and right shoulder.

But there was no further announcement. The arrival of Dr. James L. Poppen back from vacation reportedly was awaited by other doctors.

X-rays at the hospital confirmed that Ted apparently has no broken or dislocated bones and evidently is not suffering from arthritis.

Middletown High School's baseball team will be out to improve on last year's 3-5 league record. The Middies, minus All DUSO Dave Petrozak behind the plate, third baseman Dick Lundgren and right fielder Dennis Rupert, have basically the same squad back for another try.

Righthander Tom Slover developed into the ace of Coach Ed Rodiek's otherwise shabby staff last year and if the Middie mentor can find a number two starter behind Slover, improving last year's mark might come easy.

Tom Clarke is perhaps the key man in the plans for this season. If Clarke fails to develop on the mound, the catching problem will be solved and he will take over behind the dish. However, Rodiek is counting on the youngster to back up Slover on the mound.

The Middies make their DUSO debut at Port Jervis on April 27.

You receive many kinds of letters in this business—caustic, complimentary, ridiculous and innocuous. You get letters from those who are brave enough to sign them; others from people who hide behind ambiguous signatures. You know the type: An Interested Reader. A Devoted Reader, ad infinitum.

Once in a while you receive a letter that is not only a pleasure to read, but one that has the rare quality of humility. In this case there are too many people willing to sign their names, so that it resolves to a simple signature like the collective "Rondout Valley Little Leaguers."

It is wonderful tribute from a group of youngsters to a group of oldies who have done a wonderful job with small fry baseball in that part of the county. We present this rare and inspiring tribute from the kids of the Rondout Valley LL:

"Dear Mr. Editor:

"As you know, the baseball season is almost here. We Little Leaguers are afraid that all those grown ups who helped us last year might not be there this year, if we don't thank them for all they have done. Will you thank them for all they have done. Will you thank them for us in some real nice way and tell them how much we need them this year?

• Well, Those Managers!

"Especially, our managers who we think will never be ball players. But shucks! We can't play ball without them. And all the fathers who step out of the stands to umpire. Sometimes their decisions don't look the same from the dugout, but, you know, each year they get a heck of a lot better. All the men who built the field and take care of it. We tease them, but we're sure proud when outsiders come to see it. We don't think there are many fields as pretty. Do you?

"Don't forget to thank all the mothers for our annual picnics. There was more than we could eat. But just between you and ourselves, we missed the ice cream. Then that very patient fellow who lets us use the field. Boy! If our pops had all those kids running around in our backyard, they'd have to call the sheriff!

"Then we'd like to thank all the business men. Those fellows are awfully hard to understand. They complain all year that, if things don't get better, they'll have to close their doors. Do you know that they don't ask any profit from Little League? Better thank the doctor, too, that fixed our umpire's lip. We didn't mean to hit the umpire but, gee, he should have known it was too dark to play.

"Oh, yeh! and the sponsors. We really wouldn't be showing off with the uniforms. Sure, we like to show off. It's a lot more fun showing off to a lot of grownups than to each other. We stay out of trouble that way but, for gosh sakes, don't tell our parents.

• Everyone Gets Chance:

"Tell all the kids that tryouts will be as last year. Boys 8-12 are eligible. Tryouts will be held at the Little League field. The last Saturday in April will include the township of Rosendale, including Cottekill. The first Saturday in May is for the boys in Marbletown. If either Saturday is rained out, that Saturday will be moved to the second Saturday in May.

"Good luck, fellows! We hope everyyone makes a major team. Don't forget, even if you don't make a major team, everyone will play Friday nights and we will all have teams and uniforms.

"We're going to produce a show this year at Marbletown and Tillson schools. All the actors will be local people. Boy isn't it swell to have a town so full of talent! We'd better get back to our homework. Thanks a lot, Mr. Editor."

Thanks to you, little men of the Rondout Valley Little League! To you belongs the future. With such grace and gratitude you can't miss.

Sam Snead Is Favored To Win Masters Title

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sam Snead, budding star of television, was made the 5-1 betting favorite today to snare his fourth Masters golf championship.

Mainly on the strength of his phenomenal 13-match unbeaten streak in the nationally televised series, the West Virginia slugger drew top advance billing over Ken Venturi of San Francisco, 6-1, and a trio of past winners, defender Arnold Palmer, Cary Middlecoff and Ben Hogan, bracketed at 8-1.

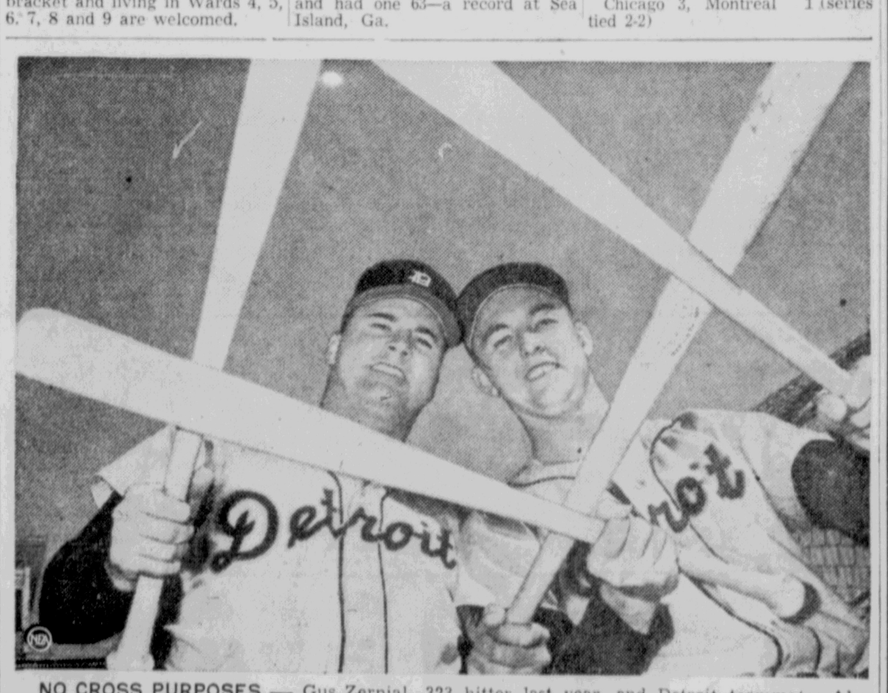
Although open betting in this Dixie fairway extravaganza is strictly verboten, a bookmaker has printed a "line" which is flagrantly distributed in the hotel lobbies and around the course.

The 72-hole tournament — the 23rd edition of Bobby Jones' brainchild—opens Thursday on the lush Augusta National course where President Eisenhower's quick hook is no stranger. There's a round a day through Sunday.

The advance odds may undergo some quick revision overnight in view of the redhot practice performances of 1956 champion Jack Burke Jr. of Houston, Tex., who has had successive rounds of 66 and 64.

Snead, winner here in 1949, 1952 and 1954, is still riding the crest of his television winnings, which have amounted to $28,000.

Playing on tough courses, he met the game's top players and beat them all over a period of several months, ending last November. He averaged 67.2 strokes for 13 rounds, never went over 70 and had one 63—a record at Sea Island, Ga.



NO CROSS PURPOSES — Gus Zernial, .323 hitter last year, and Detroit teammate, Al Kaline, .313, frame their faces with bats at the Tigers' Lakeland, Fla., training base.

Old Colonials Will Pay Tribute To Former Pilot

More than 300 persons from all walks of life will attend the Old Timers Baseball Association testimonial dinner for Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick Thursday night at the Governor Clinton Hotel. The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p. m.

Several members of the original Kingston Colonials will come from all parts of the state to pay tribute to their former, fiery, colorful manager.

Guest speakers will be Jackie Farrell of the New York Yankees public relations department and Big Bill Shay, an original Colonial, who has earned an excellent reputation as an after-dinner speaker.

Shay will substitute for Harry Grayson, NEA sports editor, who leaves Thursday to cover the Masters golf tournament in Augusta, Ga. for his national syndicate.

Among the Colonial originals expected in town are J. Howard Carter, former Fordham star who was known as Howie Carter as a Colonial third sacker; Bernie McCue of Ancram; Freddie Dahn and Maury McDermott of Poughkeepsie; Tubby Raskin, and an umpire of that era, Robert J. Fitzsimmons, now a successful Madison Avenue lawyer.

Buck Ewing Coming

A baseball immortal many Kingstonians will see for the first time is William (Buck) Ewing, one of the greatest catchers in baseball history. He will be accompanied by Hank Bozzi, veteran Schenectady manager and promoter.

Bernard A. (Bud) Culloton, the No. 1 pitcher in the Colonial saga, will make a presentation to Judge Schirick in behalf of the Old Timers Baseball Association.

Also attending will be all former original Colonials who reside in Kingston, including Dick Williams, Joey Hoffman, Jimmy Morgan, Tommy Davitt, Carl Glaser, Bill McAuliffe and a host of others.

Seventeen members of the Old Timers Hall of Fame will receive lapel pins. The presentation will be made by Tommy Davitt and John J. McCardle.

Harris, Fleeman On TV Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Harris has his third fight since his failure against world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when he meets light heavyweight Donnie Fleeman tonight.

The speedy young man from Cut and Shoot rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and show he's still one of the top boxers of the major class. He thinks this will help him in getting another title match if Patterson gets rid of two boxers he'll meet soon — Brian London and Ingemar Johansson.

Harris fought Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion who ranks ninth nationally last December and won by a mile although unable to deck Fleeman.

The fight tonight will be nationally televised and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship, something Harris had held for several years.

The 12-round bout goes on at 9 p. m. (CST). Harris will weigh 200, Fleeman 181. The scoring will be by the 10-point must system.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (NEA) — Casey Stengel is happiest and at his best when surrounded by baseball writers in the dugout. The more listeners the brighter the conversation.

This morning at Miller Huggins Field on St. Petersburg's north side, Professor Stengel was asked what he believed the Yankees had to beat this season. Like all good managers, the old showman knows as much about the enemy as he does about his own club.

When we finished unraveling Stengelese, we found that Casey rates the New York opposition in this order: 1, Chicago; 2, Detroit; 3, Boston; 4, Cleveland. Ol' Case got back on his own guys after that, obviously considering Baltimore, Kansas City and Washington unworthy of his attention, although he is still trying to figure how the Senators won 10 games from the Bombers in 1958, seven of them at Yankee Stadium.

"Chicago has pitching," Stengel began, "and you know about their defense. That Aparicio and Little Foxie can't wait till they get their hands on a double play ball. Lopez is a smart feller and has the only present-day base-stealing team. Most of 'em can scoot, including that feller in center field (Jim Landis), who commenced to hit the ball during the latter part of last season, which is all he had to do. If this new kid (Johnny Callison) stands up, the White Sox will be extra dangerous, for what they need most is a long ball and he showed he could hit it at Indianapolis. He's pretty young, but so was Mantle. The White Sox got off very badly a year ago, which gave us our early cushion, but they were wearing out the other teams at the finish."

THE TIGERS IN MORE RECENT campaigns have looked like champions against the champions and bums against the bums.

"They were short one good starting pitcher," pointed out Stengel, "and they got him and then some in Narleski and Mossi, to say nothing about four extra-fine looking rookies."

The Detroit recruits who have attracted the most attention this spring are Jim Raugh and Pete Burnside. Raugh, 22-year-old right-hand sinker ball artist, won or saved 22 games for Birmingham. Southpaw Burnside could have found himself in the summer heat of Phoenix.

"They also got a whole new left side of the infield, and fellers who will not make mistakes in Bridges and Yost," stressed Stengel, "and there are fellers to hit Yost, the lead-off man, around. The feller at second (Frank Bolling) is as good as there is in the league. I never thought he'd make it, but he fooled me. Maxwell is not a fundamentally sound hitter, but will do better if they can get him to swing. He was sick a couple of times last year and was bothered by boils the year before. I though Wilson caught great for them, but they bought Berberet. This team has been tough for us and it shouldn't be easy for anybody else."

LAST YEAR, STENGEL picked the Red Sox as the most pronounced threat to the Yankees.

"The pitching blew," he explained. "It wasn't a quarter as good as the year before. With Wertz, the Red Sox now have five big hitters, instead of four. They have to score runs. Malzone is the best third baseman in the league, but this team still needs a second base combination.

"Cleveland has changed its whole infield and has Billy Martin at second base and Vic Power, who can play anywhere as well as anybody in the country. But the infield is still this team's weakness. The outfield is all right with Minoso, Piersall and Colavito and there are good young pitchers."

After winning nine pennants in 10 years, Casey Stengel's biggest job is building a case for the opposition.

But nowing how deep the Yankees are in superior talent, baseball writers walk away wondering why they don't win by 20 games instead of 10.

Ray Robinson, Pender Battle Ruled 'Joke'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Fred J. Saddy, chairman of the National Boxing Assn. Ratings Committee said today a middleweight title bout between champion Ray Robinson and Paul Pender "would be nothing more than a joke."

"Pender is not his fight," declared Saddy. "Pender just made 10th place on the NBA's list of contenders to Robinson's title. Robinson has got to fight Carmen Basilio, No. 1, or Gene Fullmer, No. 2."

Saddy referred to the disclosure that the Sharkey A. A. of Boston had guaranteed Robinson $100,000 to meet Pender in a 15-round title fight in June. George Gainford, Robinson's manager, described the offer as "quite attractive."

April 25 Deadline

Earlier in the week Saddy said his group might withdraw its recognition of Sugar Ray as champion unless he signs for a title defense by April 25 — exactly 13 months after he recaptured the crown from Basilio.

If Robinson were to abdicate—and Saddy thinks he will — the NBA would seek a title match between Basilio and Fullmer, both former champions.

The NBA chose Davey Moore of Springfield, Ohio, the newly crowned featherweight champ, as its boxer - of - the - month. Moore stopped Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria March 18 to bring back the 126-pound title to America.

Conley Traded to Philadelphia For Two Infielders and Lopata

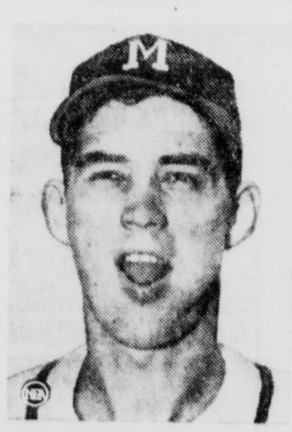
By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

In 1951, the Philadelphia Phillies gave Ted Kazanski $80,000 to sign a bonus contract.

Two years later Pittsburgh gave Johnny O'Brien a "five-figure" sum to join the Pirates.

Tuesday the Milwaukee Braves gave the Phils virtually nothing but a longshot for both infielders, plus power-hitting catcher Stan Lopata.

The longshot is long (6-foot-8) Gene Conley, the basketball-playing pitcher who had 0-6 record for the National League champions last season. His earned run average was 4.88 in 26 innings. Since 1954, when he won 14 games as a rookie, the 28-year-old right-hander has been going downhill.



Gene Conley

Going to Philadelphia with him were infielder - outfielder Harry Hanebrink and infielder Joe Koppe neither of whom is a proven major leaguer. Hanebrink, 31, hit only .188 in 63 games with the Braves last season, and Koppe, 27, appeared in only 16 games, going 4-for-9 in his infrequent batting chances.

Can Play Second

Both O'Brien and Kazanski, although weak hitters, have proven they can play a major league season at second base, where the Braves need help the most. Kazanski is 25, O'Brien 28, and the few innings in a pinch. Lopata, 34, hit 116 home runs in 11 years with the Phils and he is a strong replacement for Braves' No. 1 catcher Del Crandall.

The trade followed a full day of exhibition games in which Philadelphia and Milwaukee both lost.

Dodgers Roll

The Los Angeles Dodgers, who continue to pace the NL with an 11-7 exhibition mark, whipped the Braves 9-2. The Dodgers broke a four-game losing streak as Gene Snyder and Billy Harris allowed the Braves only seven hits.

Kansas City beat the New York Yanks for the third straight day, 4-2. The A's got to rookie John Gabler in the ninth.

Baltimore, atop the major league spring standings with a 12-6 mark, had to go 11 innings against Washington before winning 9-8 on a two-run single by Bob Nieman.

The Chicago Cubs lashed Boston 11-6 after Red Sox starter Tom Brewer blew a four-run first inning lead fashioned by Bill Renna's grand slam homer. The Cubs banged out 16 hits, including homers by John Goryl and Earl Averill.

Friend Pitches Distance

Bob Friend gave up 15 hits but went the route for Pittsburgh as the Pirates' defeated Detroit 6-5. Don Hoak homered in the eighth to break a 4-4 tie.

Billy Pierce and Bob Shaw combined on a six-hitter for the Chicago White Sox in a 5-1 victory over St. Louis.

San Francisco, getting homers from Bob Schmidt and Orlando Cepeda, defeated Cleveland 7-5.

778 Pounds on the Hoof

Rocca - Mighty Jumbo Grapple Here April 14

The world's most famous wrestler will battle against the world's largest grappling mastadon Tuesday, April 14, at municipal auditorium.

Promoter Ted Bayly of Troy announced today that the fabulous Argentine Rocca, a mere 228-pounder, will take on The Mighty Jumbo, a colossal 550-pound, 6 foot 5, bone crusher.

Rocca, a long standing favorite with Kingston crowds, will deviate from his recent practice of teaming with Miguel Perez in tag-team matches, to do a solo stint in Kingston.

"This should be one of the most sensational wrestling matches ever seen in Kingston," said Bayly. "The Mighty Jumbo is a big, agile fellow who should give Rocca a tough battle."

Rocca and Jumbo will toss their 778 pounds around in a best-of-three falls feature. Other bouts will be announced later.

Phils Have Pitching, Hope for Some Hitting

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Don't mention last place to Eddie Sawyer. The likeable Philadelphia manager has declared these two words taboo in the Phillies' camp.

"We're definitely not a last place club," Sawyer said. "We're greatly improved over last year. We've made several changes but the biggest change has been in our attitude. I think the biggest thing we've accomplished is getting rid of the losing complex. That alone makes us not a last-place club."

The Phillies have made two important trades. One gave them a second baseman, who may rank as one of the best defensive infielders in the league. He is George (Sparky) Anderson, formerly of Montreal. The other brought a new battery, pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas, from San Francisco. The work of this pair has lightened Sawyer's worries.

"I've got to like that deal," Sawyer said. "We needed a catcher. The combine batting average of the three we had last year was .210. Thomas hit around .260 and he's a fine receiver. Gomez is an established pitcher who has still to reach his peak. He's been just about perfect this spring.

Sawyer reasoned that his pitching has got to be better because of the stronger defense and catching. He named Robin Roberts (17-14), Gomez (10-12), Curt Simmons (7-14), Don Cardwell (9-6), Ray Semproch (13-11) and Seth Morehead (1-6) as his starters.

"The pitching staff potentially is the best I've ever had," said Sawyer.

Sawyer also hopes for better hitting from Ed Bouchee, Stan Lopata and Wally Post, who had disappointing seasons in 1958.

Harry Anderson, the regular left fielder, gives every indication of being one of the top home run and RBI men in the league this year. Richie Ashburn, the National League batting champion, again will be in center field with Post in right. Bob Bowman and pinch hitter de luxe Dave Philley are the outfield alternates.

The infield shapes up with Bouchee at first, Anderson at second, Chico Fernandez at short and either Gene Freese or Willie Jones at third base. Ted Kazanski, Johnny O'Brien and Bobby Young probably will stick as utility infielders.

"It will be all up to our hitting," Sawyer said. "I'm not worried about the pitching. We need a right-handed power hitter to become a contender. We're overweighted with left-handers. Where we'll get a right-handed hitter I don't know but if we should get one we'll be on even terms with anyone."

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By AL J. McCLANE

We saw a new fly reel on the market the other day which is gold plated and sells for $110. I doubt if there will be a very large market for such luxurious equipment, but more important to us is the fact that manufacturers are at least trying to present something different in fly reels.

There has been less change in fly reels than in any other item of tackle. The fly reel is still primarily a storage place for the line, and secondarily, to give line under adjusted tension to a large fish. The inexpensive single action fly reel does this, and it is simple and durable. The only important innovation in fly reels was the development of the automatic reel over 60 years ago. Automatic reels wind by spring action. When the line is stripped from the reel, the spring is wound.

Touching a lever with the finger actuates the spring and winds in the line. Some of these mount on the reel seat like single action reels. Others fit flat against the reel seat. There is no difference in performance. All good ones have a slip clutch which permits line to be drawn from the reel after the spring is fully wound. This is an essential. The earliest models did not have the safety device, and the more line drawn off the tighter the spring tension became. I once broke a rod tip with one of these older models due, I must admit to inexperienced handling.

A more common complaint was that excessive spring tension broke light leaders. This defect has been eliminated and many fly fishermen use automatics by preference. I have tried a number and they are very convenient for taking up slack line, but I have been using the single-action type for so long that it is too late for me to change.

Most good single-action reels are made of aluminum alloy, or other light, strong metal. Such a reel should have a slick and an adjustable tension drag. It should also have a large diameter spool hub, both to prevent setting the reel end of the line in a small, tight spiral and to facilitate the rapid rewinding of slack line.

If the line does not fill the reel, the hub size should be increased by a backing of nylon bait casting line spliced to the fly line. I have never seen any fresh water fish except salmon take out more than 30 yards of line, but one can always hope.

Syracuse Nats Attempting To Snap Boston Home Jinx

BOSTON (AP) — The stubborn Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern division for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

All even after six games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental struggle to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will open the best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis-St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

Center Theatre Talked

NEW YORK (AP)—The new Lincoln Square center for the performing arts may help an old theater back to life. The center, construction of which is planned during the next five years, includes a playhouse for repertory drama but has no provision for commercial theatrical productions. Near the center site, however, is the Colonial theater, a legitimate house dedicated in recent years to service as a television studio. Plans are to refurbish it so that regular Broadway producers will have a showcase adjacent to the center.

Hubert Ickes earned himself another shoulder patch in the IBM Seneca League last night with his second triplicate of the year, quite a rarity indeed.

Harris, Fleeman On TV Tonight

DALLAS (AP) — Roy Harris has his third fight since his failure against world's heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson when he meets light heavyweight Donnie Fleeman tonight.

The speedy young man from Cut and Shoot rated seventh, hopes to win decisively and show he's still one of the top boxers of the major class. He thinks this will help him in getting another title match if Patterson gets rid of two boxers he'll meet soon — Brian London and Ingemar Johansson.

Harris fought Fleeman, the Texas light heavyweight champion who ranks ninth nationally last December and won by a mile although unable to deck Fleeman.

The fight tonight will be nationally televised and will be for the Texas heavyweight championship, something Harris had held for several years.

The 12-round bout goes on at 9 p. m. (CST). Harris will weigh 200, Fleeman 181. The scoring will be by the 10-point must system.

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (NEA) — Casey Stengel is happiest and at his best when surrounded by baseball writers in the dugout. The more listeners the brighter the conversation.

This morning at Miller Huggins Field on St. Petersburg's north side, Professor Stengel was asked what he believed the Yankees had to beat this season. Like all good managers, the old showman knows as much about the enemy as he does about his own club.

When we finished unraveling Stengelese, we found that Casey rates the New York opposition in this order: 1, Chicago; 2, Detroit; 3, Boston; 4, Cleveland. Ol' Case got back on his own guys after that, obviously considering Baltimore, Kansas City and Washington unworthy of his attention, although he is still trying to figure how the Senators won 10 games from the Bombers in 1958, seven of them at Yankee Stadium.

Syracuse Nats Attempting To Snap Boston Home Jinx

BOSTON (AP) — The stubborn Syracuse Nationals attempt to snap Boston's home-court hex and eliminate the Celtics tonight in a Garden showdown for the right to represent the Eastern division for the National Basketball Assn. championship.

All even after six games in their best-of-seven struggle, the Nationals face a monumental struggle to sweep past the Celtics and into the NBA finals against the Minneapolis Lakers, Western division conquerors of mighty St. Louis.

In the three previous games in Boston, the Celtics have clobbered the upset-minded Syracuse team by margins of 22, 22 and 21 points, respectively.

Key members of both teams nursed minor ailments, but all hands are expected to be ready for the vital engagement.

The Syracuse-Boston winner will open the best-of-seven finals at home against the Lakers Saturday afternoon, with the second game on Sunday. The third and fourth contests will be in Minneapolis-St. Paul on the nights of April 7 and 9.

Center Theatre Talked

NEW YORK (AP)—The new Lincoln Square center for the performing arts may help an old theater back to life. The center, construction of which is planned during the next five years, includes a playhouse for repertory drama but has no provision for commercial theatrical productions. Near the center site, however, is the Colonial theater, a legitimate house dedicated in recent years to service as a television studio. Plans are to refurbish it so that regular Broadway producers will have a showcase adjacent to the center.

Vince Hart and Al Short were the sparkplugs for the winners. Hart rimmed 17 points and Short had 12 and played a good floor game. As usual, Werner Wustrau topped Accord. He rimmed 17 points.

Last Half Rally

The 35 club used a blistering last half attack to overtake Minute Car Wash and score an important win. With Monk Richards and Herm Sickler in starring roles, the winners took a one point lead into the fourth period and then extended it to win handily.

Kerhonkson trailed Texaco at halftime, but the club outscored the losers, 41-21, in the third and fourth quarters to win going away.

Tonight's schedule will find the 35 Club meeting Pride Cleaners at 7 o'clock and Accord facing Kerhonkson at 8 p. m. If both first place clubs emerge victorious, a playoff game will take place.

Matter of FACT

On his last voyage to the New World, in 1502, Columbus discovered Honduras and claimed it for the king of Spain. Off the north coast, Columbus could not find a place shallow enough for his ship's anchor to hit bottom. He therefore called these waters the Gulf of Honduras, using the Spanish word for "depths." Soon the name encompassed the land itself.

Joseph Turns to Writing

NEW YORK (AP)—Producer Robert Joseph has switched to Broadway playwriting now. Joseph, who steered "Major Barbara" and "Tiger at the Gates" to Broadway, obtained stage rights to the novel "Face of a Hero" by Pierre Boulle. Dissatisfied with the adaptions prepared by other writers, Joseph did one himself that was used for an acclaimed television version of the drama. When the play reaches Broadway Joseph plans to remain author only—and let someone else be the producer.

Chicago, Toronto Now Tied In Hocky Playoff Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The injury list seems to be playing the biggest part in a deadlocked Stanley Cup semifinal series, thanks to the rough play of the two supposed "easy marks."

The Chicago Black Hawks and Toronto Maple Leafs have taken the favored Montreal Canadiens and Boston Bruins back to the latter's home bases with the best of seven series tied at two-all after Tuesday night's victories.

The Hawks laced the Canadiens 3-1 in Chicago and Toronto delighted the home folks with a thrilling 3-2 overtime victory over Boston.

Both games were characterized by the body-numbing checking and sleek skating that jolted the Canadiens and Bruins last Saturday.

Not The Same

The two clubs still were feeling the effects. Montreal was not the same club that scourged the National Hockey League during the regular season without Jean Beliveau, a doubtful participant no matter if the Canadiens make the Stanley Cup finals.

A jarring check by Glen Skov Saturday fractured two vertebrae and forced Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake to move Henri Richard into Beliveau's spot on Montreal's high - scoring line with Dickie Moore and Marcel Bonin, weakening his second line.

Lorne Ferguson's 20-foot shot at 6:34 of the third period broke a 1-1 tie and the insurance marker came in the last minute as Chicago fired one into an unprotected Montreal goal.

Boston played without hard-charging defenseman Doug Mohns, who also was injured last Saturday.

Sudden Death

But the Leafs heaped their credit on left-winger Frank Mahovvich, who scored the winning goal at 11:21 of a sudden-death period, and goalie Johnny Bower.

Mahovlich would have none of it.

"The guy who deserves the credit is Johnny Bower," he said. Bower made a hairline stop on Vic Stasiuk's shot just before the two-minute mark of the sudden death period, which his teammates termed the real "gamesaver."

Both series will be one game affairs in each city until a winner is decided.

He points out that despite the distance, he spends only 14 flight hours a month commuting. Which is less time than many who live much closer to their jobs spend in their cars.

County Declared Free of Rabies By State Order

Announcement has been made through the office of the New York State health commissioner, Dr. Herman Hilleboe, that Ulster County is no longer considered as a county where rabies exists. At the same time, Dr. Hilleboe, through a representative, informed the Ulster County Health Department that his order of rabies certification, issued in August 1958, has been lifted. Under terms of certification, dogs are not permitted to roam at large, off the owner's property, until at least 70 percent of the total dog population has been immunized against rabies.

Certification of Ulster County for rabies in 1958 was based on the finding of two rabid foxes in the Town of Marbletown, according to Dr. Dudley W. Hargrave, Ulster County health commissioner. "No rabid animal has been found in the County since March 1958, although many fox and other animal carcasses have been submitted for laboratory examination," he added. "Funds allocated by the Ulster County Board of Supervisors made it possible for the Health Department veterinarian, Dr. Gilbert F. Hoppenstedt, to establish dog vaccination clinics throughout the county," Dr. Hargrave said. "It has been estimated that close to 80 per cent of the canine population was immunized, through the cooperation of dog owners and local veterinarians."

The course will be taught by Marian Wilder, who has had considerable experience teaching such courses.

Young Adults to Meet

The Kingston area young adult fellowship will meet at the Woodstock Methodist Church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Fun and fellowship will be featured and an interesting program is planned.

Your support of the variety entertainment to be presented in the Shady church hall this Saturday at 7:30 is solicited. These young people are hard workers. A nominal admission charge will be made.

'The Heart and the Hands of Christ' Is Topic for Rev. Sands

The Rev. G. Oliver Sands takes his text from John 20:20 "The Heart and Hands of Christ", as our resurrected Lord appeared to his disciples, for his sermon on the first Sunday after Easter, April 5, at the 11 a. m. service in Christ Lutheran Church in Woodstock. As we worshipped with Him on Easter, let us neglect not His church and its work and worship on these Sundays after Easter when for 40 days He showed himself alive to His disciples in many infallible ways.

Sunday School sessions begin at 9:45 a. m. with groups of all ages. The adult class topic is: "What Can God Do With One Man"—I Samuel 7:5-16. The youth Bible study group will begin the study of the New Testament.

The United Lutheran Church Women meet on Thursday at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Percy Croswell in Kingston.

Youth choir rehearses on Thursday at 7 p. m.; senior choir at 7:45 p. m.

Collection Center For Library Fair Will Open Saturday

Plans for the 1959 edition of the Woodstock Library Fair get rolling this coming Saturday, April 4, with the opening of the Collection Center, adjoining the local library. The Center, which will be presided over by Angela Gregory during the course of this 32nd annual fair, will be open from 2 to 5 p. m. on Saturday, and on each and every Saturday at these same hours throughout the months of April and May.

The Center has projected plans for lengthier collection scheduled during June and July, but it is hoped that many Woodstockers will take the opportunity of donating useable articles for this year's fair during the early spring months.

The 1959 Library Fair has been scheduled for Thursday, July 30, with Mrs. James Hood of Zena acting as chairman.

'It's a Small World' Is Sermon Topic For the Rev. Wilder

"It's A Small World" is the topic of the sermon to be preached in the Woodstock, Wittenberg and Shady churches of the Woodstock Methodist Parish on Sunday, April 5.

This sermon, in connection with the theme of the school of missions, beginning this evening, April 1, and continuing each Wednesday in April, will emphasize the basic task of every man; the task of getting along with other people. We can no longer be isolationists. There is a responsibility in America for what goes on in Jordan and Egypt and Korea. "What hurts my fellow man hurts me" is no longer an idealism. It is a fact of our day-to-day existence.

This sermon presents the guidance of Jesus amidst the complexities of our modern day responsibility. Let's make good on our Easter resolution to worship regularly by going to church this Sunday.

Jesus Confronting Peter Forms Basis For Sunday Sermon

The sermon title for the 11 a. m. worship service at the Woodstock Reformed Church for Sunday, April 5, is "Peter Meets the Risen Christ." It is based on the 21st Chapter of John which tells the incident of Jesus' confronting Peter with the question: "Lovest Thou Me?"

The Senior choir will sing; nursery facilities are available during the service.

The monthly Consistory meeting will be held in the church Tuesday, April 7, at 8 p. m. Members of the executive committee of the Guild for Christian Service will also be present.

Cancer Crusaders On March April 14

Cancer Crusaders everywhere in Ulster County, including the township of Woodstock, will be ringing door bells on Tuesday, April 14.

April is Cancer Fund month. The American Cancer Association has announced that much progress has been made in the past year and the funds to be collected this month will determine next year's program of research, education and service.

All persons interested in supporting the drive are asked to contact Mrs. William Popplewell, Mrs. Robert Carr or Mrs. Irwin Arlt.

The importance of spiritual perception in making decisions will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in Woodstock.

"Unreality" is the topic of the Lesson-Sermon. Included in the Responsive Reading are these verses from Matthew (7:19, 20): "Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this selection will be read: "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make,—hence its unreality" (525:20-22).

The Golden Text is from Psalms (119:65, 104): "Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O Lord, according unto the word ... Through thy precepts I get understanding: therefore I hate every false way."

Republicans Name Publicity Committee

James Hamlin, president of the Woodstock Republican Club, announces the formation of a Publicity-Public Relations committee for the club.

Members of the committee are: William Hand, Ruth Tuck, William West, Edward Carr, Robert Hastie, Warren Hutty and Ruth Kinns.

An interesting program is planned around the theme "Historic Churches of Ulster County." All women interested in the church are cordially invited.

A young man booked on a disorderly conduct charge after police investigation that he had made an annoying telephone call to a local woman, was given a suspended sentence in city court today.

Police headquarters has received several complaints of annoying telephone calls within the past few weeks, and it was indicated they now have means of tracing them.

Buley Escapes Injury As Truck Turns Over

A Kingston man narrowly escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when the 1956 panel truck he was driving went out of control and turned over on Route 209 in the Town of Rochester.

Kenneth Buley, 53, was proceeding south in a truck owned by Leonard Sickler of Kingston, when, he told Ellenville state police, he was forced off the highway by an unidentified tractor-trailer.

He went off the east side of the road, rolled over and came to rest right side up.

Trooper T. J. Crowley investigated. Time of the mishap was 4:30 p. m.

Buley Escapes Injury As Truck Turns Over

A Kingston man narrowly escaped injury Tuesday afternoon when the 1956 panel truck he was driving went out of control and turned over on Route 209 in the Town of Rochester.

Kenneth Buley, 53, was proceeding south in a truck owned by Leonard Sickler of Kingston, when, he told Ellenville state police, he was forced off the highway by an unidentified tractor-trailer.

He went off the east side of the road, rolled over and came to rest right side up.

Trooper T. J. Crowley investigated. Time of the mishap was 4:30 p. m.

Minisian Market Is Observing 30th Year Anniversary

Minasian's Super Market at 86-88 North Front Street is this week observing the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the business.

Thirty years ago Lauren Minasian opened a produce market at 47 North Front Street, dealing primarily in fruits and vegetables. Later groceries were added to the lines and as the business grew Edward and Peter Minasian joined the firm. The business eventually outgrew the old quarters and after World War II, the present market at 86-88 North Front Street was erected on the site of the former L. S. Winne & Company hardware warehouse.

On completion of the new building a complete supermarket was opened carrying a complete line of groceries, meats, vegetables and produce. At present the Minasian Market has the city franchise for sale of the S. S. Pierce & Company line as well as S & W.

Lauren Minasian, who founded the business, is presently operating a motel at Indio, Calif., and the supermarket is now actively managed by Edward Minasian and his brother, Peter Minasian, who rejoined the business about two years ago.

QUESTION: We'd like to have all our insurance written in one agency but would like to know if it is fair to this agency to ask them to let some of their commissions go to the agents who originally wrote several of our policies.

ANSWER: Yes, that is often done and it is wise to have one agency watching over all your insurance.

Minisian Market Is Observing 30th Year Anniversary

Minasian's Super Market at 86-88 North Front Street is this week observing the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the business.

Thirty years ago Lauren Minasian opened a produce market at 47 North Front Street, dealing primarily in fruits and vegetables. Later groceries were added to the lines and as the business grew Edward and Peter Minasian joined the firm. The business eventually outgrew the old quarters and after World War II, the present market at 86-88 North Front Street was erected on the site of the former L. S. Winne & Company hardware warehouse.

On completion of the new building a complete supermarket was opened carrying a complete line of groceries, meats, vegetables and produce. At present the Minasian Market has the city franchise for sale of the S. S. Pierce & Company line as well as S & W.

Lauren Minasian, who founded the business, is presently operating a motel at Indio, Calif., and the supermarket is now actively managed by Edward Minasian and his brother, Peter Minasian, who rejoined the business about two years ago.

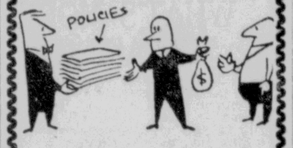
Now you Know!

The answers to everyday insurance problems* by HERMAN J. EATON, C.L.U.



QUESTION: We'd like to have all our insurance written in one agency but would like to know if it is fair to this agency to ask them to let some of their commissions go to the agents who originally wrote several of our policies.

ANSWER: Yes, that is often done and it is wise to have one agency watching over all your insurance.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be NO CHARGE or OBLIGATION OF ANY KIND.
